Heisey Collectors of America, Inc., a non-profit corporation (tax-exempt status), owns and operates The National Heisey Glass Museum in Veterans Park, 6th and Church Streets, Newark, Ohio. Open year round, Tuesday through Saturday, 10 a.m. - 4 p.m. and Sunday 1 p.m. - 4 p.m. (except Jan. and Feb.), closed holidays. Other hours by appointment. Members admitted free; regular admission $4.

A Message from the President:

This will be my first monthly column as your new President, and I'm honored by the opportunity to serve HCA in this role. Your new Board of Directors has developed a plan filled with opportunities for the next year, and if history is any indication -- with your help -- HCA will continue to build upon the legacy of members supporting the organization and the museum campus with great success.

Congratulations to all of those who participated in our recent Heisey convention! From all the positive comments we've received, it's clear our convention committee did an outstanding job in planning and executing all the events encompassing the convention. Many pictures are included in this newsletter and we'll have more on the HCA web site in the near future. Two of the convention highlights were clearly the endowment reception and the opening of the Landon / Krall Exhibition Cabinet display. The endowment display captured the spirit of the past conventions when members and study clubs created displays that featured Heisey in creative settings.

Opening the Landon / Krall display was a standing-room-only event and featured Jeff Hall, Mayor of Newark, and Sue Kilgore, HCA President, cutting the ribbon to open the display. We were fortunate to have Bill Lange, grandson of Emil Krall, and members of his family join us along with Betty Pickrell, daughter-in-law to former Heisey cutter Mark Pickrell, and a former employee of Emil Krall at the event. Prior to the display opening, Betty Pickrell donated to HCA a large collection of sample cutting panes created by Mark Pickrell. HCA received extensive local media coverage on the display opening and very positive member and community reactions.

As I mentioned previously, the Board of Directors at our planning meeting held during the convention identified and adopted three (3) areas of focus (priorities) for this new Heisey year. They are as follows:

Museum Management,

Development / Awareness / Engagement &

Endowment Fund Growth.

Museum Management:

This segment includes the operational aspect of the three (3) buildings making up the museum campus and the operations they support. These include the collection display, archives, and gift shop and club operations. The #1 priority within this segment will be an upgrade of the information technology (IT) services that supports the operations of HCA. This project will be led by Larry Burge, Managing Director. Our goal with this project is to enable a solution that effectively brings our IT systems up to date and enhances the management of HCA operations. It will create a new level of accessibility and engagement for you, the HCA members, into the archives and collection. Additional focus within this segment includes looking at our expenses and vendor relationships for cost savings and the on-going AEP Ohio "grid SMART" initiative to reduce our electric expenses with new energy efficient lighting conversions.

Development / Awareness / Engagement:

This segment is focused upon developing and re-engaging the local and collector communities with our museum campus. Specifically, we're looking to build the HCA brand with a marketing effort of community engagement and outreach along with re-establishing a museum volunteer program and development of new educational partnerships with local area museums and universities. Another component of this plan segment will be the delivery to you, our members, the option to receive your "Heisey News" in an electronic format and email updates from HCA.

Endowment Fund Growth:

On going, we will continue to be focused upon the opportunity to grow the HCA endowment fund. As the Cochran challenge has proved over the last year, the members of HCA are committed to the continued success of the organization. We believe this segment is vitally important for our future and will be working to seek a grant to fund a development role within HCA. Strategically, this is important as well to enable members who are seeking planned giving opportunities. Also remember, you have until July 31, 2012, to have your endowment donation matched by the Cochran Endowment Challenge.

These three areas of focus -- Museum Management, Development / Awareness / Engagement and Endowment Fund Growth -- are together the HCA building blocks into the future "World of Heisey." Your interest and participation in these efforts are very much welcome; just let us know how you would like to help.

Now continuing on the theme of helping HCA and our Museum Campus, one of the rolls of the President is to appoint members to the HCA committees. Historically, these committees along with our staff have driven the success of the HCA. As I considered appointments for the committees, it occurred to me that many of you may have an interest in serving and don't know where to start, so here now is your chance.

