MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT CHARLIE WADE

Greetings!

Not much to report this month. It seems like your Executive Committee has turned into the main focal point for all of the Convention activities! I am not sure how long we can continue without volunteers to head up these main committees. In the mean time, we will continue to do what we can with the clubs and the folks who have shown an interest.

Auction - This year's Auction promises to be a very good one. Perhaps one of the best in a long time. Please remember this is a major fundraiser for HCA and the proceeds go a long way in keeping the Museum doors open. My thanks up front to all who have volunteered so far. I will acknowledge everyone when the final tally is in.

Bunnies - It seems like these cute little pink things are doing quite well at the Longaberger Homestead and a future order may be in the works. (See the ad in last month's newsletter for order information.)

Ring Neck Pheasants - These items are doing quite well also. Please remember this is probably the only time we will make anything from this mold, as it is very difficult to work and we were told by Mosser not to bring this one back!

Gaithersburgh Show - There should be plenty of nice Heisey to see. This is always a great show and the only all-Heisey show around these parts.

Easter Project - Sunshine yellow floating and standing Wood Ducklings will be sold for $15 each or two for $25; Rosalene Chicks for $15 each or two for $25 and punch cups (with Easter grass) for $5, making a complete Easter set for only $30. These items will be sold at the Open House Saturday, March 23 with Tom Heisey in attendance to sign special labels, which will note the name and date of the event.

Be sure to place an order for one of these items, as they will be going fast. They are a very nice way to give your grandchildren, children, nieces or nephews a nice piece for Easter.

This month, I also wanted to clarify the difference between a stock item, collection item, glass archives item and holdback.

• Stock Item - A museum stock item is a regular production or special project item that is for sale to the general public and the membership.

- Museum Collection Item Museum collection items include all donated or loaned original Heisey glass items, plus (when practical) one of each glass item reproduced by HCA in the Heisey molds.
- Glass Archives Item The glass archives contains all HCA related items and two of each item HCA has reproduced in the Heisey molds.
- Hold Back Hold Back consists of rare, test sample and very low production items, as well as items on the bust-off, whimsies, and research and development (feasibility) pieces.

Just to let you all know, we are loosing Angie in mid-March. We really hate to see her go, as she has done an outstanding job with the newsletter and Knowledge Works. Angie stepped right in and learned what had to be done and did a great job with the Studio. She also was a good team member and will be missed. Good luck Angie, and thank you for your good work!

Till next month!

Charlie

Well, another month has passed and another HCA employee is leaving us. This time it's Angie Hornberger. As you know, Angie's been the Assistant Curator/Newsletter Editor, and she and I have worked very closely together over the past year. Angie came to us with museum intern and volunteer experience and an incredible enthusiasm for the work. Just a month after she started working here, I went on maternity leave and I knew I was leaving things in good hands. I really hate to see her go, but I understand her reasons for leaving (museum salaries and student loans aren't a good mix—I know firsthand!).

High turnover, particularly in non-supervisory positions, is an unfortunate reality in small museums. In fact, one of the sessions I attended at the annual meeting of the Ohio Association of Historical Societies and Museums (OAHSM) in Columbus this past November addressed this very issue. As one of the panelists said, "You'll never be able to pay your staff what they're worth and keep them around, so don't even try!" Recognize that you're a stepping stone for most staff members, and do them, and the field, a favor by training them well and helping them find their next job. That's what other staff members and Board members can do, but what about the membership?

HCA members can help us deal with staff turnover by being patient and supportive. Recognize that even if you spoke with one employee about a particular matter a few years back (for example, the ad you place every December), you may need to repeat your request. Also, when you contact the Museum, take a few extra moments to introduce yourself. Since our membership is from all over the country, staff will never meet many of you in person, and it's always nice to know for whom we work.

Of course, recognizing the fact of high turnover doesn't make it any easier on fellow staff members or the general membership when a good employee tells you he or she is moving on. We'll be advertising soon for Angie's successor, but until we hire and train that person, I'll be assuming most of her duties. The response time for some requests (particularly identifications) is likely to be a bit longer. Your understanding and patience are greatly appreciated.

