As I am writing to you, I have just been informed that this year's auction was a success, beating last year's totals. To all of you who helped in any way, my sincere thanks. To this year's chairman, Bob Rarey, our sincere thanks for a job well done.

At the present time, there is probably three old-time sayings that could be used with our postage situation: 1. If it ain't broke, don't fix it; 2. A finely tuned machine runs the longest and gets the best mileage; and finally, 3. The best laid plans of mice and men. To start at the beginning for anyone who came in late, the Executive Committee investigated an offer from a professional graphic and design company to lay out the Newsletter. Part of their proposal was a change in postage, as they felt we were wasting the club's money by sending the Newsletter first class. After reviewing their proposal, the Executive Committee felt there was no savings in having the Newsletter put together by them. However, the postage was a concern to us all, as we felt obliged to pursue this issue if the members' money was being wasted. Several meetings were held with our printer and all findings were turned over to the Board for their review. The Board voted to try a first class bulk rate mailing, realizing that the money saved with the postage would ensure that the monthly payment on our $75,000 loan consolidation would be met. When given this motion from the Board, our printer assumed that we meant "bulk rate," (and so did I, since that was his original suggestion). After one mailing at the bulk rate, the Executive Committee was not satisfied. After looking into the matter further, we discovered two items:

1. There was a postage available to us if we would guarantee X number of mailings per year, X number of pieces per year, and do the presorts. Because of this, the cost would be less, yet the Newsletter would be handled the same as first class.

2. At the same time it was discovered our printer's computerized mailing list of club members who receive the Newsletter had 200 errors in names and addresses.

Liz Stickle, Jeannie Cullison and several volunteers worked many long, hard hours to rectify this list. We don't know what happened originally, but we do know that there is a good system of checks and balances in place today. The above is the biggest reason we all were late in receiving our December Newsletter, as we felt it best to have a good list rather than mail another bad one out.

At the December Board Meeting, the Board decided to stay at the bulk rate until the second class permit was granted. The post office informed us if we returned to first class before going to second class, we would not be eligible for any discounts awarded between the bulk rate and second class postage. The post office also said that we should have the permit within 30 to 45 days after we applied. Hence my column stating that the postage for February should be second class. Guess what... the best laid plans of mice and men, right?

At last contact with the postal department, we were told "it shouldn't be too long now." Several Board members are working daily on this issue - one through the department's Washington office and one through this end to find out exactly where we stand.

The Board feels that it owes you, the membership a fair trial at the second class postage rate. Please keep in mind that first class publications such as the Wall Street Journal, The Smithsonian, Tri-State Trader, Antique Review, Colonial Homes, etc., are mailed through second class postage permits. To those of you who we have inconvenienced or angered, you most certainly have our sincere apologies. And to the folks whose names had been inadvertently omitted from the old mailing list, our apologies also. Please remember our only goal was to fine tune!

Happy
Easter

Until next month,

Charlie

CANDIDATES ANNOUNCED

On Saturday morning, March 7 the quarterly meeting was held at the auction house just prior to the beginning of the auction. It was very short and the main business was the announcement by George Schamel, nominating chairman, giving the eight candidates, five of whom will be elected to the board in June. There were no nominations from the floor.

These names are placed in alphabetical order.

1. Lloyd Caswell - Incumbent, Massachusetts
2. Dan Glenn, Groveport, Ohio
3. Curtiss Guilmette, Michigan
4. Frank Harper, Wisconsin
5. Butch Jones, Incumbent, Maryland
6. Phyllis McClain, Newark, Ohio
7. Percy Moore, Incumbent, Newark, Ohio & Florida
8. Robert Rarey, Columbus, Ohio. Completing Ray Ziegler's unfinished term.

Robert McClain is not seeking reelection to the board.

Please take note of all of these names. Their pictures and resumes will be in the May issue. Since the deadline for this newsletter was March 10 we did not have time after the nominations on the 7th to get all of the pictures and resumes for this issue.

SEND FOR YOUR ABSENTEE BALLOTS

If you wish you can send for your absentee ballots anytime so that they will get here in plenty of time since the newsletter has been running late in some of your areas. They have to be requested by May 24th this year so this will give you plenty of time.

HAVE YOUR NEWSLETTER BOUND

Please remember to bring or send your newsletters to the Heisey Museum so that Bob Rarey can have them bound for you.