Within HCA we have the following standing (HCA Bylaws) committees:

Membership;
Projects, Budget and Finance;
Publicity; Convention .

Plus we have Special Committees as well:

Percy Moore Dinner 2013 (Newark, Ohio);
Museum and Properties;
Bylaws;
Education;
Collection, Research and Archives;
Nominating;
Auction;
Strategic and Succession Planning.

Perhaps you have professional experience that could benefit HCA or your study club is looking for a project? Volunteers working together made this organization what it is today and we are stewards of the work of the past; the "World of Heisey" needs you! If you have an interest in serving HCA in any of these roles, please let me know.

In conclusion, first I would like to welcome Charlie Wade back to the HCA Board of Directors and Executive Committee; he was elected to fill the unexpired term of Will Kennard, who resigned to return to work and other family interests. I would also like to take this opportunity to acknowledge those who served as HCA officers over the last year: Sue Kilgore, Charlene Bowman, Will Kennard, and Mary Ann Spahr -- "thank you."

So now you have seen the plan for the coming year, and the door is open to you for you to get involved in support of HCA.

Best regards,

Jay Barker

Landon / Krall Display Unveiled At Convention

Since the return of the Alfred M. Landon Frame / Emil J. Krall Exhibition Cabinet to the permanent National Heisey Museum Collection last summer, we have been anxiously awaiting its restoration and display in the main room of the Museum. Those who attended the annual convention were treated to its unveiling during a special ribbon-cutting ceremony featuring Newark Mayor Jeff Hall and HCA President Sue Kilgore, who shared the ribbon-cutting honors, along with Bill Lange, grandson of Emil Krall, and members of his family, as well as Betty Pickrell, daughter-in-law to former Heisey cutter Mark Pickrell, and a former employee of Emil Krall.

Emil Krall: Master Artist

Emil Krall was born in 1881 in Haida, Austria, to a family who had been engaged as glass workers since 1648. Records indicate that Krall was the youngest of five children. At the age of 10, his designs so impressed local glass masters that Krall was placed under the tutelage of expert glass workers. His skills were well recognized; in 1900 at the age of 19, he was selected to work in Vienna in the Royal Court of Franz Joseph, Emperor of Austria-Hungary. He worked here for four years. During this time, it is said he engraved only 24 glasses, an average of one every two months. While serving the Royal Court, he met visiting American glass maker William Libby of the Libby Glass Company; Libby was so impressed with Krall's work that he assured Krall of a job with his Toledo, Ohio, factory should Krall ever relocate to America.

When his tour ended with the Royal Court in 1904, Krall married and returned to his hometown of Haida and opened his own glass shop. Two years later, he immigrated to the United States with his wife and two children; two additional children were born in the U.S. Krall took Libby up on his offer for employment, and worked in the Toledo glass factory for several years.

For the next quarter century, Krall was employed by several glass companies, and on several occasions was also in business for himself, though all indications are that his private undertakings were not successful.

Krall came to Heisey in the 1930s, and soon became foreman of the cutting department. As he was responsible for much of the designing and promoting of Heisey, he probably did not do much cutting; rather, he would cut the first example, after which others in the department would duplicate his efforts.

In 1942, following the death of E. W. Heisey, Krall resigned his position with the company and established the Emil Krall Studio in Newark, Ohio. He continued to operate the studio until 1952. Emil Krall died in 1956 at age 75.

The Alf Landon Frame

The story begins with the 1936 presidential election campaign of Republican Alf Landon. Wilson Heisey, then president of A.H. Heisey and Company, was Chairman of the Ohio for Landon effort. Prior to the Republican Convention, Wilson Heisey enlisted Emil Krall to engrave a large mirror frame to hold Alf Landon's picture at the Convention.

