New Heisey Factory Display

The collection of glass in the National Heisey Glass Museum is fantastic and all of the members deserve credit for that. But the glass, no matter how big a part of our story, is only a portion of the narrative we have to tell. Illustrated here is one of the new displays that were created for Convention 2013. They are designed to showcase some of the many fine factory components that illustrate aspects of Heisey glass production and the people who made Heisey.

Pictures here is an old cart that was pulled from the warehouse which probably originated from the Heisey factory and the long handled tools for carrying the hot glass to the annealing Lehr. The no smoking sign came from the men's restroom in the factory. Photos of glass being made and the crew leaders are hung on the walls and are suspended from the ceiling of the multipurpose room. The original #433 Greek Key punch bowl and base moulds were added to the display to show the size and weight of some of the factory artifacts that have been preserved. It took seven men to move the punch bowl mould to the lower level. The display has been very well received and many really enjoyed seeing some of the items of Heisey's history that are not on permanent display.

Message from the President

Central Ohio has had nothing but rainy dreary days for most all of July, the dreary weather really puts a damper on things here at the Museum and in Newark. Although the sunny non-rainy days have finally arrived, I still have dampening news. As many of you have already received your individual letters you are now aware of the tragic loss recently experienced by the McKelvey family. Victoria, wife of William, our newly elected President of HCA, was killed in an auto accident and their daughter Electa was also injured but is recovering well from a broken collar bone. William and family are recovering from this tragedy and, as you can imagine, it's a very difficult time and a large change to everything in their life. William wanted me to thank everyone for their cards and letters. He and Electa have both appreciated sharing your thoughts at this difficult time.

I also would like to inform everyone that David Schnaidt recently had an invasive tumor removed from his neck and is currently being treated. Please keep both the McKelvey and Schnaidt families in your thoughts and prayers.

William will be taking some time to focus on his daughter and during this time I will be filling in, as Vice President in William's encouraged absence.

I have much to share with you, however I don't want my first article to be too lengthy! Firstly I want to announce a very successful 2013 National Convention. If you attended, I am sure you had a great time! There were many new and exciting things: the new show location, re-establishment of the table settings displays and early bird preview to the show, all by popular demand—and even a last minute change to the indoor BBQ due to the ever unpredictable weather. Thank you to all of the 194 convention registrants who traveled to come to Newark. We had 17 first time conventioners—a very special welcome to you! Mary Ann Spahr, Convention Chair, obviously did a wonderful job and should be commended. If you were at the convention you saw the Black tulip vases of which we still have about 40 left. And of course, newly available are the first series of the handmade Heisey glass beads "Depression Years Series" in Flamingo, Moongleam and Sahara. These are available by pre-order and are doing very well! Call the Museum if you are interested in purchasing a beautiful reproduction vase or set of beads made from real Heisey glass.

