The last big fund raising event of 1977 is over and a very successful affair it was too. A great big "thank you" to anyone who had anything at all to do with the flea market and/or the dinner, and especially Sam Schnaidt and Jack Metcalf, chairmen for the two events. Sam and his wife, Heidi, also deserve all the praise they can get for letting 310 people come to a party on their lawn with all that is involved. Virginia Yeakley did a yeoman job with taking the orders and handing out decanters. It seems like it would be a simple job but take it from one who has done it -- it is murder to keep it all straight.

There is a notice about the new etching book in this issue so if you have not returned your bad copy for a good one or have waited to order, now is the time. Even though I am a co-author I must tell you that the book has been enthusiastically received and people are pleased with all the information which is not strictly about etchings. There are many, many shapes pictured, particularly from the early and late years and much other good information.

Mary McWilliams, who incidentally has been ill for a few weeks, is the chairman for the December Christmas dinner. She will be assisted by Susan Wade, Elizabeth King, Margaret Dzierwa and Debbie Delaney. The place will be announced next month.

A World Premiere

by LOUISE REAM

The highlight of the 5th Annual Souvenir Dinner was the presentation of the 28 minute sound movie, "The Heisey Glass Story", which was enthusiastically received by those present. The movie gives a brief history of the Heisey Company, the club and the museum.

Scenes from the 1977 auction, glass-making at Imperial Corp., and Mark Pickrel engraving a compote in his little home workshop highlighted the film. Shots of items from the museum, with many special effects, were almost breathtakingly beautiful with nearly all of the color turning out well which it so often does not. Jeff Briggs of Denison University produced the film working with Louise Ream, Loren Yeakley and Dick Marsh. The film will soon be available to study clubs or individuals who want to use it when lecturing.

Yes, the big day is over! Once again the weather cooperated and the evening was only pleasantly cool. To begain the day more than forty dealers at the Catholic High School offered an excellent choice of Heisey glassware and about 500 people visited the show from 8 to 5 p.m.

By 5:30 the eager members began to gather at the Schnaidt residence. They were taxied over from the parking lot in Klassy Collectible Kars belonging to other members of the club.

The big white tent proved to be too small for a crowd nearly 100 larger than in 1976 so two tents were put together to seat 250 and another one was placed on the front lawn for the remaining 60 plus. It looked very festive with green and white striped tents, two of which had clear plastic sides. Passersby must have thought it very enticing and slowed down to see what was going on. After dinner everyone moved over to the main tent for the program.

The cocktail hour began at about 6 and continued until 7:45 when the entire 310 people lined up in Sam's drive for an onslaught on the food. Standing inside the garage facing the crowd it looked like an army approaching.

Delicious hors d'oeuvres had been served earlier and the only difficulty was getting near enough to the tables to get some. The shrimp was served in a Heisey punch bowl as was a delicious mixture of fresh fruit. There was plenty of food but

#1401 EMPRESS

BY TOM BREDEHOFT

In 1930, Heisey announced to the trade the development of a new pressed glass line which was their #1401 Empress. It was an early success probably due in part to the development at the same time of two new colors, alexandrite and sahara. The #1401 Empress line was quickly expanded into a wide variety of items including tumblers.

Most Empress tumblers have a ground base rim and are marked. The dolphin footed tumbler is difficult to find and desirable for a tumbler collector. The tumbler has four small dolphin feet as do so many items in Empress. It is known to come etched with Old Colony and Formal Chintz* and I would not be surprised at other etchings of the same period. This tumbler may be marked on the back on one of the feet.

As most of you already know, at the end of the color period, Empress was re-designed into #1509 Queen Ann, which has noticeable optic in it. I have not been able to find a listing for a Queen Ann

HEISEY DECORATIONS

#3350-5 oz. Parfait

by NEILA BREDEHOFT

One of Heisey's most popular etchings was introduced in 1922 and had a rather lengthy life of 20 years -- not being discontinued until 1942.

Pied Piper (#439) was one of the early etchings which was patented. The patent was applied for on December 16, 1922 and was granted February 10, 1925.

#3350-3 pint Squat Jug

Cut Neck

Pied Piper was also distinguished by being one of several etchings of this period which were designed by Josef Balda.