These are done in fine library quality in blue with gold lettering. The cost is $19.00 per book which is two year's newsletters. If you have the early ones to have bound 1972-73 and 74 will go in one book. From 1975 through 1986 two year's newsletters fit in one book. Please include $3.00 for return shipping and handling.

Have all your newsletters in date order and remove all staples before sending.

This offer has not been made since 1982 so you should have enough for 2 books if you had them done before. 1983-84 and 1985-86.

We do have the index which we can furnish if you don't have it yourself.

Also we have newsletters, Volumes V and Volumes VIII through XV at $9.00 per volume as well as single copies at $1.25 each.

If you have them all you will have seven beautiful books, and well worth the price..

NOTICE OF PROPOSED CHANGES TO THE BY-LAWS OF HEISEY COLLECTORS OF AMERICA, INC.

In accordance with Article IX, Section 1, of the Constitution of Heisey Collectors of America, Inc., this is notice to you as a voting member of said organization that at the regular quarterly meeting to be held at Newark, Ohio on June 21, 1987, the following addition to said By-laws recommended by the Board of Directors at a meeting held March 7, 1987, will be submitted to the voting membership for approval or disapproval.

BY-LAWS ARTICLE XII

COMPLAINTS FROM MEMBERS

Section 1. All complaints from voting and non-voting members shall be in writing and be directed to the Executive Committee for appropriate review and action if needed.

Section 2. Such complaints shall be considered at the next regular or special meeting of the Executive Committee scheduled after receipt of such complaint.

Section 3. The Executive Committee may request a personal appearance of the complainant, but such complainant may not demand such personal appearance.

Section 4. If it appears desirable or necessary to do so, the Executive Committee may refer the complaint for the review and consideration of the Board of Directors at its next quarterly meeting.

Section 5. Complaints from the membership will all be directed and considered pursuant to these provisions only.

By-Laws Chairman

From the Desk of the Director..

The 1987 Auction is history and it was really a success. Good things went well, commoner things went cheaper as they should. The Amber elephant handled mug went for $950, a good price for a very rare animal related item. You can write the prices printed on page 15, 16 and 17 on your original list from the newsletter and find out what everything sold for.

It was a lot of fun and between 75 and 80 of us went to the Newark Best Western Inn for a delicious prime beef dinner on Saturday night. These dinners are marvelous places to get acquainted with everyone and they get bigger every year.

If the dinner that might is typical of the Best Western (formerly the Sheraton) you'll be happy with the banquet at Convention.

The information about the Convention will be in next month's issue. If you are afraid the Heisey News won't get there in time, send a large SASE and we'll send you the registration form as soon as it is ready.

When writing your ads put them in the same format as those in your newsletters. When they are all the same they are easier to read and to type. Please remember that there is no such word as sherbert. The word is sherbet. Cocktail is another word often misspelled. Lots of people forget the k.

Some of you have asked if the fact that the newsletter is later had anything to do with Sam having stopped putting his auction lists in Heisey News. No, it didn't. He had already told us he was going to start doing his own catalogs long before we ever changed to the bulk rate. He felt it would be cheaper for him if he just put in a one page ad and have the service of sending you his lists, and then, later the prices realized. Subscribe to his service and you will get these for every auction.

Can you imagine that there have probably been as many as 75 All-Heisey Auctions here in Newark in the past 16 years? Do you know of any other glass that can claim that fame?

Viking is still not working. They will have to rebuild the furnace or put in a new one before they get back to work. Then it will be an entirely different kind of operation.

I don't remember whether we announced that West Virginia Glass turned off its furnaces on November 26th.

L. E. Smith Glass Co. which was owned by Owens-Illinois was sold on Dec. 31 to Michael D. Carbow and Associates of Uniontown, PA. We have heard that this is a cement company.

Dominick Labino, a very famous artist in glass, died on January 10 in his home in Grand Rapids, Ohio. Labino was probably the finest glass artist in the country for many, many years.

Tickets to the 200 Dinner are selling fast. In fact only 40 are left to sell. If you want more information, please write. It certainly appears that this will be a success. Members of H.C.A. will be cooking and serving the dinner. It is another pork roast and the meat is being donated again by Keith Bradbury, vice president and treasurer of Bob Evans Farms.

