Curator's Report

Kathy McCracken

Despite the holidays, we have been busy here at the museum. We had many shoppers in to the Gift Shop in December, the last of the March Auction glass is arriving, and there were several more meetings of the Expansion Committee.

The plans of the Expansion Committee are taking shape quickly. On Friday, January 10 we held a news conference at 8:00 a.m. at the museum to announce expansion plans. The media, the mayor and other local officials, and representatives from the Chamber of Commerce, and other organizations attended. Sam Schnaidt presented an overview of HCA and our plans for expansion, the architects reviewed a basic floor plan and the drawings of the exterior, and Norm Thran, Charlie Wade, and Frank Frye described the fundraising program. It was an effective kick-off that will raise awareness of HCA and the role of the museum within the local community.

For me, one of the most important spin-offs of the meetings of the Expansion Committee is the discussion of other related issues such as advertising, tours, educational programming and volunteers. In some cases, I need to resume past efforts; in other cases, there are new activities I want to pursue. There is much work to be done this winter, when visitation is low, so that we will be ready for spring.

One immediate need is for a few additional volunteers on weekends. If you have a Saturday or Sunday to spare at least once a month, please contact either Susan or myself.

In other museum news, we have new letterhead which features the museum itself rather than just HCA. This is a new image and will be important in the future for identifying the organization and telling people what we do. It will emphasize our role as a broader educational organization, rather than simply a collector's club.

Heisey Historical Sites and Landmarks Tour

Emogene Shomaker

Under consideration for Convention 1992, is a tour of Heisey landmarks and points of interest. The tentative date for this event is June 17th. Although there will be no fee charged, we will accept donations to cover expenses. This tour would include a visit to the factory site and the Heisey homes. At the present time we are planning a drive-by type tour, accompanied by a brief history of each site. If enough interest is exhibited, an effort will be made to arrange with the present owners for the houses to be open. Therefore, if you are interested, please drop a note to: HCA Historical Sites Tour, 169 W. Church St., Newark, OH 43055. If you are interested in attending this tour, please let us hear from you soon.

March Benefit Auction Update

Jim Clark

For the first time, we have received auction glass in every Heisey color, including all the experimental colors! This should make for a very interesting auction. Thanks to all the volunteers who helped with the cataloging process. We can still use help during the auction. If you can help, please call me: Jim Clark (513) 845-9132.

The Benefit Auction List will be mailed as a separate issue of the Heisey News. This special issue will be mailed in mid February. It will include a list of all items which are scheduled to be sold. There will be a mail bid form. If you are planning to use the mail bid form please be sure to read the mail bidding instructions carefully.

Letter from the President

Dick Smith

The start of a new year is here. I hope we all strive to make this another positive and successful year. What makes HCA so great is the support of its members. You should all pat yourself on the back for a job well done. Let us continue this path of success. As members, we should always remember our purpose: preservation, education, collecting and study of Heisey Glass. We are an educational non-profit corporation, with our primary objective to establish and maintain a permanent museum for display and study of Heisey Glass.

The Expansion Committee has been working a lot of long and hard hours. We feel this is an important direction for the museum to go in. I want to thank Norm Thran, who is taking two months of his show schedule to direct the fund raising campaign. We have been getting several inquiries and we are trying to answer each and everyone on a personal basis, so I hope you will be patient with us.

The result of the letters sent to all voting members concerning Expansion is in. Of those who responded, 85% favor expansion, 14% oppose expansion, and 1% are undecided. The response was very good.

Keep in mind the expansion committee must generate all its own money for this project. Thus, not jeopardizing the existing museum. Therefore, a significant amount of this money must be raised before a shovel can be turned.

The Gold Series of animals should be finalized by the March Newsletter. We do know it will be limited to 450 sets, and will be made by Fenton. Watch your March newsletter for the formal announcement. Charlie Wade has more on the animals in his article on page 5.

The Cadillac Dinner details are on page 6. This should be a very exciting evening. Plan to attend.

The Expansion Committee is accepting donated glass to sell at the end of the Benefit Auction. All proceeds from this will go to the Building Fund. This is a good way to make a contribution to the Building Fund. You will be given a tax donation slip for 100% of the selling price.