On the upside, Shannon Mitchell, who worked for HCA for several months last year, has returned to the Museum part-time to help with membership and Museum shop duties.

Hopefully, next month I'll be introducing a new staff member! Until then, take care and be sure to bid on those auction items!

FROM THE ASSISTANT CURATOR Angie Hornberger

As you may have read in both Charlie's and Cheri's columns, I will be leaving the Museum in mid March to pursue other career opportunities. My sincere thanks to the wonderful Museum staff who made coming to work every day a complete joy, and also to the Board and membership, for welcoming me into your organization and giving me the opportunity to further explore my interest in museum work. It has been a pleasure working for HCA and learning about the many wonders of Heisey glassware!◆

Fundraising Challenge

The North Carolina Heisey Study Club would like to challenge all other study clubs to match or beat their donation of $1,000.00 to HCA's operating fund.

Is your club up to the challenge?

FROM THE ARCHIVES: Customer Service VICKI MEEHAN

In 1959, Heisey was still in the customer service business. Nylands, a store in Wisconsin, sent a letter to A. H. Heisey & Co. regarding the breakage of a customer's glassware. The text is transcribed below.

"Our customer brought in one of her Heisey Rose salad plates to show us how it had cracked. She has eight and has them in one stack on the shelf and when she went to use them this week, two were broken in identical places. She thinks this is rather unusual and would like your opinion on it. Enclosed sketch (shown below) shows how both broke. Could this be caused bv the atmospheric conditions with a possible defect in the glass. Let us hear from you as to what you think caused two to break in the same place.

Newark, Ohio February 16, 1959

Byland's, Inc. 1607 Main Street Marinette, Wisconsin

Gentlemen:

We are sorry that your customer has had an unfortunate experience with her Heisey Rose salad plates. During the etching process the plates are subjected to tremendous thermal shock which would result in immediate breaking if any defect were present.

It does seem possible that a differential chilling of the plates due to a cold draft on part of them might set up a thermal strain pattern that could cause a break during a heavy jar while the plates were at an uneven temperature.

Naturally, the break might tend to follow the pattern of the glass in regards to thickness and thinness. Furthermore, the tiniest chip or fracture in glass may ultimately run like a silk stocking under severe shock. It is conceivable that a sonic boom caused by a jet plane passing through the sound barrier might cause the plates to break.

No matter how strong anything is, if subjected to a great enough pressure it will break, and break in the weakest spot which may be determined by design, so that the fracture will follow the same pattern.

We trust the above may be of help to you in explaining the multiple breakage to your customer.

Yours very truly,

Thomas C. Heisey

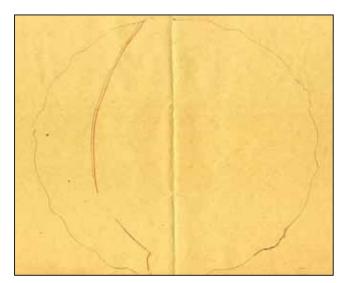

A. H. HEISEY & CO.

Executive Vice President

TCH:1

Yours very truly, NYLNDS INC."

MEMORIES FROM HCA'S EARLY YEARS, PART IV BOB RYAN

Whenever Heisey collectors get together after talking about glass and what they have found or bought, the talk eventually turns to food. Have you noticed in the study club reports there is always mention about the food that was served, usually in scrumptious detail? The reason for this is that Heisey collectors love their food. Now I will take you to some of the places and events where food leads the way.

Eleanor Jackson's food spreads under the tents at the Museum grounds or at Sam and Heidi Schnaidt's were always sold out and belt-loosening affairs. When Eleanor had those steaks grilling, the aroma would drive you crazy. Those cheesy potatoes, great salads and all of those sides, made for a real eating pleasure! Her appetizers disappeared as fast as an unattended cash drawer did, maybe faster. I remember standing about six feet from the appetizer table when the food was brought out and someone stopped me for only a brief pause, and when I resumed my six feet trip to the tables, I had my choice of a carrot stick or a piece of celery. The stuffed mushrooms, spicy meatballs or other delicacies had all found homes. As I turned for my seat, I saw nothing but elbows and heads a bobbing. There was very little talking going on.