The etching is available only on crystal and is a double plate etching. The stemware may be marked, but the other items are unmarked. Pied Piper is sometimes referred to as Dancing Girl, obviously the name being derived from one of the other cameos rather than the one which Heisey used as the central theme. There are three different cameos -- the Pied Piper, one dancing girl facing right, and the other a dancing girl facing left. Both ladies are clothed and have a flowing scarf about them and hanging from their arms. The cameos are joined about the articles in a decorative band consisting of a border with swags and pointed pendants between the cameos. Especially noticeable on the larger and taller pieces is a large inverted fan-shaped ornament below each cameo.

Due to its length of production, Pied Piper can still be collected in sets. As STEMS #’s 3342, 3343, 3344

by CARL SPARACIO

Last month we began introducing you to some previously unknown Heisey Stems and will continue along that line until we have run out of discoveries. We have two new stems for you this time along with an "old" one which is so closely related that they must be considered together. This group may surprise some people as it did me. I never suspected that #3344 "Carolina" had relations closer than #3333 "Old Glory" which shares a family resemblance. If Old Glory is a kissin' cousin to Carolina then #3342 "Alabama" and #3343 "Georgia" are its siblings.

"Georgia" and "Alabama" are the twins of the family. Not quite identical, but close enough, like another set of twins who shall be nameless, to be troublesome. The names we have given them are not authentic Heisey, but will make it easier to keep them separated. Carolina, Georgia and Alabama are blown pieces with pressed stems.

First we'll tackle the twins, Georgia and Alabama. These two are identical in all respects except for their bowls. #3342 Alabama has a straight-sided cone-shaped bowl while #3343 Georgia has the more graceful lily-shaped bowl. I'm positive that both of these stems will be signed with the "Diamond H" at the top of the stem just under the bowl. The 1921 price list which brought these stems to light (dated 1/1/21) tells us that 7, 8, and 9 oz. goblets, a 5½ oz. saucer champagne and a 5½ oz. footed sherbet were offered in #3342 Alabama, while #3343 Georgia only had the 9 oz. goblet along with the other two pieces. The 5½ oz. footed sherbet was referred to as a 5½ oz. footed sundae in the #3343 Georgia line. Is there a difference? Both stems were offered both plain or optic, but no cuttings or etchings are listed. I have a goblet and a cocktail in what I thought was Carolina but which I am now convinced is Georgia which has the #160 Osage etching. You'll note that a cocktail was not listed for Georgia but I believe that earlier or later price lists surface we may find that both Georgia and Carolina were fairly complete lines.

As for #3344 Carolina your biggest problem will be telling it from #3343 Georgia. The only difference appears to be in the knopf on the stem. On Georgia it is chunkier and at least twice as thick as it is on Carolina. Carolina's on the other hand, is more wafer-like and similar, but perhaps a trifle heavier, to what you will find on Old Glory. The same pieces are listed as available in "Carolina" as we gave for Georgia but Heisey Stemware adds a 1 oz. cordial, 2 oz. wine and a 3 oz. cocktail to this list. This same book advises us that it came with #745 cutting (which is Media, a Heisey name) and #160 etching (which is Osage). "Etchings and Carvings" also shows it with #165 Dundee etching. Carolina should also be marked at the top of the stem.

#3348, 9 oz. Goblet

#3343, 9 oz. Goblet

#3344, 9 oz. Goblet

If you have any of these stems we've discussed this month please drop us a card. I would classify #3342 Alabama as unseen and, as far as I'm concerned, Carolina also belongs in that category because the stems I thought were Carolina I now believe to be Georgia. If we hear from enough people we might be able to guess the relative rarity of these pieces.

John (Jay) Barker a sharp-eyed young reader from Newark, Ohio, points out that #820 Beaumont, which is listed without a picture in Heisey Stemware, is shown in the #212 catalog (reprinted both by McClain and L.W. Promotions). Only after Jay wrote did I check further and found that it also is pictured in Vogel III. It appears that #820 Beaumont is similar to #818 Fifth Avenue, but with a slightly shorter stem.