Jim Clark has told me that there are some exciting pieces in the Benefit Auction. Plan to spend the weekend in Newark.

The Starlight Antique Show will be held on Sunday March 15. The following weekend, the All Heisey Show at Silver Spring, Md. will take place. These are both good shows. See the Calendar of Events, and the club ads.

HCA wishes to express our condolences to Lynne Sellers of Lorain Ohio, on the death of her husband Lou. Lou passed away on November 13, 1991. The Sellers have been long time members of HCA and have exhibited at Convention Show since 1984. Due to Lou's illness, they had to cancel plans for last years convention. Lou will be missed by all his Heisey friends.

A special thanks to all the volunteers who helped out during the past month.

I ask you to patronize the dealers who advertise in this newsletter. Their paid ads help defer some of the printing cost. Please see page 2 for the chart of new advertising rates which will go into effect beginning with the March issue. In addition to the new ad rates, a new deadline has been established. Please try to keep this in mind. NEW NEWSLETTER DEADLINE. ALL MATERIAL SUBMITTED FOR PUBLICATION MUST BE RECEIVED BY THE FIRST OF THE MONTH PRIOR TO THE MONTH OF PUBLICATION. e.g. material submitted for the April issue of the Heisey News must arrive by March 1st. Letters containing the new rates and guidelines, have been sent out to all advertisers who have advertised in the Heisey News over the last several months. Check page 2 for the new rates. If you would like to receive a copy of the advertising specifications, please write to: HCA Ad Specs., 169 W. Church St., Newark, OH 43055

Happy Valentines Day!

The Museum Expansion Committee Update

Bob Rarey, Recording Secretary

The Museum Expansion Committee continues to meet on a weekly basis and plans are progressing in an orderly manner. At the committee meeting on January 6, 1992, the committee had available the architects drawing of the front of the proposed expansion (pictured on the cover of this issue of the Heisey News). It blends beautifully with the HCA Museum and our neighbor to the south, The Licking County Historical Society's Sherwood-Davidson House Museum.

Frank Frye, Chairman of the Cadillac--Lincoln Dinner reports that the Grand Prize winner will receive a choice of either a new Cadillac or a new Lincoln car. A Las Vegas Night format will offer numerous other prizes. His report is included in this issue of the Heisey News.

Charlie Wade, Chariman of the Gold Animal Series reported his continuing conversations with Frank Fenton of the Fenton Art Glass Company. The proposed series of twelve animal figurines will be made in Fenton Rosalene, which contains gold. The molds are now at Fenton for making the sample run, after which the twelve animal figurines will be selected. The samples will be available for viewing at the March Benefit Auction and Quarterly Meeting. It was decided to limit the series to 450 sets, sales on a first come basis and a limit of five sets per individual. A detailed report will appear in the March issue of the Heisey News.

Norman Thran, Chairman of Direct Fund Raising, reported that of this date, January 6, 1992, he has received a 20% response to his letter to all voting members and 85% approval of the proposed plans. Voting members have responded with cash contributions, pledges and glass to be sold for the Expansion project. We thank you. A further update will appear next month.

Gold Animal Series Report

Charlie Wade

Plans are almost complete for this great series which will be announced in next month's newsletter, and other publications. We are currently waiting for Fenton to tell us which molds will work and which molds will not. However, I will guarantee you this will be a great collection to have. The color for the animals is Rosalene, and each animal will carry the set number on them assigned by HCA when the orders are received. The maximum number of sets that will be produced is 450. If we only receive orders for 200, we will only produce 200. All proceeds from the sale of the Gold Animal Series go to the Museum Expansion Fund.

We are very encouraged by the tremendous interest this project has generated throughout the glass collectors' field and expect a heavy demand for this collection. We thank you all for that. Be sure and read next months newsletter for all the ordering details, and please do no hesitate to order, as we feel this will be a sell-out!