Have you ever been to "Jacktown" on old Route 40? Clark's Restaurant would be the destination. Fried chicken and thick ham steaks, all served family style with mashed potatoes and gravy, country green beans, savory fresh corn and hot rolls. There were always home baked pies with lard crusts and meringue oh so delicately piled a mile high on those fruit pies. Just like grandma used to make. That was pre-cholesterol days, now I can only remember the taste! Man, that was eating.

The Clarks are still there and still putting out the same delicious food, so if you have not been there yet, it's a must. But go early as the locals all know about the place. Many a time we've made it a point to be there early, only to have to wait. I have been known to make some friends very uncomfortable by putting my nose to the window and watching every bite they take. Bad idea though, since they only take longer to eat! There was also a fine dining establishment on Route 37, south of Granville, that was located in an old railroad baron's home, Bryn Mawr it was named. Eating there was always an experience, great food and wonderful ambience. If you were lucky enough to have lunch on the patio under the yellow and white striped awning, you never forgot it. (Right, Billie and Paige?) Unfortunately, it has gone the way many good things seem to go when someone purchases them, taking a very successful restaurant and attempting to make improvements, but instead ruining the place.

However, don't be totally dismayed, Granville still has the one of the Midwest's best restaurants, the Granville Inn. This is the only restaurant where I start my meal with dessert (that is if they're serving the English walnut chocolate pie!). If you like good food, don't miss it. Each day they also offer the very best salad bar, complete with hot soup and an entree. The salads themselves are a meal, and they come with the Inn's very own salad dressings. There are always two or three plates on the table, along with several sandwich offerings and relishes galore! Nothing in the lot is ever ordinary. In addition, they always have daily specials to tempt you, and every selection is superb! The Inn has a screened-in porch, which offers a wonderful place to dine when the June weather is mild. Treat yourself once, and you'll go back again and again. (All of our grandchildren have eaten there, need I say more!)

For those of you who have a "yen" for Chinese food, I understand the Golden Wok serves exceptional food. It's located near the Natoma, a very fine steak house that's been in Newark for many years. (It was there that I courted my bride-to-be.)

A recent addition to the dining scene is the Texas Roadhouse, located near the Marriott Courtyard. This is a raucous, noisy place, where the food is good and plentiful, and the wait staff is friendly and helpful. The baked potatoes are huge and served with brown sugar and cinnamon butter. (I can't afford the cholesterol, but I can still look and smell.) Don't eat the peanuts, if you plan on cleaning your plate, it's a chore. Since I've never made it to dessert here, I'm not sure if they even serve it.

I haven't even told you about Utica and the Olde Mill or the restaurant that serves the dogpatch salad (I have to eat too you know). I have a hard enough time getting a reservation now, but since I've shared my list with everyone, it will probably be harder! Bon appetite!

2002 SWAP AND BLIND AUCTION: HURRAY FOR THE RED, WHITE AND BLUE CONNIE DALL

Plans are continuing for a fun-filled evening to show off your patriotic spirit, while eating, swapping and bidding. Thank you, to everyone who has responded so far for the call to donate glass for the Blind Auction. We still need additional glass, so please send your items to the Museum marked for the Blind Auction or bring it to the Benefit Auction in April. I will be there, and will be glad to accept your donations.

The American spirit is alive and well and burning up the e-mail lines, as plans are getting underway. Thank you, to Elaine Husted and Pam Haffner for answering the call to help plan this year's event. This year's event will be held at Hopewell Hall on OSU's Newark Campus. There will be a casual buffet dinner and reservations will be limited to 200 people, so get your reservations in early. This is the place to be Thursday night of Convention week at 6:00 p.m. for food and fun people!

The Swap session will follow dinner and then everyone will be invited to bid on boxes of all-American Heisey glass. Be sure to come wearing your red, white and blue, as there are great prizes to be given to the winners showing the most "spirit."