Republican Presidential Candidate Alf Landon

According to Krall's own account, he traveled to Topeka, Kansas, to obtain a likeness of Landon, and then engraved a portrait of him for the top oval of the frame. According to Krall, it took four weeks totaling 480 hours to complete the project. The frame was of mirrors engraved with buckeyes and leaves, which were symbols of Ohio, and sunflowers, which was the state flower of Kansas, Landon's home. Once completed, Emil's son Oscar Krall shared that it took seven hours to assemble the cut pieces onto the 79" X 48" frame -- the large size befitting the prominence in which it was displayed at the convention, which was held at the Hollenden Hotel in Cleveland, Ohio. The frame was to be presented to Landon after he won the election; however, Landon lost the election and the frame was returned to Newark and placed into storage at the factory.

Newark Mayor Jeff Hall and HCA President Sue Kilgore shared the ribbon-cutting honors.

The Krall Exhibition Cabinet

According to the archives, it was around this time that the Heisey Company was making plans for a promotional tour of major department stores of the North-east and Midwest, including the J. L. Hudson Company, whose flagship store in downtown Detroit was the tallest department store in the world until 1961. The tour was to feature the cutting and engraving of Master Artist Emil Krall. Hudson's agreed to share half of the expenses of Krall's appearances, which amounted to $100 weekly.

In December 1936, Krall designed a "shadow box" cabinet that could be entered from the rear. This cabinet was to display the Landon frame. It was crafted in the woodshop at the factory. The shelving was glass, and cut Heisey candlesticks were used as supports for the shelves. The center medallion was replaced by Krall with an engraving of the Santa Maria in full sail. The frame was fixed onto the front of the mirrored cabinet. A special lighting system surrounded the inside of the frame.

The cabinet displayed special Krall works of art, most one of a kind and obtained by special order only. The cabinet and its contents were insured for $15,000 -- a large sum in the midst of the Depression.

Newspaper accounts made much of this insurance, and the resulting publicity played up the value of the glass.

During one of these trips, the frame apparently slipped off a hand truck while it was being unloaded and was broken. Subsequently, Krall designed new mirrors with engravings of flowers for the sides of the cabinet; the engravings were done on glass that was later mirrored (silvered), and the center was one large glass surface.

According to Tim Heisey, several of the items on display in the cabinet were stolen at a stop in Chicago and never recovered.

One of the last appearances of the cabinet under the direction of the Heisey Company was in March 1939, when Miss Lucille Adkins in conjunction with the Newark Chamber of Commerce set up a display of the famous "Alfred M. Landon Showcase." This display included many of Krall's one-of-a-kind pieces from the Heisey Company archives.

The Long Journey Home

When the Heisey Company closed, the cabinet was sold along with the contents of the Heisey factory to Percy Moore in 1957. Moore featured it in his antique shop on Route 40 in Kirkersville, Ohio, until it was sold to a collector who moved it to Texas. In the early 1970s, these owners returned the cabinet to Newark and offered it for sale; however, they were unable to reach a satisfactory sales arrangement and the cabinet was returned to their home.

The cabinet was offered to the National Heisey Glass Museum in the summer of 2011, and subsequently was acquired. Funding support was received from The John and Mary Alford Foundation, The Energy Cooperative Round-Up Foundation, and The Rotary Club of Newark-Heath. The Alfred M. Landon Frame / Emil J. Krall Exhibition Cabinet are now a display component of the A. H. Heisey & Company Factory Room in Gallery I of the National Heisey Glass Museum.