No orders will be accepted until Tuesday March 3, 1992. If you have not received your newsletter by that date, be sure to call HCA on March 3, 1992 for details. Gold Animal Series Information: (614) 345-2932 or (614) 349-7672

Views From the Fundraiser:

Norman Thran, Fundraising Chairman

It has been said, more than once, a picture is worth a million dollars. The architects drawing on the cover of this issue shows the Phase I depiction of the Museum Expansion. What a beautiful addition this will be to our current museum. I personally like to refer to this as the Heisey Museum Complex. The Expansion Committee approved this and so did the Board of Directors at the December 1991 meeting.

I hope this issue covers what we have been doing and finally arrived at after eight plus months of meeting. With that said, I recognize that all will not understand it all and many questions will be forthcoming. We are ready and willing to work with all members to keep them as informed and updated as possible. We plan to continue monthly articles in the newsletter during all phases of the project: fundraising, construction, room layout and decorating of the new addition. You can write or call me anytime, or any member of the Expansion Committee or various subcommittees, (see the organization chart on page 7) with your questions. Yes, the commitment is large and the volunteers are committed to making this a show place all members and visitors alike will be proud of. The task at hand is to raise $350,000.00. Some will ask, how are we going to do this?

Let's take a look at how we plan to fund the expansion:

- Membership support - voluntary pledges and donations direct telephone campaign direct mailing
- Foundation/Corporation - direct and personal solicitation
(similar to the mould fund project)
- Cadillac-Lincoln dinner - open to anyone 200 tickets maximum
- Gold Animal Series - open to any collector
450 Limited Edition sets
- Donated Heisey glass - 100% donation to building fund
- Other items/projects - all other type items sent for donations to this fund will be accepted and auctioned at a later date.

How can you help? To begin with, support the project and the volunteers, who will work even harder as demonstrated in the mould fund drive, when you the membership get behind a project.

To date, over $15,000.00 in cash has been donated and $2,500.00 pledged. We are hard at work preparing the telephone campaign and other plans and by the time you read this, some of you will have heard from us. Hope you all get behind this expansion like you did with the moulds and original museum. I was amazed during the Mould Fund Drive, at the efforts many put into the project and have the same vision for this project. Maybe we all should look more to the future and examine the potential this expansion has for our great museum and organization.

Next month a Museum Expansion Chronology will be prepared for your review, as well as an update on the drive and various projects. Till next month, let us hear from you with your support and or ideas, as well as questions.

Club Notes

22 Northwest Heisey Collectors Club Nancy Alderson, Secretary

The Northwest Heisey Collectors Club will be celebrating 15 years as a study club chartered by Heisey Collectors of America, Inc. This special event will be held Saturday, June 6, 1992 in Renton, WA.

Former members interested in attending may do so by writing to Nancy Alderson, 24846 13th Ave. So. Des Moines, WA 98198 or by calling (206)824-7946. We would appreciate hearing from you as soon as possible, but no later than May 1, 1992.

The National Capital Heisey Collectors Club From the January 1992 issue Heisey Herald Chris Maskaleris, President

Our holiday fun started with our club party at the library. The food was delicious and the tables looked very festive. Our zany game was, as usual, lots of fun.

Our 20th All Heisey Show is not too far away, March 21 and 22, and we will need help. Call Jim Jones to sign up to volunteer.

Now with a return to our meeting day, the 2nd Monday of the month, I hope to see more of you there. We have missed you. Here's wishing you a Happy New Year.

#41 Yankee Heisey Club Betty Bean, Secretary

The regular meeting of YHC was held on November 4, 1991. After the business meeting we heard the report of the Show Committee on our first show, which was held on September 28 & 29 in Sturbridge, MA. It was a great success and members voted to have another in September, 1992. Special thanks were given to Co-Chairmen Jim Houghton and Tim Rector, for a superb job. Show & Tell was followed by a program on cruetts. We are looking forward to our Christmas party hosted by Sylvia and Bill Stickney.

Our next regular meeting will be on January 7, 1992, at the home of Don and Betty Bean in Milford. The theme will be Heisey animals.

We were pleased to have Gayle Edger as a guest and even more pleased that she wishes to join YHC!