Jay, it seems, also likes to rub it in. He enclosed a picture of his recently acquired Tangerine Spanish goblet along with an interesting question, "How many of the unseens in Heisey Stemware have never been seen?" That's a difficult question to answer as my knowledge of the "seen" unseens would reflect only my personal experience and I report on this page as soon as I can verify them. I'm also sure that some have turned up of which I have not become aware. There is also the problem of some pieces of a stem line known to exist while others haven't surfaced. For instance, we know of Fandango wines but a goblet in the pattern has yet to turn up so far as we know. Add to this the question of newly discovered pieces which don't show up in any books and information gleaned from new price list discoveries such as we've covered in this column and you really have difficulty coming up with a definite answer. Perhaps we'll conduct a poll in the future and come up with a list. Better yet we'll wait for a supplement to "Heisey Stemware". Let them do the work. Fortunately Bob and Connie Ryan and Steve Bradley are not folks given to cursing. If they were I'm sure the air would be full of invectives.

Ed. note—In listing the unseens in their book "Heisey Stemware" the authors had to depend on what they, and people reporting to them, had seen. Naturally after people had access to their excellent book and could identify some of their stemware, many unseens then became "seen". Sometimes this results in many of one stem being found, as in a set. The Bradley—Ryan book really opened the door to stem collecting.

DECANTER DINNER "77" by LIZ KING

In June, Stan said I must write a verse.
I'm out of ideas. Now what could be worse?
I've already praised the Claret Dinner,
Guaranteed not to make anyone thinner.

Today it's Decanter dinner, you see;
And just as glamorous as can be,
For the de canter more wine must flow
Than to fill our claret glasses, you know.

What of the decor? I haven't yet heard,
I'll buy it, whatever (unless it's a bird).
I join lots of clubs; the list is extensive,
But HCA is THE most expensive!

A fool and his money, the saying goes.
According to Sam, as everyone knows,
"It's only money!" HCAers don't care,
Come dinners or auctions, they're sure to be it was difficult to keep the serving dishes filled up because of the crush of people. Those near the end of the line to make do with instant potatoes since the scalloped ones ran out as usually happens with a crowd this size.

crowd this size. There was no shortage of filet mignon with lots being left over after many people had gone back for seconds. The wine was flowing plentifully also during the dinner.

Mrs. Ed Schnaidt, Sam's mother, had again prepared the decorations. She used some of the #1 liners or snack bowls with the Heisey mark which we had purchased from Imperial several years ago when they were found in their warehouse. These were surrounded by rings of pine cones and had floating candles in them.

Alwyn Miller of Shelbyville, Kentucky, surprised his wife Peggy, whose birthday it was, with a huge cake. The crowd all sang "Happy Birthday" to her and to Jean Parrott of Michigan who also had a birthday. Al had brought three more large cakes and everyone present helped Peg celebrate.

People were present from 15 states with five coming from California just for the occasion. Anne and Tim Heisey, honorary members, were welcome guests.

After the business meeting Frank Frye took over as Master of Ceremonies. He introduced Jerry Robinson of the Northern Illinois Club who had the sad duty of telling the crowd about the death of Ben Revelle. He presented the museum with a lovely #4225 Cobel decanter with an unusual cutting, in Ben's memory.

In what was to have been a happy recognition of the three gentlemen who had saved Ben's life in June, Jerry honored them with some very touching remarks and presented them with gifts both from HCA and from the Northern Illinois Club. They had, at least, given Ben another two or three months of precious life with his family. The three were Jim Jordan, a member of HCA, and John Spellman and Robert Kidd of Newark, both employees of the Ohio Power Co. who happened to be at the Sheraton when Ben had the attack.

After the movie, Sam had an auction. Clarets of each of the last four years were sold for a total of $375.00. Craig Connelly and Larry Stickle helped with the auctioneering as they did in March. The Clarets sold had come from the ones held each year for the museum and which have been included in the total count for each year. They also sold some of the decorations from the tables.

All in all it was a very successful evening for HCA and those present seemed to enjoy themselves very much.