In order to help those who haven't had a chance to enjoy this event before understand how to participate, a run down of the "rules" for the evening appears below.

SWAP MEET RULES:

1. Come to have fun! The more trades you make, the more fun you will have!

2. Only twelve Heisey items (per family) are allowed on your swapping table at any one time.

3. Special emphasis is placed on mating your singles into pairs: tops for bottoms, bottoms for tops, stoppers for jugs and cruets for stoppers! Items for mating do not count in the twelve total allowed on swapping tables per rule #2.

4. NO MONEY OR PAUL REVERE SILVER may exchange hands for ANY items. (This means British pound sterling too!)

5. You may exchange original items at any time for other items as long as the total number of items on your table does not exceed twelve items at any one time. Matching items do not count toward the twelve total items.

6. Have a good time, be aggressive and keep movingyou may be pleasantly surprised with your trades.

BLIND AUCTION RULES:

1. All of the "All-American Boxes" are waiting to be claimed by auction bidding.

2. All boxes are sealed so nobody (not even the patriot who boxed them) will know what particular item/items are in which box.

3. Each box contains actual finds of Heisey glassware or wonderful Heisey related items, with a promise of a dollar value of no less than $100.00 per box.

4. Each box will be offered for auction with a reserved opening bid of $50.00 per box.

5. Bidding will be open to all in attendance. First winning bidder can choose whichever box they want from all boxes offered. ONLY ONE BOX per each winning bid. However, all bidders may bid again for another box if they wish each time the bidding is reopened.

6. After each box is claimed by successful bidding, it will be opened by the successful bidder in, for all to see. ♦

HEISEY SPOONERS GEORGE SCHAMEL AND DAVID SPAHR

Many years ago, from around 1850 to the early 1930s, the typical table set consisted of four pieces: a creamer, sugar, covered butter and a spooner. After the 1930s, the spooner and covered butter were eliminated from the table set since they simply went out of style.

As the name spooner suggests, these pieces were produced and used to hold spoons. A spooner looks like a large toothpick holder, whereas spoon trays look like oblong relish trays with the sides bent in and the ends bent out and down. Heisey made spooners from their beginning in 1896 until 1945. While restaurants still use spooners (spoon holders) today, typically on buffet servers, normally they are now made of stainless steel rather than glass.

Not counting those produced in color, there are at least forty-two different pattern types of spooners and fourteen spoon trays. Patterns such as Fandango, Cut Block, Punty and Diamond Point and Fancy Loop were probably made to look like cut glass, which was popular in the late 1800s and early 1900s. At this time not everyone could afford cut glass, and these items gave people an inexpensive alternative.

As you can see, there are quite a variety of patterns from which to choose. There are plain patterns like Touraine and elegant designs like Fancy Loop. As far as we know, only three of the patterns had spooners with handles: Winged Scroll, Grecian Border, and #300 ½ Peerless (Colonial). The #300 ½, as with many Heisey pieces, is also listed as a "Loving cup." The two patterns that contain footed spooners are Continental and Puritan. These two patterns were probably copied from many of the pressed (pattern) glass spooners in vogue at the time.

We believe that all Heisey spooners and spoon trays can be found in Crystal. Spooners produced in color include: Beaded Swag, Punty Band, Ring Band, and Winged scroll in Opal; Beaded Swag, Cut Block, Punty Band, Ring Band, and Winged Scroll in Custard (Ivorina Verde); Beaded Swag, Fancy Loop, Locket on Chain, Pointed Oval and Diamond Point and Winged Scroll in Emerald; and Locket on Chain and Winged Scroll in Vaseline. Many of these patterns were also decorated with gold and red stains, as well as enamels and wheel etches. However, not all of these decorations were produced by Heisey. Since Heisey produced a wide variety of spooners, it's difficult to generalize their size. Many shops (dealers) are quite liberal when identifying spooners and open sugars. Seven of the Heisey patterns have two spooners: #339 Continental, #461 Convex Circle, #352 Flat Panel, #300 Peerless, #1225 Plain (Sawtooth Band), #311 Puritan and #502. There are three #433 Grecian Border spooners. If a person had one of every shape and size of Heisey spooner, he or she would have fifty-one spooners. Adding all of the colored spooners, one would have sixty-seven spooners. Your guess is as good as ours on how many there are if you add in those that were decorated or stained!