Heisey Candlesticks -- #1510 Square on Round
by Tom Felt

I doubt if we'll ever be able to say that we know everything there is to know about Heisey--and that's certainly true of the candlesticks. So when the HCA received a letter from Hazel LaBroad saying that she had found a candlestick which appeared to be very similar to Heisey's #1510, but which was unmarked, I had little doubt that she had found yet another new one. After all, Hazel and her late husband Fred put together one of the most complete collections of Heisey candlesticks that I'm familiar with, and there are few people more likely to be able to recognize a previously unknown variant.

Hazel very kindly sent the candlestick to Newark in June so that I could share it at the identification breakfast. (That's the trick to sounding knowledgeable--bring at least one piece that you already know something about!) Photograph #1 is Hazel's candlestick and photograph #2 compares the arms on her candlestick with the previously known version. As you can see, the only difference between them is that the variant's arms are completely plain, whereas the other rendition has a rather awkward design added.

It's possible the mold drawings could shed some light on which version came first, but I think it's pretty likely that the one with plain arms was the original design. This is one of the most difficult of the late candlesticks to find in crystal, but the few I have seen have all had the more ornate arms; in addition, all of the #1510's I have seen in Dawn (which, believe it or not, are easier to find than the Crystal ones), also have the same arms. The Dawn candlesticks are known to be later in production than the Crystal ones, so it seems almost certain that the variant must have been the original design, at some point modified early in its manufacture.

According to the available turn books, this candlestick was first made in February 1950, but with only 15 produced. In March, another 42 were reported and then there is a gap until November when 198 were produced. There are a couple of inferences that can be arrived at from this data. First of all, the two small initial turns probably mean that there were problems encountered. The seven month hiatus after that would then have been a time during which modifications to the design to make it more workable would have been under consideration.

If it is assumed that the original problem was with the arms, it may be that adding the design to them disguised some potential flaw. (The modification may have been on purely aesthetic grounds, of course, but I rather doubt it, and that wouldn't explain the small initial turns.) Under this scenario, the November production would have been from the recut mold.

Another confusing factor, however, is a list dating from January 1950--a month before the original 15 candlesticks were made--which included this candlestick among other "Miscellaneous new and reinstated items." That at least implies the possibility that some samples may have been made before the February turn.

As mentioned above, approximately 127 pairs of these candlesticks were made in 1950, with no further production during the first three months of 1951. Unfortunately, we don't have turn books for the remainder of 1951 or 1952, so it is hard to know how many more may have been made, but their scarcity today suggests that few more, if any, were produced. A list of "Items discontinued," dated January 8, 1953, officially marks the end of production for this candlestick. Sometime in 1955 it was returned to the line, but in Dawn only, as an addition to the #1632 Lodestar pattern.

Incidentally, both the pattern number and name of this candlestick might need some explanation. #1509 Queen Ann had been advertised as new back in August 1938 and #1511 Tourjours was introduced in July 1939, so one would expect pattern #1510 to have been issued sometime between those two dates. In fact, it apparently was, but only as a 3-3/4 inch ashtray. Twelve years later, when this ashtray was reissued, two additional sizes were also made and at the same time, Horace King used its basic design to create an 11-1/2" floral bowl, to which he added his own original conception for a candlestick. The ashtray and floral bowl are square in shape, with round bases; hence the name which collectors have given this pattern. The candlestick, as you can see, doesn't really share these motifs, being more like a star or, most likely, a stylized flower, since there are "petals" just above the base.

All of the candlesticks I have seen with the decoration on the arms have been marked with the Diamond H on one of these petals; the variant is not marked at all.

It's almost Valentine's Day and I'm remembering how it was back in the 1940's when I was in grammar school. The teacher brought in a fairly large box and we covered it with red and white crepe paper and decorated it with hearts. What a pretty sight, a Valentines Mail Box in which we children placed all our Valentine cards. What fun it was, delivering mail to each of our schoolmates. At the end of the day we each had a shoe box full of cards and goodies to take home.

Speaking of goodies, The Amicable Stroller discovered a vase and the footed compote in #451 Cross-Lined Flute. This pattern is usually signed and fairly rare. It is a short pattern group, produced from 1916-1934. Was also known in Vaseline as well as Crystal.