1987 OSCARS

We are sorry that the Oscars have not yet arrived at the date this newsletter goes to press. You need not call us because we have all of the labels made and will ship them just as soon as they arrive. We expected them sooner but they just have not been completed yet.

We did get a small number but the decision was made by the board not to send any out until all are here, so that no one will get upset about it.

We think they are very pretty and hope that all of you think so, too. Thank you for your patience!

'MODERATE' LIVING STANDARD FOR CITY FAMILY OF FOUR CALLS FOR $9,191

The big gap that exists between a "moderate living standard" for a family of four and the annual income of the average American worker is strikingly illustrated by a cost study made by the U.S. Department of Labor in urban areas during the fall of 1966.

This showed that it cost a family consisting of husband, wife, boy of 13 and girl of 8, $9,191 in metropolitan areas and $8,366 in smaller cities. As of that period the average factory production worker with a wife and two children had an average annual income of $5,927.

The story today is even worse. While a factory production worker's wages have gone up about fifty cents a week since last autumn, his buying power has gone down $1.58 a week over the same period.

The U.S. Department of Labor, in making public its figures was careful to state that the "moderate living standard" budget was based "on the manner of living and consumer choices in the 1960s."

"Many families can and do spend less than the total amount specified in this budget without feeling deprived and without impairing their health or their ability to contribute constructively to our society," the study said.

The total annual cost of the budget ranged from $7,855 in small Southern cities to $11,190 in Honolulu. On the mainland the cost of the budget was highest in the New York-New Jersey area where it was in the $10,000 range and lowest in Austin, Texas where it dropped to $8,000.

Goods and services in family living came to an average of $7,329 and accounted for about 80 percent of the total budget cost. They included food, housing, transportation, clothing, personal care, medical care and other items used in family living. These costs were about $795 higher in metropolitan areas than in smaller cities.

LETTERS, we get letters....

I notice an item from "The Heisey Glass Newscaster" referring to my wife, Kay, and myself.

I should like to respond by saying that I am still "vociferously" defending HCA. Further, I would "vociferously" defend the work and the continuing dedication of Louise Ream.

I would also like to point out that Louise Ream was never the person that demanded the existence of two forms of membership in HCA. This was the decision of the Board of Directors.

Further, it would be interesting that if one examines literally dozens of non-profit organizations such as HCA, they will commonly note that there are voting and non-voting members who are designated sometimes as active and passive members and other designations, but with the same effect.

The practical reasons for this are almost too numerous to mention, but it is rather elementary to note that in an organization in excess of three to four thousand members scattered in all of the states, that many members simply want to be members to receive the publication of the Club, but do not feel that they are in a position to vote or to even know people who are running for various offices.

Its Monday and we finished the Alexandria, LA show yesterday. It was good for the way the economy is here.

I think we educated $\frac{1}{2}$ the town. Most people had never seen Heisey and if they had they thought the Colonial patterns was it.

The news media was impressed and ran a nice article and many people came to see it. No one knew how to pronounce it.

We gave out most of the brochures - won't have any for Chalmette, but, John Willoughby has the people educated down there.

You never heard so many ohs and ahs over the Alexandrite. The "lacy edge" etching mentioned in the article was the orchid. The lighting was terrible so they really didn't see the real Alexandrite.

I am sending you the news article. It took me by surprise when someone said it was in the paper. I couldn't remember what I had said because I was busy unpacking and didn't know she was going to put it in the paper.

Thought you would be interested.

A. H. HEISEY & COMPANY - A CHRONOLOGY

Part 11, 1943-1949

By Tom Felt

1943 - March. No. 1559, Columbia was shown.

May. "Wartime Salesman" ordergrams¹ were issued for Heisey's four major production lines during the war years: Crystolite, Lariat, Orchid Etching, and Gift Items (which included the animals).

September. Working with the Frankford Arsenal, it was announced that Heisey had developed a new form of glass gauge for measuring the accuracy of interior and exterior diameters of rods, gun barrels, etc. Formerly such gauges had to be made of high-quality steel, a critical war material which could thus be released for other uses by substituting the new glass gauges.

Horace King began working as a designer for Heisey, spending only part of his time at the factory and continuing his teaching duties at Denison University.