Spooners make a nice collectable item showing the pattern of glass distinctly and completely. They display well, don't take up too much space, and are relatively inexpensive when compared to other pieces. Spoon trays however, are another story. They take up more space since they cannot be stacked and they seem to be more difficult to find. Since many collectors and dealers are unaware of them, they frequently misidentify them as relishes. Apparently only spoon trays from the Punty Band pattern were produced in color (Ivorina Verde and Opal), so one could have sixteen different spoon trays counting those in color.

We have been unable to find out much about spoon trays, but we suspect, since they appear to be able to hold larger spoons than the upright spooners, they were used on the kitchen stove to hold mixing or stirring spoons.

A list of spooners made by Heisey, which includes the pattern number, the pattern name and, where applicable, the Vogel book and page reference, is featured on page 10. A similar list of spoon trays is also provided. Shown on the next page, are pictures of both Heisey spooners and spoon trays. Most of the spooners pictured are shown in Vogel books I, II, and IV, as well other publications including, Bredehoft's Heisey Glass: 1896-1957.

The following is a list of spooners and spooner trays produced by A. H. Heisey and Company. The list includes the pattern number and name, years of production, markings, description, rarity and Vogel book reference.

LOUISE AND RUSSELL REAM ENDOWMENT FUND CAMPAIGN UPDATE, PART II BOB RYAN

The Ream fund grows, but only slowly. I guess I am not getting through to you. You're supposed to respond by sending in your contributions for the Ream endowment fund. We have received some donations this month but not enough to report.

Won't you all make an effort this month to reach for that checkbook and write your check? It does not matter how much you donate, just show us that you are with us, and send something. Everyone, no matter who you are, has benefited from the Ream's contributions to HCA. Even if you've never met the Reams, their dedication and efforts went a long way in helping to make this organization and Museum a reality. I am very much aware that they were but a part of many, but they were at the forefront of every move that made the Museum possible. We appreciate their hard work and enthusiasm (as we do all those pioneer people who worked so diligently for us). Let's show them how much we appreciate them! ◆

HEISEY AT THE VANCE KIRKLAND MUSEUM

HCA members Norval Heisey and Gordon Clark recently donated items from their collections to the Vance Kirkland Museum located in Denver, CO. The Museum is devoted to products from the Art Nouveau, Art Deco, Modern Art and Arts and Crafts periods and maintains a collection of textiles, paintings, sculptures, dinnerware (including items produced by former Heisey designer Eva Zeisel), furniture and glassware. Donations from Heisey and Clark to the Museum included pieces from the #1485 Saturn, #4083 Stanhope, #1252 Twist and #4044 New Era patterns, all of which were produced during the 1930s Art Deco period.

The Museum would also like to acquire glassware produced by other companies such as Ducan Miller, Morgantown and Cambridge to name a few. To learn more about the Vance Kirkland Museum and their collections, you many contact them by phone at (303) 832-8576 or visit them online at www.vancekirkland.org/home.html.

HEISEY GLASS APPRAISAL EVENT BOB RYAN

HCA will host an appraisal day for Heisey glass on Saturday, May 18th at 12:30 p.m. at the Museum. This is an opportunity to bring your Heisey glass and find out its pattern name and number and its value. You may bring as many pieces as you wish, but only three pieces may be appraised at a time. You may return to the line as many times as you desire. Many people have requested this opportunity, and here it is. Be sure to take advantage of it!

A panel of knowledgeable Heisey collectors will be present to render verbal appraisals for you. A donation to HCA is requested. For more information about this event , check your next newsletter, contact the Museum at (740) 345-2932 or visit us online at www.heiseymuseum.org.◆

"WHAT'S IT WORTH?" ANTIQUE APPRAISAL EVENT BOB RYAN

The Heisey Collectors of America will be hosting an antique appraisal event during Heisey's June Convention. The event will take place Saturday, June 22nd from 9:00 a.m. to roughly 1:30 p.m. at the Museum. A panel of appraisers from across the United States will be on hand to appraise antiques and collectibles.