The Rebel discovered a #337 cologne with gold decoration and perfect dauber; an Apple marmalade in the #337 Touraine pattern. Touraine is plain but most attractive, Crystal only, it sometimes has a wide gold or green band. He also has the small Revere horsehead cigarette box. But I believe his greatest discovery was the #433 Greek Key miniature ice tub/underplate.

The Benevolent Philosopher shared his collection of #150 Banded Flute with his club members. This must not be confused with #150 Pointed Oval in Diamond Point. The patterns are completely different. Banded Flute was produced from 1907 - 1932, a very popular pattern always signed with a large Diamond H in Crystal. Quite a large pattern group. The pieces shown on this particular night were owned by The Benevolent Philosopher and The Energetic Countess. Let me share a few discoveries with you: cake salver, punch cup, punch bowl, 1 quart jug (the jugs are found 1/2 pint to 6 pints); the night set, consisting of tray, water carafe, candlestick and match holder. Although Vogel said that Banded Flute came in Crystal only, it has been discovered that it does indeed come in Flamingo and Moongleam. The tray in 10". Examples of both colors were displayed. Beautiful!! There are no cups and saucers or dinner plates in this pattern.

Tell me Farmer what did you discover? #341 Puritan 2-1/2 oz sherry-straight; #341 Puritan 3 oz cocktail; #347 Colonial 3 oz low footed sherbet, flared, #100 Centennial 1-lite stick with #741 Chantilly cutting; #1404 Old Sandwich candlestick, Crystal and the #352 Flat Panel Lavendar jar.

The Compassionate Beaver discovered the Greek Key crushed Fruit minus the lid, oh well, something to hint for. By the way Beaver, thanks a hundred times over for my great coffee can, Love it!

The Flea Combers have been Heisey club members for many years and have some very note worthy finds. All discoveries are worthy. Unearthed was a Heisey Scotty, (this goes with her daughters real live one) and a pair of Twist candesticks in Flamingo. The Steadfast Colleague reports two #3380 Old Dominion D/O champagnes in Sahara along with the #1205 Fancy Loop individual sugar in Emerald.

Remeber, I need your input. Write to me C/O HCA or, Janet Caswell, 90 Fremont St., Winthrop, MA 02152

Salt and Pepper Shakers of Heisey's Major Patterns by Christos Maskaleris

From the Heisey Herald, January 1992

From the beginning of glass making, Heisey made salt and pepper shakers. Salt and pepper shakers were made in many shapes, sizes, and colors, trimmed with many decorations, etchings and cuttings.

There were 52 major Heisey patterns which included salt and pepper shaker. Not included in this number are patterns with fractional numbers: 300-1/2, 1205-1/2, 1469-1/2 and 1503-1/2. Many of the patterns had shakers made in more than one size or shape. The earlier patterns were usually the ones with more than one kind of shaker. Peerless #300-1/2 had an additional three different kinds of shakers of its own, making a total of seven different shaker types produced in the Peerless pattern. Medium Flat Panel #353 had a shaker called a "Combination salt and pepper shaker". The name would imply that both salt and pepper could spout out together from one top. Since I have never seen one or found any other information outside of the catalog picture, I cannot provide any details on how it worked.

All shakers were produced in Crystal, and most of the early patterns were also produced in Custard, Opal and Emerald. Locket on Chain #1260, was also made in Vaseline. On order, shakers were provided with applied gold, red, green, floral and other colored trim and decorations. Cuttings and etchings were also available on shakers. Again starting in the twenties, and continuing until Heisey closed many shakers were made in color. Empress #1401 shakers were produced in the most colors: Flamingo, Moongleam, Marigold, Sahara, Alexandrite, Cobalt, and Tangerine.

Crystolite #1503-1/2 and Ridgeleigh #1469-1/2 can be found in a yellow color similar to Sahara and were made by the Bryce Glass Company and marked with a B in a Diamond. The Heisey Company loaned the molds to Bryce to produce the shakers in the Bryce yellow colors.