New cuttings for 1943 included: no. 990 Mystic, no. 991 St. Regis, no. 992 Dominica*, no. 993 Laurel Grey, no. 996 Medina, no. 997 Maytime, no. 998 Alexander, no. 999 Carolina, no. 1000 Rosemary, no. 1001 Louis XVI, no. 1002 Mediterranean, no. 1003 Canterbury and no. 1004 Spray*.

As part of the war effort, a number of moulds for older, discontinued patterns were destroyed to be used as scrap.

George Duncan Heisey, A. H. Heisey's eldest son, died this year. He had long before severed all but nominal connections with the glass business.

1944 - January 1. Price list 217-22 was issued.

July. Local Union #30, composed of members employed in Heisey's hot metal department, collected money to furnish two sun-rooms in the new Fletcher General Hospital at Cambridge, Ohio. #382.00 in all was donated on behalf of wounded members of the armed services who would be using the new institution.

Montgomery Ward began offering pressed pieces in the no. 1541, Athena pattern.²

New animals in 1944 included the no. 1 donkey, the no. 1 large elephant, the no. 2 middle elephant, and the no. 3 small elephant. The no. 1560 Victorian Belle was also new this year.

1945 - January. The company gave a dinner at the Granville Inn for employees with 25 years of service or more.³ This was planned to be an annual event which would also honor members of the Diamond H Club, made up of those employees who had a record of 40 years continuous service, or longer. Gold pins were presented by T. Clarence Heisey to the 25-year veterans. The Diamond H Club pins were set with a small diamond and were given to seven employees with 48 years of service and twelve with between 40 and 47 years service. According to the American Flint, the tables at this banquet "were gay with roses and beautiful Heisey glass." In all, 74 employees were treated to a 3-course dinner.

August 14. VJ Day was announced and, in celebration, the factory was closed for two days.

The no. 100 Asiatic pheasant was new this year. The no. 2 Madonna was also added to the line.

1946 - March 6. Price list 25 was issued.

At the dinner given this year at the Granville Inn for the Diamond H Club and the Quarter Century Club, the American Flint reported that T. Clarence Heisey was surprised when the two clubs "presented him with (a) beautiful glass bell that had been made by a Frenchman. The bell was one of the first pieces of ware that was made in the Heisey plant."⁴

1947 - March. The no. 5060 Washington Square pattern was announced as new.⁵

September. The National Advertising Agency Network, an organization comprising 28 advertising agencies, presented its Premier Award to Heisey in recognition of the excellence of their current advertising campaign.

September 1. Catalog 28 was issued.

October. A new booklet, "Choosing your Crystal Pattern," was issued, containing "helpful little hints, breezily written and informally illustrated" (Crockery and Glass Journal)

November. "Table settings" by Royal Hickman, consisting of various combinations of floral bowls, candlesticks and animals, were advertised.

New stemware lines included no. 5040 Lariat⁶ and no. 5048 Rooster Head.

New animals included the no. 1 pouter pigeon, the no. 4 large swan, the no. 5 cygnet, the no. 10 mallard, wings down, the no. 11 mallard, wings half, the no. 12 mallard, wings up, the no. 20 mother wood duck, the no. 21 wood duckling, resting, the no. 22 wood duckling, walking, and the no. 104 gazelle.

The no. 1591 storybook mug was also new this year.

1948 - January. No. 1485 Saturn, which had been discontinued during the war, was returned to production.

July. No. 1567 Plantation, designed by Horace King, was advertised as new.⁷

October. Catalog 29 was issued.

November. The glass cabochon sign, based on the sticker design which the company had used for a number of years, was offered to dealers "to tie in with (their) Heisey displays."

New stemware lines in 1948 included no. 5058 Goose, no. 5064 Hydrangea and no. 5066 Horsehead. New animals included the no. 1 Airedale, the no. 1 filly, with its head forward, the no. 2 filly, with its head back, the no. 1 mother rabbit, the no. 2 bunny, head down, the no. 3 bunny, head up, the no. 1 rooster, the no. 2 hen, the no. 3 chick, head up, the no. 4 chick, head down, the no. 2 walking piglet, the no. 3 resting piglet, the no. 5 show horse, and the no. 101 tropical fish.

1949 - January. No. 1590 Zodiac, designed by Horace King, was advertised as new.