DID YOU KNOW?

by LOUISE REAM

1. That the #333 Waldorf Astoria toothpick can be found either marked or unmarked?
2. That the #400 Colonial toothpick and many other pieces of the pattern actually have eight panels instead of six?
3. That the glass figure always called "Dinky Do", because of its resemblance to the Royal Doulton girl, was referred to at Heisey (at least in printed information) as the "Minuet Girl"? This is a solid glass Colonial girl and was not made for production.
4. That Imperial DID make the #1405 Ipswich floral bowl, at least in heather (purple) but it was not made for production? They also tried to make the Droop flower bowl but had problems and it is listed "Discontinued, could not make".
5. That #1170 Pleat and Panel was made in hawthorne and sahara in at least some of the line? Both have been on display at the museum.
6. That items in cobalt include the #4075 2-3/4 oz. cocktail, blue foot; #4076 3 oz. cocktail, blue foot; #4077 9 oz. tumbler, footed with blue bowl? Some of these cocktails have been offered at auction; probably the first benefit auction.
7. That all but one or two items listed for silhouette etchings (deep plate) done on colored glass and printed in "Etchings and Carvings" were copied directly from Heisey catalogs?

8. That the #3404 Spanish comport is listed as coming in sahara, as is the cobalt? Has anyone seen it in sahara?
9. That the 211-16 catalog from 1935 lists only sahara, alexandrite and blue (cobalt)? The supplement to 212-17 from 1937 lists Zircon.
10. That Heisey made Lead Amber for Fred Harvey restaurants? They also made many, many items in crystal for Harvey. The following is a listing for some of the amber items. Sometime we will print the crystal list.
 - #4059 Plain water bottle
 - #1217 Finger bowl, star bottom
 - #586 12 oz. ice tea, optic
 - #337 Touraine 5 oz. juice, optic
 - #337 1/2 4 1/2 oz. sherbet, optic
 - #353 Medium Flat Panel hall boy tray - 10"
 - #201 8 oz. tumbler
 - #1184 Yeoman plate 6 1/4"
 - #1125 7 1/2" plate
 - #4165 jug, no handle, 3 pint

 - #353 Medium Flat Panel 4 1/2 oz. low footed sherbet

#352 Flat Panel oil bottle (cruet)

#353 Medium Flat Panel 10 oz., low-footed tumbler

Items with both the Fred Harvey Crest and Santa Fe Crest were ordered by Harvey.

11. That the bakelite knobs on the #1483 Stanhope pattern came in red, blue, yellow, ivory and black? Stanhope was a short-lived pattern, designed by Von Nessen of N.Y.C.
12. That #2323 Navy was made in several items besides the bar glasses? Navy barware was mostly adapted from the #2351 bar line with the addition of a thick cobalt base. Other items include 6, 7, and 8" plates; cup and saucer and cream and sugar from the #4044 New Era line with added cobalt foot; bouillon plates and a 2 oz. bar with 1/2 sham.
13. That the handled apple jelly dish which looks like a half apple is #1523? It comes with various cuttings and etchings including Minuet and Orchid etch and George IV cutting. Be careful in buying this item unless decorated because other companies made similar items. It is about 5 1/4" at the indent point, about 4 1/4" the other way and 1 1/2" high. The stems of the apples turns toward the right.

HEISEY CANDLESTICKS #21

Desk

by JACK METCALF

Always being more or less on the lookout for candlesticks seems to cause me to be fussy about details that other folks don't bother much about. A case in point is the photograph above showing #21 candlesticks. It seems all wrong. Shown are the 7" and 9" heights along with the desk candleholder, and the difficulty is that the proportions of the tall ones are different. The 9" height has a more definite taper of the stem portion. Examination of the reprint catalog 75 is not a lot of help for two reasons. The first is that not all of the pictures have the same "aspect ratio" there either. Secondly, those shown in the Catalog 75 are indiscriminately shown with the top edge beveled or not. For quite some time, therefore, the difference in the 7" and 9" was uneasily attributed to different proportions naturally arising from the cutting of the mold. (Neither of the taller two shown in the picture are marked).