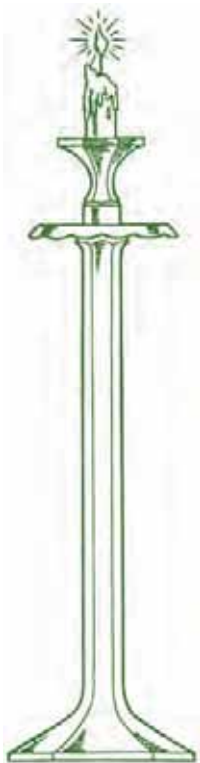

Now that July is nearly over and the convention is behind us, our next event to see each other and support our Heisey passions and addictions is the 2013 Percy and Vivian Moore Weekend. Notice that I said Weekend, and not just dinner or auction. We have lots of exciting things planned for you as you will see in this issue of Heisey News. Let me briefly cover some of these exciting events: brunch at the Buckingham House, dedication and unveiling of the new welcoming front portico of the National Museum, (which is a duplicate of the original from the A. H. Heisey home at 345 Granville St., a Mini show and flea market and an open house tour of Walter Ludwig's home which includes more Moongleam than you will ever see again! But we are not done yet. There will also be an open house tour of founding members Dick and Virginia Marsh's home which features a beautiful collection of all eras of Heisey. Following these events, we then return to the Museum for a night of social mingling with finger foods and spiced punch at an art gala type event. Sound like fun? That's just Friday! Yes, you have two more days of events! Don't forget the impressive Select auction, which I hear will be very impressive. More details will be found in this issue of the newsletter. Of course the weekend would not be complete without the Percy and Vivian Moore Dinner for which the weekend is named. The dinner will be held at the Works. The evening will include another auction and a private glass demonstration using a Heisey tumbler mould to make a very special one of a kind piece—all just for our viewing pleasure and entertainment! Be sure to mark your calendar for a fun event filled weekend in Heisey's hometown of Newark, Ohio. The best part is that you get all of this and more for only $65.00 per registrant.

We are always planning new and exciting events and are excited to share the fun with you! The Museum and HCA are a strong supportive organization that has forward momentum with a large backing membership that spreads across the country. We come together as a whole to preserve, educate and promote the legacy of Heisey glass and our Museum. Hope to see you in October!

Convention Display Thank You!

Another big thank you goes to everyone who volunteered to display their glass for this year's convention. Each of the thirteen displays were very unique and brought about excitement and conversation about creating usable table settings even if it doesn't match in color or pattern. Other displays brought about an educational aspect in that many convention attendees were unaware of the existence of some patterns, cuttings, etchings or colors.

Charlie Baird's Zircon Kohinoor inspired by his beautiful Limoges china, Karen Clark's heartwarming story depicting her Hawthorne collection, Sid and Mary Edwards' Old Williamsburg setting, another reminder to attend the Percy and Vivian Moore event in 2014 at Colonial Williamsburg, Virginia. The Edwards also presented their Heisey Rose pattern with their Dolly Madison rose china depicting the last supper in the White House before it was burned as President and Mrs. Madison escaped! And then there was the stunning Cobalt and crystal table presented by Bob and Bev Heise, a very unique combination of patterns. Thanks for setting a beautiful Old Sandwich Sahara table, Lori and Craig Kratchvil. It looked like a ray of sunshine as you entered the room. Walter Ludwig out did himself, treating us to a dazzling display of New Era, both crystal and cobalt with amazing cuttings. Mary, of Parrett Antiques, presented an amazing collection of tangerine. It was interesting to see the varying shades and intensities of the tangerine color. Bucky Will thrilled us with her Flamingo collection of patterns, however all surprisingly in the Chrysanthemum etch! Then Jean Will, with her knowledge and collection of Fred Harvey told the story of the Harvey-Heisey relationship. Did you catch the Fred Harvey woven into the damask table cloth? The Buckeye Heisey Collectors really lightened us up with their display of Heisey glass used in very unconventional ways. It's the new age folks, so use your Heisey to fit today's needs! Finally, Sue and I enjoyed combining together an eclectic collection of Moongleam, Sahara and Flamingo. Thank you all for all your hard work. You made it look so effortless.

A special congratulation goes to the Dayton Area Heisey Collectors whose amazing display received the most votes from convention attendees. "Toasting Heisey Around the World" was a feast for the eyes with many patterns, colors and Heisey items associated with many countries and various beverages and of course Heisey glass containers. Dayton club president, Joe Harner says, "the best part of the display was the involvement of all of their club members to make the display happen."

Thank you also to the hosts and hostesses who were present to answer questions and greet those who viewed the display: Greg and Mary Cameron, Tom and Kathy Files, Glenn Gall, Earl and Elaine Hart, Jon Heron, Joe and Flo Harner, Mike Morgan, and my co-chair Sid Edwards and the delightful Mary Edwards.