There Is Still Time To Donate -

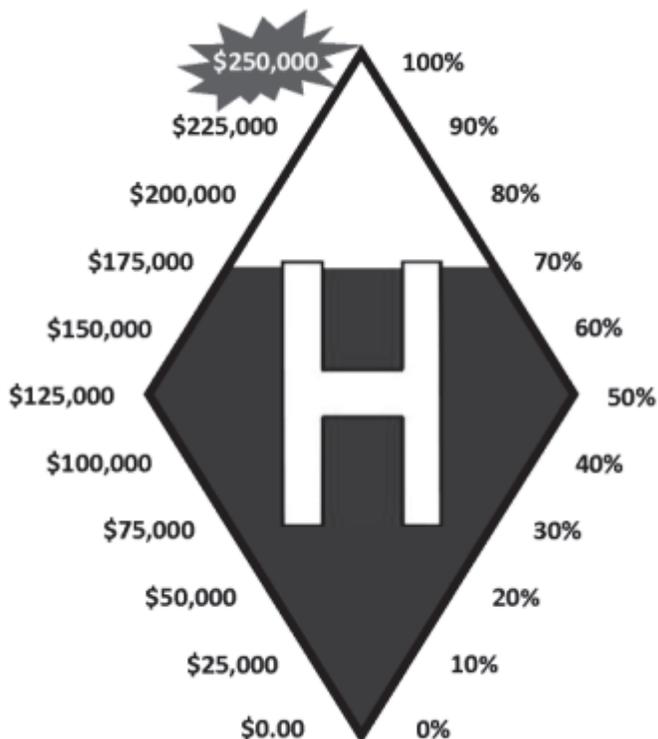

Endowment Fund Campaign Ends This Month

What a great convention!

The Endowment Brunch was fantastic. We had 97 people registered for the event, and while I do not have final details yet, we raised about $3,000. Big thanks goes to those who displayed glass: Emogene Shomaker, Dick and Ginny Marsh, Sid and Mary Edwards, Jack Metcalf, Dick and Marilyn Smith, the Vogel family, and Eric Tankesley-Clarke. Everyone truly enjoyed looking at the glass these people shared and it was the highlight of the event. Thank you also to Park National Bank for sponsoring the brunch, so most of the fees for the event went to the National Heisey Glass Museum Endowment Fund.

Watch our progress grow!

$172,671.91 raised
through Convention

Donations given to the Endowment Fund by study clubs and individuals at convention have been tallied. You can see from the Diamond H (pictured on this page) that we are close to $175,000. I know there are still donations from the month of June that have not been included in this number, so I am sure we are close to $185,000 or more. Staff has given me an initial figure, so everyone would have an idea where we are in reaching the $250,000. Every donation will be counted and matched by the Cochran Challenge. Individuals and clubs really dug deep into their pockets to lead the charge to make it to the $250,000 matching amount. Donations made at the business meeting included many "in memory of" and "in honor of" gifts. We can be proud about how members and friends of Heisey glass are working hard to raise this money for the Endowment Fund.

You still have an opportunity to make a donation. We are still not at our $250,000 match and have until July 31, 2012 to dig deep into our pockets one more time for one last donation. If you have not donated yet, please consider doing so right away. We do not want to let this opportunity of matching funds lapse without every donation possible. If 70 donations of $1,000 are given, we will meet our match. As they say, give more and give often.

We plan is to publish the final list of the donations toward The Gordon and Darlene Cochran National Heisey Glass Museum Endowment Matching Funds Challenge in October. Please have patience with us, as we are striving to have the list as accurate as possible.

Remember, it is all about our museum!

Calling All Collectors:

Limited Edition Glass Ornaments Offered

Imagine taking a piece of glass and turning it into a work of art. Sounds almost impossible when you stop to think about it, but that's just what Aidan Scully does.

Scully comes to America from Cork County Ireland, a place of rich farmland where abundant rivers flow. He has trained with some of the most renowned glass cutters in the world, including Edward Flavin, a Master Cutter for Waterford Crystal. Scully has put his talents to work as he has become a Master Brilliant cutter and designer. He has also learned the cutting styles such as Cameo, Brilliant, Venetian Mirror, and Intaglio. Scully worked as Head Cutter at the Killamey Crystall in Ireland for two years. He has had the honor of doing commissioned pieces for President Regan, President Clinton, Senator John Glenn, and Pope John Paul II.