With the subsequent availability of additional examples, the mystery still remains to some extent. A marked 11" size has a nice proper taper and a marked 9" showed up identical to the one in the photograph. Then a marked 7" size showed up with a proper taper. The family grouping is OK now; they all look the "same". But what about the 7" size shown above?! And unmarked, I never really questioned it before, but now I wouldn't bet even money on its being made by Heisey.

There is still a chance though, because #21 was made for more than 25 years and likely there was more than one mold. Of the several examples of the stocky one that I know about, none are marked. The mark should appear under the top curved candleholder portion, just above the band.

The #21 was introduced about 1908 in 5", 7", 9" and 11" sizes. Five years later the 5" size was replaced by a huge 15" size! In about 1923 the desk version was added and it continued on until the end of the second world war. By 1935 the 11" and 15" sizes had been phased out and then the 7" and 9" went out between 1935 and 1940. That's a complex schedule but it seems to have been a popular item and Heisey held on for a long time.

The bottoms are punted and the tops cut flat, with the amount of top cutting varied so that they may be found with or without the bevel indicated. There are no catalog listings (at present) of #21 in color, but similar electro-portable lamps turned up in Moongleam and Flamingo. Sharon keeps looking for a nice sahara one.

#372 Heisey Syrup Pitcher

by JOSEPH D. LOKAY

In a previous article, I discussed the Heisey #353, #354 and #355 colonial style syrup pitchers (Heisey News, April 1977). The #372 syrup pitcher came after these pitchers, and is similar in colonial design to the straight-sided #353, #354 and #355 pitchers except for the shape of the handle. The two features which help identify the #372 syrup pitcher are (1) the straight sides that slightly taper inward to form a smaller diameter at the top, and (2) the flat top handle located near the top of the pitcher. Sketch one compares the #353, #354 and #355 style of handle to that of the #372 handle.

The #372 pitcher is shown in V. Mc Lean's reproduction of Heisey catalog #212 (1937), p. 17 and in Heisey pressed ware catalog #109 (circa 1928-29), p. 26. It is not shown in Heisey's 1913 catalog. The two catalogs make reference to three sizes for the #372 pitcher: 5, 7 and 12 oz. The catalog also shows the same patented metal lid on the #372 pitcher as was on the #353, #354 and #355 syrup pitchers also make 5 & 12 oz.

except that the lever arm for opening the top is straight. The metal lids were available either chromium plated or nickel plated. Since #109 appears to be the first Heisey catalog to show the #372 pitcher, production of that pitcher most likely started around 1928.

The #372 pitcher can be found signed or unsigned, I believe the unsigned ones exist because the diamond H had essentially worn away in the mold. Study of the signed #372 pitchers showed the following interesting points. The pitchers are only marked once with a diamond H that is on one side of the spout as compared to the #353, #354 and #355 syrup pitchers which are marked twice, one on each side of the spout. The diamond H on the #372 pitcher is small and is located close-in to where the spout meets the wall of the pitcher. Sketch 2 shows the location of the marks. The orientation for sketch 2 is looking down at the top from above the pitcher. For the 11 oz. pitcher, the single mark is on the right hand face of the spout. While, for the 5 oz. pitcher, the single mark is on the left hand face of the spout. I believe the mark on the 7 oz. pitcher will be in the same place as on the 5 oz. pitcher.

I have seen the small and large #372 pitcher in crystal, flamingo, moongleam and sahara. It is possible that the pitcher was also made in marigold and hawthorne, however, I have not seen or heard of any. Based on the pattern lines generally found in marigold and hawthorne and on the concept that the accessory piece design should reasonably harmonize with the pattern line, I would be more of the opinion that the pitcher was not made in marigold or hawthorne. Does anyone have a #372 syrup pitcher in either of these two colors?

CLUB NEWS

Bay State Heisey Collectors Club

by MAURICE WALTER

Eighteen members attended the August 9th meeting of the Bay State Heisey Collectors Club at the home of Bud and Vy Jones in Tewksbury, Mass. This meeting was probably the last time Bud and Vy would be able to participate in club activities since they are moving to Florida in the Fall. The club wishes them well in their new home.

The theme of the meeting was salt and pepper shakers. Over 20 patterns were brought in by members. Some of the patterns shown included Fandango, Fancy Loop, Beaded Swag, Plantation, and others. Colors included opal, custard, red flash, Sahara, and Limelight.