Orders were taken for: (1) shaker bodies only, (2) shakers with tops, and (3) tops only. Shakers were available with many types of tops. Heisey offered the following tops during its lifetime: Four types of sanitary tops, glass tops, plastic tops, chrome plated tops, silver plated tops, nickel silver plated tops, sterling plated tops, spun nickel tops, white metal heavy silver plated tops, and salt proof tops non-corrosive metal.

Heisey produced shakers in fifty-two major Heisey patterns. They came in ninety-eight different shapes and sizes, and in at least fifteen different colors and with numerous decorations, cuttings and etchings. Heisey also supplied shaker blanks to many outside glass and decorating companies who cut, etched and decorated them with their designs for further utilization and sale.

Heisey Musings

Carl Sparacio

Sometimes we find Heisey in the strangest places. Recently a piece turned up in an Antiques shop near home.

I'm not being cute. I'm talking about an honest to goodness Antiques shop with a capital A and a whole lot of curlicues. The kind of place where a chair gets floor space only if Marie Antoinette left her imprint on it. A shop where they don't know from Hummels and, as far as they're concerned, a Gene Florence could be part of the Italian DNA code.

This shop is near our house but it's not the kind of place you visit on a weekly basis to monitor the latest flea market and garage sale imports. They offer furniture and object d'art from Louis I, II and III all the way up to Louies in the high teens. As for Americana-they condescend to Tiffany but Stickly and Shaker pieces might easily be used for firewood.

The name of the place is "L'Eglise" which may tell you something but leaves me in the dark. Dark is also what it is inside. The walls and ceilings are black. The only illumination is from a network of invisible black tracks holding tiny spotlights aimed at antiques displayed as sacred icons. Walking in from the bustle of a busy shopping street is akin to a religious experience.

As noted, it's not on our regular antiquing route. We go once a year because they put up a display of Christmas trees modestly described in a brochure as tres joli. That's French and, as near as I can make out, it means, "jolly trees." The trees are decorated in assorted themes and schemes and the decorations are for sale. You don't find these decorations at Santa Land out on the highway. If I treat myself to one ornament I've blown the Christmas decorating budget for the entire season.

We made our annual visit to admire the holiday trees this Christmas just past. The trees were scattered throughout the shop between the antique tables and chairs (none of which match) and armoires to tall to fit in a normal room. Every authenticated table, chair and open drawer held the kind of decorative items, you'd expect to find in a Christie's or Sotheby's catalog.

As I stepped from the main room into a small alcove, my eye caught a familiar sparkle on a small table. The table was draped in black and nestled against a tree decorated in shades of purple and gold with just a splash of puce. Outshining the tree was the unmistakable glow of a bright, shimmering hunk of Heisey glass. A masculine piece. Specifically, a #352 Flat Panel two quart crushed fruit. Talk about serendipity!

The no nonsense crushed fruit jar was artistically displayed on a piece of crumpled silk which echoed the designer colors of the nearby tree. It glistened among delicate inlaid and filigreed french bric-a-brac. The large Heisey jar looked as out of place as a bare-chested Arnold Schwarzenegger in tutu.

I confess that my first reaction was crass: Ha, these people don't know from Heisey. This could be the mother of all sleepers—it'll be like taking candy from a baby. I lifted the lid to get a look at the price tag. "NINE HUNDRED AND SEVENTY FIVE DOLLARS!" I gasped too loud for the subdued atmosphere.

"Shush", scolded my wife.

"You can't whisper $975.00," I protested, "$97.50 possible, and $9.75 definitely, but not NINE HUNDRED AND SEVENTY FIVE DOLLARS!"

"You're doing it again," she hissed between clenched teeth. Almost instantly and without a sound one of the proprietors was at my side (I suspect there was a silent alarm in the lid still held in my hand).

"Ah," he said, "Are you familiar with Heisey?"

"Yes, I mumbled, then shuffled and blushed like a kid who had been found out.

We stood in silence staring at each other. I knew he wasn't waiting for me to ask, "What's your best price?" but it took a minute to realize he was waiting for me to replace the lid. I put it back slowly so as not to make a clink, and, without another word, he turned and left. I swear I heard the sound of TV surveillance cameras starting their sweep but my wife says it was my imagination. From now on I stick to flea markets. At least they're free of culture shock. To this day it bugs me. I wonder if perhaps they know something I don't know.