Scully was kind enough to come to our convention, where he cut the first Limited Edition Heisey Glass Ornament, which is now a permanent display at the museum. The design for this ornament was inspired by cuttings on the Krall Cabinet. (A picture of the ornament appears on page 24.) During his demonstration, he answered many questions and kept us all enthralled by his work. As he cut these ornaments, it was announced that Ornament #2 would be signed and auctioned off at the Percy and Vivian Moore dinner in October. Ornament #3 was also signed and auctioned at the Banquet at the Moundbuilder's Country Club the Friday evening of Convention.

You, too, can own a piece of Heisey History! Additional ornaments -- all hand blown and hand cut here in the Buckeye State of Ohio -- will be created, with a guarantee of 300 ornaments. Prices are $30 each or four for $100, plus shipping; you can also pick them up at the Museum and save shipping costs. Don't miss out. . .they're going fast! Order yours today!

Following the brunch, the Study Club Meeting was held in Founders Hall of OSU-Newark. Several clubs made presentations. Earle Hart of the North Carolina Club is pictured top right. Sibyl Lavengood, also of the NC Club (pictured below center), presented a Queen Anne punch bowl in memory of Isabelle Gibbs. Isa Nelson of the Northwest Heisey Collectors Club is pictured below left. Sandy Dyer of the Heisey Club of California is pictured below right along with HCA President Sue Kilgore. Pictured below left are (left to right) Will Kennard, Tom Files, and Mary Cameron.

Adena Hall of OSU-Newark is a cavernous place, but it was filled to the brim during the three-day Glass Show & Sale, featuring Elegant Glass Dealers from across the United States.

While it's difficult to pick just one highlight of the convention, the Annual Banquet at Moundbuilders Country Club is certainly a focal point.

*Once dinner is finished and the drinks are refilled, the more lively portion of the Annual Banquet gets under way. Presentations come first, followed by the Live Auction.

The All Glass Flea Market on the Square is a beloved event that allows convention participants an opportunity to seek out treasures in the historical setting of the downtown Newark square. It's a leisurely way to spend the morning of the final day of convention.

Percy And Vivian Moore Memorial Dinner

Weekend Registration Deadline Nearing

Steak. Wild Kingdom. Warren Buffett. Heisey. It's all in Omaha, of course. Even Heisey? Yes, indeed, Heisey! The Great Plains Heisey Club is at it again. You came to Omaha in 2006 and loved it. Come and share our hospitality once again as we gather on September 7 & 8, 2012, to celebrate a Heisey Harvest and to honor that wonderful couple so instrumental in the early days of HCA: Percy and Vivian Moore.

Those folks at Gallup took a poll recently (the Gallup Organization is based in Omaha) and they found that 9 out of 10 HCA members had such a great time at the 2006 Percy and Vivian Moore Memorial Dinner in Omaha that they couldn't wait to come back. (That 10th HCA member was still in a sour mood over missing it the first time. He was drowning his sorrows in a bowl of Raisin Bran - invented in Omaha.)

Six years after we sowed the seeds, you can at last reap the rewards of anticipation by coming back to Omaha. Socialize at the Oak Hills Country Club Friday evening; regale others with tales of your own Heisey harvesting. Then enjoy a BBQ buffet and entertainment. Buffett may be from Omaha, but buffets are from - well, from somewhere else.

Saturday, prepare for a brunch at the home of Rex & Pat Lucke in nearby Elkhorn. Their magnificently displayed Heisey collection contains many choice items that you'll be hard-pressed to see anywhere else. If animals are your thing, if you've ever wondered in how many colors dolphin candlesticks can be found, if you have a special affection for baskets, or if you haven't seen any number of other fabulous Heisey pieces, you won't want to miss this top-notch array.