Items to be appraised will include furniture, glass, paintings, jewelry, China, silver, art, pottery, etc. You may bring as many items as you choose, but only two can be appraised at a time. You will need to re-enter the line for additional items.

Since this is a fund raising event for HCA's endowment fund, a donation is requested. (See next month's newsletter for more details.)

This is a golden opportunity to avail yourselves of the expert appraisers who will be here for the Heisey Convention and find out just "what it's worth!" Let's see what's in the attics of Newark. For more information about this event, contact the Museum by phone at (740) 345-2932 or visit us online at www.heiseymuseum.org. ◆

2002 Convention Display "Anniversaries and Birthdays" Marilyn Smith, Display Coordinator

Attention Study Clubs and Individual Members:

Would you be willing to display your glass in the all Heisey Display during the Heisey Convention? All glass must be Heisey - no reproductions or fakes. This year's theme will be "Anniversaries and Birthdays" to coincide with Newark, Ohio's Bicentennial. This is your opportunity to display your collection and/or dinner/luncheon sets. The response to last year's move to Adena Hall was very positive.

The rectangular tables are three by eight feet and the round tables are four feet in diameter. HCA will furnish table covers (white top with blue skirting) and risers for the rectangular tables and white tablecloths, napkins and silverware for the round tables. Two place settings with serving pieces will be adequate for the round tables.

The display glass is set up on Tuesday and/or Wednesday, and security will be available from setup to teardown. Teardown will be after the Show closes on Saturday. If you need help carrying, setting up or packing your glass, please let me know.

Contact me with how many tables you need, the name of your display and/or pattern to be displayed by May 31St. I can be reached by mail at, 225 Upson Downs Road, Newark, OH 43055; by phone at 740-366-5163; or by e-mail at, prestonmom@prodigy.net.

Thanks for your consideration!

CLUB NOTES

The Buckeye Heisey Study Club held their monthly meeting on February 24th at the Museum. Stan and Mary Holmquist hosted the event. Old Business:

Discussed during the meeting, were the possibilities of still having a morning flea market at the Museum during Convention since the Granville show location has moved, and outside space may be limited. The finalities were tabled until next month's meeting.

New Business:

Members discussed ideas for our Convention display as both individuals and also as a club. Mary Holmquist presented a slide show on Heisey animals with the assistance of Dick Marsh.

Show and Tell:

Show and tell produced #1183 Revere salts in Cobalt, Flamingo, and Crystal. Also a #393 Narrow Flute salt in crystal was shown by Michael Maher.

The March meeting will be hosted at the home of Dick and Virginia Marsh. ♦

Nineteen members made the trek to Bellingham for the meeting. The coffee table had a Winged Scroll berry set in Emerald that wasn't upstaged by the Ring Band table set in Ivorina Verde, complete with the creamer, sugar, spooner and covered butter. The piano couldn't have made any music prettier than the collection of Heisey spooners on top of it.

Raffle:

One would think that since we were in the heart of Bellingham, it would be assumed that a "Bellinghamster" would win the raffle. WRONG!!! Many members bought multiple tickets, but the winner was Elizabeth Wight. She received the #1252 Twist individual bon bon in Moongleam as her prize! You just never know what is in the raffle, do you?

Show & Tell:

I already mentioned the coffee table and the piano pieces on display. That coffee table became even more impressive as other members showed up and put out their pieces. The table was covered with pieces in Emerald, Opal and Ivorina Verde that you don't see every day. Fred Olsen was the program speaker and here is a shortened version of his speech, "Snippets from an Opaque Beginning."

The real hero in the success story of Augustus Heisey is Susan Duncan. Had she not caught the eye of Augustus and subsequently married the "best glass salesman on the road" in 1870, we would not likely be enjoying this delicious potluck, the beautiful antique glass, or the common collecting interest of those present.