We look forward to presenting you with more dazzling displays of Heisey glass again next year, June 18-21, 2014. I just know many of you have been inspired to create a display of your own. I am hearing some great convention themes being considered already for next year. I look forward to hearing from you (269-342-1731.)

Dan Kilgore, Convention Display Co-Chair

GPHC Members Represent HCA at NDGA Convention

That's a lots of acronyms! The National Depression Glass Association (NDGA) held their annual convention in Wellington, KS on July 13 and 14. Four members of the GPHC (Great Plains Heisey Club)—Tom and Kathy Files and John and Trudy Mock—attended with a display of Heisey glass and information. The glass we took represented Heisey patterns, colors and etchings originated during the early years of the Great Depression. We stressed the Heisey quality that prevailed even during those hard times.

The convention was well organized and well attended in spite of a hot day on Saturday and pelting rain on Sunday. We introduced Heisey to many visitors and shared memories with a large number of Heisey collectors. The "Glass with Class" speaks for itself and drew many folks to our display table.

We had an opportunity to visit the NDGA's newly created museum in downtown Wellington. It's a very enjoyable experience currently with a great display of ice tubs in the front window—many were Heisey patterns, including an Athena with a Zeuse cutting. We met great people and shared our love of Heisey so it was a weekend well spent.

Kathy Files, Secretary—Great Plains Heisey Club

From the Curator

I hope that all of you had a similar experience to me at convention this year! What a family of dedicated, knowledgeable and hardworking people the Heisey Collectors of America are. I want to express my appreciation for the warm welcome the "family" gave to me as your new curator. I look forward to talking with those that I meet again and meeting many more of you in the future!

We have been busy unpacking and inventorying the glass you donated to the museum, over six hundred pieces! Walter Ludwig, with a good deal of patients, and his seemingly unending knowledge of Heisey Glass and history, has assisted in this fun. I know now that there can be Christmas in July! The collection's committee is enjoying the opportunity to enhance the museum collection and there will be many new exciting items added to the shop over time. Thank-You for your generosity and we are always happy and grateful to have glass!

The 2013 Percy & Vivian Moore Memorial weekend to be held in Newark this year is down to the details in planning! Please think about joining us for what will surely be an exciting fall event for all of us!

Jack Burriss, Curator

Administrative Notes

We in the Administrative Office are deeply saddened by the sudden and tragic loss of Victoria McKelvey. She was a friend to us, and was frequently in the Museum with William as he spent many hours here lately as they completed the collection and other projects. We will miss her and our heart goes out to William and Electa in these very sad times.

I am pleased to announce that we have hired two part-time clerks to share one position. Starting this month are Rochelle Steinberg and Bobbe Ecelberry. Both are experienced and can offer much needed assistance to our offices. Welcome Rochelle and Bobbe!

It has been a very busy month as we were cleaning up from the Convention. By that I mean the financial recording work and we are now into the recognition of donations phase. Soon we will be getting out the letters recognizing your gifts.

And then there was the saga of the BIG BOX. To make a long story short, a truck arrived with a large and heavy box, 7 feet long, 3 feet high and 4 feet wide. Little information could be learned from the trucker information, and all my usual sources knew nothing. We had it moved to a local warehouse. Quite by accident we found out that the box contained an antique motorcycle purchased by Charlie Wade that wasn't supposed to be delivered until July when he returned from vacation. All ended well, but I tell you our imagination ran wild for several days.

We are shipping the 2013 Heisey Christmas Ornament from here again this year. We have stock now, so your order can be fulfilled promptly. Orders can be called, emailed, or sent in.

Heisey Museum is now an AAA Listed Attraction. We have received some signs to post, and will be using on website and external correspondence. Shortly those of you who are AAA members should be receiving materials that include us.

The transfer of the Website and Email Hosting went forward the First of July without a hitch. We are in the process of moving data to the new Webmaster which will allow us to send out Newsletters, Egrams and other communications.

We have seen an increase of guests in the Museum this month. In the past months it has been rather spotty, but attendance has improved. We have a number of tours books, with one tour this fall will be over 100 people.