At the conclusion of the discussion of salt and pepper shakers "Show and Tell" was conducted. Two of the more unusual pieces shown were a Moongleam #4202 six inch bud vase and a crystal dolphin candlestick.

Western Reserve Heisey Study Club

CHARTER #28

by LYNNE SELLERS

Eight "happy Heisey hunters" and one very interested guest were present for the August 18th meeting at the home of Bill and Mary Little.

President Mary Little and Secretary-Treasurer Fred Hopkins were unanimously re-elected to serve a second term of heading our study club here in the Cleveland—Lorain area.

Plans were finalized for a trip to the Mansfield Flea Market for a fun day of Heisey Hunting.

Linda Flock displayed a small ROCOCO nappy from her collection and presented an interesting and informative program on this elusive pattern.

Shirley Folts was unable to be with us due to foot surgery. Hope to see her at the September meeting at Mr./Mrs. Wendell Young's new home.

Refreshments were served by the hostess at the end of the meeting. Punch was served from a Greek Key punch bowl on stand and matching punch cups. All our host and hostesses use their Heisey pieces when serving refreshments, thus illustrating how the pieces were to be used when originally manufactured and sold.

On August 27, the fourth annual yard sale was held on the grounds of Dorothy and Wade Banck's home in Rockland, Mass. The weather was perfect for an outdoor sale. Fifteen dealers set up, most of them members of our club. A large variety of Heisey glass was put up for sale and attendance by visitors was very good. From what I've heard, sales were very brisk.

Our next event is the annual clam bake at Mary Williams' place in Marshfield, Mass. on September 13th.

Plans for our Third Annual Antique Show and Flea Market were finalized at our September Meeting. This will be held Sunday, October 30, in the Reynoldsburg High School gymnasium. There is ample room for 58 dealers. Hours will be from 9:00 to 5:00 and deal-

LONG ISLAND HCC

by RUTH PERLOFF, Publicity Chr.

Long Islanders made their annual trip from the seashore to the mountains for the "fun" meeting of the year at the summer home of our punch bowl collectors, Marty and Charlotte Belfer. Most of the day was spent in the swimming pool or beside it eating the delicious snacks and lunch provided by our hostess. The punch bowl filled by Bill and Esther Loss and kept filled by our host added a warm glow to the festivities. As night fell, we sat down to a long table loaded with all kinds of dishes brought by our members and added to by the Belfers and enjoyed a feast in the crisp mountain air.

A Heisey club meeting has business to attend to, however, so we listened to reports from the members who had attended the June convention. All agreed that it was bigger and better than ever. Nominations were made for club officers who will be elected at the September meeting. The program committee proposed that we study the new etching book this year. We will also begin the study of the Heisey animals.

We all began our long trek home with the feeling that we had not only had a wonderful time but had gotten a lot of serious work done.

ers can set up Saturday evening if they wish as a security guard will be provided. Of course, all proceeds will be for the benefit of the Museum and we ask members to support our project by attending. Any dealers interested can contact Murphy Tarquinio, 866-4687 or Harley Bethel, 861-4831.

Heisey Heritage Society

Heisey Heritage Society to Sponsor 2nd Glass Antique Show

Affiliate #8, still flushed with the success of last October's first glass show, is all primed for the second edition to be presented on October 22nd and 23rd in Mount Laurel, New Jersey, (see the ad in this issue for details).

The Heisey Heritage Society, which boasts an active participating membership from four states; New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and Delaware, (and a couple of "not so active" Ohio members), considers the Mount Laurel location perfectly situated for all comers. Last year's show drew guests from as far as Ohio, Virginia and Massachusetts.

More than thirty dealers will offer their finest in collectible glass, china and pottery. Quite naturally, Heisey and his contemporaries will be more than adequately represented.

By carefully selecting its dealers, the club has quickly established a reputation for quality. Further, the Hilton's elegant grand ballroom provides a perfect setting. Many dealers and guests considered last year's show one of the most beautiful presentations on the antique circuit. All members are determined to repeat and, hopefully, surpass last year's effort.