It was through that marriage that Augustus got his "foot in the Ripley Glass Co. door" which, in 1874, became George Duncan & Sons. Who were the sons? His only son was James. This is only conjecture, but it is likely that he had his son-in-law in mind when he named the company. Shortly after the death of George in 1877, Augustus and James became the sole owners of George Duncan & Sons.

Fast forwarding to 1895, Augustus built a glass producing plant in Newark, Ohio, and opened in 1896 with one 16 pot furnace. Expansion was quick to follow and soon A. H. Heisey & Co. was operating with three furnaces and employing almost 700 persons. It was at this time that those original and beautiful Heisey colors came into being.

Thank you, Susan for your monumental and essential contribution to this delightful afternoon!

Fred went on to describe the first five of the early patterns. There was a lively discussion on stoppers and colors. The show & tell pieces provoked more educational questioning. The list of show & tell items included: #310 Ring Band tumbler, nappy in Ivorina Verde; #1295 Beaded Swag goblet, nappy, covered sugar and creamer in Opal; #1280 Winged Scroll 13" tray, colognes with crystal stoppers, salt, pepper and toothpick, all in Ivorina Verde and Jefferson Co. winged scroll example. Spooners for show (condensed list) included: #357 Prison Stripe, #365 Queen Anne, #160 Locket on Chain, #433 Greek Key, #337 Touraine, #1255 Pineapple and Fan, and on and on.

Meeting Adjourned:

It was a wonderful afternoon of noshing and drooling over the glass display. We learned a lot about the early colors. Thanks, to Fred for the interesting dissertation on Heisey. See you all in March. ◆

As a revitalized south Florida Heisey club, we have increased our club membership with new members and a renewal of interest by past members. Holding our meetings at a restaurant site more centrally located for all has greatly aided the effort to widen interest in Heisey.

A recent meeting featuring many cruets, in different patterns, enabled one member to recognize a pattern she had just seen at our program, allowing her to speed by several of our fellow collectors and snap up a Paneled Cane toothpick holder at an aftermeeting visit to a nearby mall. A wonderful example of the value of study clubs to the future of Heisey collecting.

At our last meeting in February the current officers, President/Vice Pres. Everett Dunbar and Secretary/Treasurer Jean Walter, were reelected to another term. (The club only holds meetings January through April, as several members are away during the summer months.) Shirley Dunbar, author and long-time collector, recently shared her knowledge and collection of early Ivorina Verde pieces with us. At the same meeting a beautiful #1280 Winged Scroll butter dish was displayed in the same color (that was a real sleeper).

Over the season, a number of excellent pieces have been displayed including: #4035 cologne with a duck stopper in Flamingo, two colognes with similar stems (one marked) and different stoppers, #1184 cologne with drip stopper, #1420 Tulip vase in Cobalt, #467 Helmet basket, Heisey by Imperial Crystolite bowl in Imperial's equivalent of Heisey's Dawn color. Other goodies seen were a rare #1255 Pineapple and Fan nappy in Vaseline, #1567 Plantation candle block, # 7012 Squared Fan powder box (it's beautiful now, but wait until it has its cover that is now in the process of being re-silvered), early #17 decanter, #1503 Crystolite melon shaped candle blocks, plus other items that came at me too fast to be noted.

Anyone interested in joining us at a meeting in Jupiter, FL should contact Pres. Everett Dunbar, as listed in your study club directory each month in the Heisey News, for further information. ◆ Dayton Area Heisey Collectors Judy Rhoads

The February 19, 2002 meeting of the Dayton area study club was held at the Huber Heights Public Library. President Karen Clark chaired the meeting and fourteen members and one guest were present.

During the course of the business meeting, we discussed money making projects, our plans for hosting the 2003 Percy Moore Dinner and sponsoring of the Before Auction Madness flea market to take place preceding the Benefit Auction.

Our guest was Connie Dall, who is certainly not a stranger to our study club. Connie, who happens to be the daughter of members Bob and Hilda Ryan, is the Vice President of the HCA Board of Directors. She expressed her appreciation on behalf of the HCA Executive Committee for all of the volunteering the members of our study club have done over the years to benefit HCA. She spoke about other things we can do to contribute to HCA, even when we cannot always go to Newark for a meeting or activity. Connie also spoke of Convention plans. It was great to have her with us for our meeting.