I hope everyone has a cool place to be this summer....

Larry Burge, Managing Director

2013 Heisey Fall Select Auction

Hope you have marked your calendars for Percy & Vivian Moore Weekend in Newark, Ohio which will include our wonderful ninth annual Fall Select Auction. As you read this, the auction is ten weeks away! It is scheduled for Saturday, October 12, 2013. To repeat myself from other newsletters, this Auction is open to the public and hopefully all will come early to the preview, stay for the auction and buy some wonderful Heisey Glass!

We have selected glass for the auction from our submitted lists but have not received or inspected the glass. Our deadline for submission of glass is July 23 and is after our newsletter deadline of July 15. We should have nearly 225 lots of clean damage-free Heisey glass for your buying enjoyment! All net proceeds go 100% to support the Museum.

We have relocated the Select Auction to a new location which will give us all a bit of more elbow room! The last two auctions in the multipurpose room have been quite crowded. The auction will be held in the Annex of the Church of the Blessed Sacrament, which is located at 411 E. Main St. in Newark. Current plans are to have the auction preview from 12:30 to 1:30 p.m. with the auction beginning at 1:30 p.m. Our goal is to have the auction over in plenty of time so you can easily attend the Moore banquet and evening festivities which will occur later this day. We will announce the final times for the preview and auction in the September newsletter.

FYI, the September newsletter will include a listing of the Fall Select Auction glass and other instructions, including absentee bid forms for use by those who can't make it to Newark for a great weekend. We also intend to have the information on the Heisey Glass Museum website.

Please come and plan on spending the weekend with us and have a great time in Newark and at your Museum!

Name That Heisey!

Back in 2007, President Bryan Baker announced the “Name that Heisey” project. Several patterns have been claimed, but many more are still available. The project is still open and you can be the proud namer of a Heisey pattern. For a reasonable price, YOU can name these previously unnamed patterns/pieces. These names will be permanent, and will be used when referencing these items. Here are the rules:

- All proposed names must be approved by the Naming Committee.
- Check made to HCA must be included.
- You can name more than one!

What a great way to memorialize a loved one, honor someone (this could be your own name too!), a favorite place, pet, . . . as you can see the possibilities are endless. All proceeds from this project will go directly to the Capital Fund. So this becomes a win/win project. The Museum directly benefits at a time when funds are so scarce. So, come on—Name that Heisey! Below is a list of available patterns and pricing.

Send your requests to: HCA | Attn: Dept. 21 | 169 W. Church Street | Newark, OH 43055.

New Chicago Headquarters for Heisey's Glassware

The beautiful Georgian dining-room in the new Chicago display headquarters of Heisey's glassware, 1561 Merchandise Mart. The attractive setting of this room has won widespread admiration from visitors.

From the Archives...

Beauty Reigns in Chicago Displays

EYES of visitors to the new Heisey glassware display rooms in Chicago are greeted by an appealing artistry of arrangement and decoration and a wealth of modern exhibits of beautiful merchandise.

Large Space Occupied

These headquarters, which were completed in recent weeks, are located on the fifteenth floor—No. 1561—of the gigantic Merchandise Mart. They occupy a space 80 feet long and 40 feet wide, a total area of 3200 square feet.

As one approaches the location he sees facing the corridor an attractive window display, through the open center of which can be glimpsed the dining-room and the gallery beyond.

On entering the new quarters, the visitor finds himself in a spacious reception room, with woodwork done in two-tone ivory and with flooring of colorful rubber tile. The show cabinets here are set into the side walls and have mirror backgrounds. The lighting is enhanced through a system of reflectors.

Dining-room is Georgian

The dining-room, which is furnished in the Georgian period, comes next into view on the left. The table and chairs of walnut harmonize with the style of decoration. The room is in beautiful Georgian green and no architectural feature has been overlooked. An open fire-place heightens its charm and a burgundy carpet forms a rich setting for the furniture. Illumination is provided by an Empire crystal chandelier.