If you are traveling anywhere near Philadelphia, New York City or Baltimore on that October weekend, Mount Laurel, N.J. is just a hop away. The Heisey Heritage Society will do its best to make you feel welcome. Stop by and introduce yourself. All proceeds benefit the Heisey Museum Fund.

longer handle it all. Some people who give not only all of their free time, but nearly all of their TIME, WILL NOT ALWAYS BE ABLE TO DO SO. The amendment is meant to take care of that when the time comes. Many people from away would like to work hard for the club and museum but, since distance makes it impossible it puts most of the burden on local people. Since it takes a recommendation from the executive committee and a two thirds majority of the 20 member board to hire someone it will not be easy to abuse this amendment, by hiring people who are not needed.

We were very sad to hear of the death of Ben Revelle whom we had hoped to see at the dinner. Our sympathy to his family.

Kay Darling is 1978 Convention Chairman; Charles Wade, Show Chairman, and Harley Bethel, Display Chairman. The 76's Heisey Club of the Columbus area will handle the souvenir sales for 1978.

The new salesroom at the museum is now finished and we've moved in. You can't imagine what a difference it makes in Room 8. The new room is very attractive and a delight to work in. Now that customers can handle the merchandise, and we have space to really see it, sales should improve.

We are gaining new members every day and more and more people from far away places come to visit us. Many visitors this summer have been from distant California, Washington, Oregon, Texas, Florida and nearly ANY state you could name as well as some from Japan, England, Sweden and other countries.

Happy Collecting!!

LETTERS, we get letters....

by PHYLLIS S. GOLDSTEIN

Dear Heisey-ites,

No doubt you have all recovered from the wonderful convention and you all have stars in your eyes from the reflections of the magnificent Heisey Glass and our spectacular Museum. Let's now look to a bigger and better convention next year and the new sales room at the museum.

I enjoyed every minute of the weekend and came home to the hectic pleasure of a family reunion. I had an open house and was just preparing the last minute things in the kitchen. I placed the punch bowl (it wasn't a Heisey but a handsome McKee one on a stand that had been a gift to my girl friend's grandmother who died many years ago at the age of 92—so it was a treasured keepsake that had been given to me because they knew I would take good care of it—and I did all these many years)———anyway, I went to make the punch and put a can of frozen lemonade into it and turned around———and it cracked from side to side from the cold. I never knew anything could crack from cold——hot, yes——but cold——I learned fast——so I just want to pass the information on to you so you will never have the same experience. There was bedlam, to be sure, when you are expecting about 75 people———but I made a quick call to my girl friend who came to my rescue with hers———not as nice but an adequate one for the moment.

Of course, I can't use that glass for my projected Heisey mosaic, but I am waiting for the glass that some of you promised when you saw me. Haven't started the mosaic yet because I am waiting for more color———like cobalt, alexandrite, tangerine and all the other goodies. I would really like to have at least a little-bitty piece of each in the mosaic. Please see what you can do for me———either send it to me or to the museum———or take it to the dinner when you go and I will get it eventually.

Happy Heisey Hunting

As I complete my first year as an H.C.A. member I want you to know how much I appreciate your organization. I thoroughly enjoy the monthly newsletter "Heisey News". I read it from cover to cover and find myself constantly referring to back issues to answer questions and refresh my memory.

and refresh my memory about certain items.

Would love to someday visit the museum and see the beautiful collection of Heisey I've read so much about.

Mary Hidlebaugh, Iowa

Dear Louise,

The etching book arrived yesterday and I felt like I had hit the jackpot. I have so many examples of the things illustrated within, and have learned a lot from what I've seen in it already. Just brought home some good ole Minuet on Symphone from an all-glass show last week in Dallas.

When will you complete & publish the book on cuttings? I certainly look forward to having the complete set of volumes. The work you and the Bredehofts have put into this one is far superior to anything previously put in print about Heisey. In plainer language, you can understand it. Thank you for that!

P. Smith, Texas

I got my autographed book of etchings. Can hardly wait for the one on cuttings....I had a complete stranger come into my shop inquiring about a Rhode Island club and the person who referred them to me was unknown to me. Maybe R.I. will get a club going if interest keeps picking up....