Our program was a review of an HCA slide program on Heisey Animals, led by Mac and Georgia Otten. This presentation was in response to a request from HCA asking local study clubs to help review old programs, updating and improving them, so that they can be used by study clubs for program material.

Show and tell items included: #1425 Victorian individual ashtray; #150 Banded Flute two piece oyster cocktail; Flamingo picket basket; #351 Priscilla 2 oz. bar in Moongleam; #1519 Waverly spring salad bowl with Orchid etch; #150 Banded Flute Root Beer mug; #1567 Plantation tall covered candy; #300 Peerless claret jug; #1503 Crystolite 7" shell plate, square hinge; #1503 Crystolite 7" shell plate, round hinge; #1776 Kalonyal spoon tray and #1503 ½ Crystolite swan pitcher. ◆

Well, Mr. Chris gave us all quite a scare in January, but he is finally home and moving around. I know we all wish him a speedy recovery.

All of the final details for the 30th Annual All Heisey Show and Sale have been hammered out, so now the only thing left to do is wait for Friday, March 15 to set up. My checkbook is all a quiver in anticipation!

Hopefully, by the time you are reading this, the National Capital Heisey Collector's Club will have been dragged, kicking and screaming, into the 21st Century. That's right, we now have a web site. It is www.capitalheiseyclub.org, so check it out and tell a friend. Thanks, to our web administrator Russ Reopell and Bryan Baker for all of the hard work that went into the web site.

Once again, I have been corrected on a statement I made in the Heisey Herald. In last month's issue, I said the #1220 and #1225 patterns could be found with Ruby flash. Thanks, to George Fogg for pointing out that Heisey glass was decorated with a Ruby stain. Ruby flash was an expensive process that was out of favor by the 1890s, replaced by the cheaper staining process.

Also, I would like to thank Ann Lake for her gracious donation of the Heisey News dating back to 1976. I have been pouring over them, looking for information on a Zodiac cigarette.

See you at the next meeting!

Golden Gate Heisey Co	llectors Club
Clay Roger

The post-Christmas meeting of the Golden Gate Heisey collectors was held at the home of Lee Jones and Russ Nicholas in Petaluma, CA on January 13, 2002. Fifteen avid members turned out for the meeting and two guests, Bobble Tutwiler and Ruth West, also attended.

Members reported that the Sacramento Glass Show was very good and we had people who had traveled to Portland, New York, Florida, Missouri, and England since the last meeting, so we had some very interesting pieces of Heisey for show and tell.

After a short business meeting, during which we elected our officers for 2002 (President - Clay Rogers, Vice President - Bob Kneass, Secretary - Russ Nicholas, and Treasurer - Lee Jones), we had our annual Christmas gift exchange and members took home some beautiful pieces of Heisey. Fran Shields won a Peerless handled sugar bowl in the raffle. After the exchanges we had a wonderful turkey dinner with all the trimmings, prepared flawlessly by Lee and Russ. Everyone had a great time and if anyone went away hungry, it was their own fault! We hope to see you at the next meeting, which will be hosted by Roberta on April 24th. ◆

WEB WATCH: AAM Accredited Glass Museums

There are four glass museums accredited by the American Association of Museums (AAM). Back in the November, 2001 issue, we featured the web site of one, the Corning Museum of Glass, Corning, NY: http://www.cmog.org/. Here are the sites of the three others:

- Sandwich Glass Museum, Sandwich, MA http://www.sandwichglassmuseum.org/
- Museum of American Glass (at Wheaton Village), Millville, NJ http://www.wheatonvillage.org/museum/index.html
- Oglebay Institute: Mansion Museum and Glass Museum, Wheeling, WV http://www.oionline.com/glass.html

Take a look at these sites and let us know if you get any ideas for things HCA might want to implement on our own web site or here at the Museum. We want to hear from you!◆