Connecting with the dining-room is a distinctive feature, a gallery of quite unusual design and arrangement. Seen at first from the corridor, it forms a stunning background to the picture framed in the doorway of the window display (refer to larger illustration on last page), and the charming impression it gives is heightened upon entering it.

Below is given a view of the modern sales and display room in the new Heisey headquarters, Merchandise Mart, Chicago. Tables and handsome woad cabinets carry striking exhibits of fine glassware in the latest shapes and designs. Everything is arranged towards making inspection of the displays as easy and convenient as possible.

Sales Room Sets a New Mark...

The equipment and arrangement of the sales room in Heisey's Chicago headquarters had one aim in view and that was to make convenience to the buyer the keynote. The exhibits have been so assembled and distributed that passing from one to the other becomes a matter of utmost ease, while inspection and selection can be carried out quickly and with highest satisfaction.

Most Modern and Convenient

The sales room, in fact, sets a new mark in glassware displays. One is soon impressed by its modern features and the handsomeness of its furnishings. As the visitor comes into it through wide archways opening from both the dining-room and the reception room, he sees the glassware strikingly grouped and segregated on substantial, beautifully polished walnut tables. There are twenty-four of these. Then about the walls are one hundred feet of fine fixtures, appropriately finished in magnificent chased walnut and equipped with brilliant mirror backgrounds and sparkling glass shelving. Cleverly concealed lights cover the fascinating exhibits with a clear, rich illumination.

Latch-string Always Out . . .

In these new Chicago quarters, Mr. W. S. Redfield extends a most cordial welcome at all times to every one interested in modern, quality glassware. Mr. Redfield for many years has represented Heisey as Chicago Manager and his large number of friends in the trade look on him as leader in glassware circles, and are congratulating him on his handsome display rooms. Associated with Mr. Redfield is Mr. R. C. Irwin, representative for Heisey in the Middle Western and Rocky Mountain territory. He has given a standing invitation to buyers in his district to visit the Merchandise Mart location of Heisey ware.

The latch-string is always out, assuring a hearty, sincere reception. Everything will be done to make you feel at home—so come in, look around, become acquainted with some of the most beautiful display rooms anywhere—and make them your headquarters while in Chicago.

A UNIQUE feature of the Heisey display rooms in the Merchandise Mart, is the customers' room, a portion of which is illustrated in the upper picture. This quiet nook is decorated in the Early American style, with fitted knotty pine paneling and beamed ceiling. The furniture is of curly maple, and a hooked rug, reminiscent of Colonial days, adds a touch of quaint beauty.

Typical of this period is a reproduction of an old-fashioned "trick cupboard" set in one of the side walls.

The lower illustration shows the view caught from the corridor running past the Heisey rooms. The display window is in the foreground, then one sees the Georgian dining-room and farthest back there is a glimpse of the gallery.

#926 George VI

Rock Crystal | Introduced in 1939 | Discontinued in 1943

In all handwritten records this cutting is listed as George VI, but printed catalogs call it George IV. It seems logical that it was meant to be George VI, in honor of the current English King, but possibly through a printing or typing error, transposition of the numerals occurred. There is a Yugoslavian import which bears a crude similarity to George VI and the stem is also a heavy, crude copy of #5013 Shasta. This looks new and should not confuse the serious collector.

"We got Heisey, too!

...and we've treasured every piece of it for almost 50 years"

HEISEY CRYSTAL has graced bridal-gift tables since 1895. And many a delighted bride has continued to add to her Heisey collection, thus building a treasure of gleaming crystal whose loveliness never fades. To give HEISEY CRYSTAL is now a tradition. To buy it for your own home is an unending source of pride and pleasure. Today, as through these fifty years, there is nothing finer than crystal created by HEISEY. To be seen at better stores. A. H.