After 2 p.m., the afternoon is yours to forage on your own. Visit the home of Civil War veteran Gen. George Crook, another Ohio-to-Omaha transplant. Want a Reuben sandwich, just to tide you over for the afternoon? They were invented in Omaha and you can find one down in the Old Market and Wholesale District. Are you into trains? Make sure to see the Durham Museum in downtown Omaha or the Union Pacific Museum across the river in Council Bluffs; did you know the ski lift was invented for the Omaha-based Union Pacific Railroad? While touring around town, you might hear a Top 40 song on the radio. The idea of a Top 40 list? It's from Omaha.

Go to our website of www.greatplainsheiseyclub.org to find out about many more attractions, and anything else you will want to know about the weekend: schedule, registration forms, directions, etc. Just click on the link in the big box at the top.

Wrap up your Saturday afternoon in time to be back at the Oak Hills Country Club by 6 p.m. It's Omaha, so steak will be on the menu, with a chimichurri pork tenderloin alternative. (That was invented in Argentina. We had to give someone else a chance.) Got special dietary needs? Let us know so we can be ready for you. Swanson's invented TV dinners in Omaha, but we were pretty sure steak would be more popular. Duncan & Hines created the first cake mixes here, but your desserts will be made from scratch.

Now comes the time for the real harvest. After dinner will be the Best in Glass Heisey Auction. It's a cornucopia of opportunity for you, and it will all benefit HCA. If you really let your hair down during this auction, you can always put it back up with bobby pins - invented in, all together now, Omaha.

After the auction, dealers will be set up for a Heisey Mini-Glass Show (it's the show that's mini, not the glass). If you want to be one of those dealers, get your registration in early, because there is only so much space to go around. The show is limited to Heisey, Heisey by Imperial, and pieces out of Heisey moulds, so there is bound to be something worth gleaning to fill out your own collection. Who knows, you might find a piece of Cut Block that's a souvenir of the 1898 World's Fair, known as the Trans-Mississippi Exhibition. You can guess where that was: Omaha.

Mark your calendars now for September 7 & 8, 2012, for the Percy & Vivian Moore Memorial Dinner Weekend. You know where to be: Omaha.

Dear HCA Members:

"THANK YOU" for the honor of serving as your Board President for the last three years, and most especially for the support I received from so many. I will not be far away, as I am still on the board for two more years and will be serving as the membership chair. The current board is strong; the officers are excited about continuing the momentum that has been started and we look forward to receiving the help that all of you have been sending to the museum.

I have to say a special thank you to my husband, Dan, and to Phil & Sally Abrams and Sid & Mary Edwards for their support, encouragement and friendship.

I really appreciate all of you -- the membership -- and what you have done to help make HCA such a great group of people with a fabulous museum.

*Sincerely,
Sue Kilgore*

Fall Select Auction Taking Shape

I hope you are planning to come to Newark again this year for a wonderful FALL SELECT AUCTION. It is scheduled for the afternoon of Saturday, October 13, 2012, and will be located in the Museum's multipurpose room. This event is open to the public and hopefully those who come will come early enough to tour the museum and see our wonderful glass collection.

We have selected glass for the auction from our submitted lists, but have not yet inspected the glass. We should have nearly 200 lots of clean, damage-free Heisey glass for your buying enjoyment! As with the Spring (Benefit) Auction, all net proceeds go 100% to support the Museum.

We are also planning to have a late Saturday morning activity at the museum -- a glass show/flea market! Michael Maher of the local Buckeye Heisey Collectors' Club has agreed to be the organizer/contact person for this event; hopefully, folks will be setting up and selling Heisey and other glass in our museum parking lot. Please contact Michael at (740) 763-4256 if you are interested in being a part of the glass show/flea market. All space rentals/donations will go to the Buckeye Club, who will in turn contribute them all to HCA!

The September newsletter will include a listing of the Select Auction glass and other instructions, including absentee bid forms for use by those who can't make it to Newark. Hopefully, we can highlight our special pieces for auction in that issue. We also intend to have the information on the Heisey Glass Museum website.

Hope to see you there! Please come and plan to spend the day with us. . .and have a great time at your Museum!

Dave Spahr
HCA Auction Chair