Maybe Florence put out a new price guide on Glamorous Glass of the French revolutionary Era and I missed it.

I wonder, too, if just maybe they did have a best price.

History Rich Licking County

Susan Pennington

Long before the glass industry came to the Licking County area, the area was rich with history. The ancient flint quarries located east of Newark at Flint Ridge, were used by prehistoric indians throughout the north American continent to obtain fine quality flint for the making of arrowheads. Some of the most impressive prehistoric indian mounds in the world, are located right here in Newark, OH. The starting point for the construction of the Ohio Erie Canal was located in Newark's "Sister city", Heath. The Inter Urban electric trolley which traveled from Zanesville to Newark at the turn of the century is a noteworthy bit of local history. And, certainly not the least important, is the history of the glass companies who made Licking County their home. Heisey Collectors and Newark residents alike, know that the A. H. Heisey & Co. was located here in Licking County. The silica in the area surrounding the Ohio River made for good glass making sites. The availability of petroleum products was also a plus. It is not surprising that many famous glass companies were located in relatively close proximity with one another. Besides the Heisey Company, Newark was home to several other glass companies.

The company which was Heisey's next door neighbor, Holophane, is still in operation and they remain in the same location. The site on which the Owens Corning Fiberglass plant is located, was originally known as the Everett Glass Company. The company produced glass containers. Mr. Everett's home was located on the corner of Everett Ave, and Buena Vista St. In the early 1900's, Mr. Everett donated this property to the City of Newark for a hospital site. A.H. Heisey was a major contributor to this project. The city did in fact build a hospital on this site. However, years later it was torn down. Newark resident, Curtis W. (Bud) Abbott, has just published a book about The Everett Glass Company called The Bottle King.

Locals will remember the floods of 1990. We experienced not one, but several floods. Over near the old Everett Glass plant, an entire hill side was washed away as the result of a severe storm. Unearthed by the force of the rains were the remains of an old dumping place. Of course, the only items remaining were those things made of glass. Many medicine bottles, some in colors and some with embossed writing were uncovered. I was even lucky enough to find a Noonan shaving mug. Heisey made these mugs for the Noonan Company and they are not marked. We have one of these mugs on display here at the museum, but I must tell you that the one I dug out of the mud is in better shape! Due to the fact that someone tossed it in the dump, it never became worn by the stiff shaving brush used to mix the shaving cream in the mug.

The Everett sand quarry was located near the Licking River and also near the railroad. Today the old railroad bed is the bike path along Black Hand Gorge. One can still take a side trail back to the quarry. The beautiful white sand is still there in abundance. The blue water filled pit is evidence of the fact that many a load of sand came out of that quarry. Perhaps some of the sand used by the Heisey Company came from this quarry. Last summer when the water was low, my husband and I took a canoe ride on the Licking River. We put in at Black Hand Gorge, and canoed towards Newark. (The name Black Hand Gorge comes from indian folk lore. It seems that there was a black hand drawn on the side of the gorge, which pointed the way to Flint Ridge. As ancient indians made their way down the Licking River, the black hand would guide them in the right direction. Supposedly, when blasting was done in the area, to make way for the railroad, the black hand on the cliff was destroyed.) Along the banks of the Licking River, outcropping of natural clay dotted the landscape. The fine white silica appeared in patches along the banks. Because of the severe drought, we were eventually forced aground. As we hiked in the dry river bed. Fossils, and glass shards of all types could be seen scattered over the river bed. One could only imagine how many pieces of Heisey were tossed nonchalantly into the river. Being the scavenger that I am, I picked up several interesting glass shards which had been worn smooth over the years.

Beyond the auctions and flea markets in the area, Heisey creeps in to the culture more than one realizes. It is fortunate that those who had the foresight to see the need for the original museum, acted on their vision.

Our ancient mounds are being preserved as a State Park, the flint quarry at Flint Ridge has become a State Park as well.. In recent years, Black Hand Gorge has become a State Nature Preserve. Our own Licking County Historical Society is in the process of a campaign to save a historic local Clydesdale horse barn.

Future generations will benefit from those who had the foresight to preserve and protect our past.

Over the years many HCA members have contributed hundreds of articles on the subject of Heisey Glass to The Heisey News. These contributions have provided invaluable information to Heisey Collectors throughout the country. We would like to take this opportunity to thank the members who have written articles. TABLE TALK

we're glad to be back again

Here it is - the new TABLE TALK, geared to serve your interests as a Heisey dealer. And frankly, we're glad to be back with you after an absence of several years.

We promise that TABLE TALK will not be a means of merely ringing our own bell (pattern No. 3408) but a streamlined clearing house of practical, helpful ideas and news you'll want to read.

There will be feature articles called "Crystal Gazing" (see page 6) written by prominent merchandising and style authorities. You'll find suggestions for promoting, advertising, and selling Heisey handmade crystal, plus current information on the production situation.

We want you to have a part in TABLE TALK too—it's your magazine! So please send us your ideas, criticism, news, and photos pertaining to selling and merchandising Heisey glassware. We hope you'll like TABLE TALK!

We Pay Tribute to

Clyde S. Whipple who passed away in California last January, after more than 35 years as a Heisey representative. He joined us as Southern representative in 1906, holding this position until 1922. Sixteen years later he took over the California territory, retiring in 1943.

Albert W. Baumgardner who joined us in 1940, covering our Southwest territory with headquarters in Kansas City, Mo. He was serving this section when stricken in February.

A. H. Heisey & Co. honors these two fine men, whose friendship and capabilities will not be forgotten by ourselves or by their host of friends in the trade.

Estelle Schaefer

GUEST EDITOR Estelle Schaefer drew from a wealth of experience when she wrote the pointed article on "coordinating, displaying, and selling glassware" which appears on page 6 under the heading "Crystal Gazing".

Mrs. Schaefer began her career in the china, glass, and pottery business with Fred Reimer, New York, and was associated with that firm from 1919 to 1923. She served as a New York market representative from 1923 until 1940. Then she became New York buyer and market representative for Allied Stores, acting ably in this capacity ever since.

During the war years, Mrs. Schaefer contacted virtually all the principal ceramic factories. She has done much to set the styles and establish new ideas in the china, glass, and pottery fields.

Scruggs-Vandervoort-Burney, St. Louis, Mo., recently featured Heisey Candelabra, describing them as "A Decorator's Dream." Here's a simple—but effective—display!

NEWARK, OHIO

January 12, 1952

To Heisey Dealers in the South from your Salesman.

Dear Friends:

You are cordially invited to see NEW Heisey items, place your orders or just browse around at our Exhibit to be open at the ATLANTA SHOW:

Sunday, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, January 20 to 23.
Ansley Hotel
Rooms 304 and 306

Features of the display will include Sultana color for Cabochon tumblers...new and re-instated hand-cast patterns...new steamware in Orchid and Plantation Ivy etchings...additional pieces in Old Williamsburg...two stunning soda lines...plus several new cuttings.

Regular patterns will also be represented, and an order form is enclosed to facilitate your stock count before the show and your ordering when you come to Atlanta.

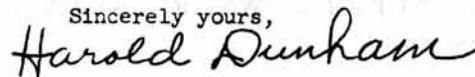

I'll want to see you if you get to the show, because you treated me so royally on my first trip that I count you as friends I want to see again. I really appreciated your "Southern Hospitality" and your Heisey orders, not to mention the fine way you do business.

Here are a few little sales tips picked up from you folks on my first trip. I hope the exchange proves profitable:

To boost the sale of glass plates, refer to them as "sherbet plates," rather than just "plates." This suggests the use of the saucer champagne or sherbet with a glass plate...To sell more juice glasses suggest their use as parfait glasses...To help sell more dinnerware, recommend two sets--china and breakfast earthenware...To increase display space, mount a shelf (6 to 8 inches wide) at the top of wall display cases, just above head height parallel to the counters. I'll send a photo of this one upon request.

With very best wishes for a prosperous New Year,

Sincerely yours,

Harold J. Dunham