February. The no. 515 plate etching, Heisey Rose, was introduced. This etching was especially designed by Jane Phillips for use with the new no. 5072, Rose stemware line, also created by her.⁹

March. Radio Station WCLT broadcast from Newark a segment of "This is Your Business," interviewing four of Heisey's employees: Andrew Joabson, head of the etching department, Edith Gerould of print table no. 2, Dessie Griffith, a touch up girl, and Earl Seaton, committeeman for Local Union No. 505.

The no. 1003 Ivy cutting was announced as new this month, "designed especially to complement the many new ivy dinnerware patterns which have appeared recently."⁹

May. T. Clarence Heisey spoke before the Licking County Historical Society on the "History of Glass Craft." According to a report in the American Flint, he "traced the beginning of glass making from its first company, the Star Glass Company," illustrating his lecture with samples of many glass patterns from the older ones to the "most modern." He also used a chart to show how glass was made in contemporary times.

July. Catalog 30 was issued.

The no. 5019, Waverly stemware line was advertised as new this month.

August. The no. 5067 Plantation was announced as new.

September. Seven cuttings were advertised as new, all "inspired by leading patterns in china and silver." These were:

Cutting	Matching Pattern
Dolly Madison Rose (no. 1015)	Castleton China
Botticelli (no. 1016)	Frank Whiting Silver Co.
Peachtree (no. 1017)	Lenox China
Lyric (no. 1019)	Lenox China
Burgundy (no. 1020)	Reed and Barton
Melrose (no. 1021)	Gorham Silver

October. A new salesroom was opened in Dallas in the Santa Fe building. It was designed by Horace King, who did special research to determine the best way to "display and dramatize glassware." According to the American Flint, "The showroom combines modern lighting fixtures with harmonizing color scheme, using taupe carpeting, midnight blue ceiling and plate glass backgrounds of gunmetal blue, burgundy and gray."

Other new patterns in 1949 included no. 1612 Botanical.

New animals included the no. 1 bull and the no. 103 tiger paperweight.

Additional stemware lines included no. 5057 Suez.

Additional cuttings included: no. 1004 Rose, no. 1005 Far East*, no. 1006 Londonderry*, no. 1007 Galway Bay*, no. 1008 Georgetown*, no. 1009 Mexicali Rose*, no. 1013 Palm Springs*, no. 1014 Flanders*, no. 1022 Darlington* and no. 1023 Heiseyland*.

* Original pattern name unknown; named by researchers.

1. Brochures which were meant to be combination catalogs and order forms.
2. Montgomery Ward catalogs for this period give no pattern name. "Athena" was not adopted as the pattern name until 1946.
3. In later years, this group was known as the Quarter Century Club.
4. For more information on this bell and a complete listing of the 1946 members of both clubs, see the Heisey News, December 1983, p. 5-6.
5. A patent was applied for on May 29, 1947 and approved April 19, 1949.
6. This line was advertised as new in July 1949, but actually went into production as a blank for the Moonglo cutting as early as September 1947.
7. According to a reminiscence by Mr. King in the Heisey News, May 1973, he began working on this pattern as early as 1944. Some pieces were in production as early as January 1946, but the full pattern was not offered until July 1948.
8. According to the May issue of China, Glass and Decorative Accessories, both the etching and the stemware line were "created as a crystal complement to the many rose patterns in china and silver" which were then available.
9. Crockery and Glass Journal, April 1949.

diamonds are forever.... By Janet Caswell

As all you good people are reading this article it is April but I'm writing in the middle of a snowstorm which threatens to turn into a blizzard. The "Frostbiters" would have a difficult time sailing on a day like today. The "Frostbiters" are a group of men and women, teenagers and goldenagers that have been lured away from the comforts of their warmly glowing firesides in winter. Despite below-freezing temperatures and brisk winds, these hardy sailors are out on the harbor from late October until early May battling the slapping sea in their eleven and a half foot, 250 lb open dinghies. This vigorous sport was started about a half century ago and as the name suggests, frostbiting is a sport for those who are tough enough to brave below-freezing temperatures while sailing. However, the natural highs for these sailors far outweigh any discomfort they might experience. They are competing against the best, to improve their summer racing skills, besides having fun. Myself, I'm a warm weather person and in the winter, as at all times, Heisey hunting is a much more rewarding pastime.

The Bay States "Farmer" shares the same recreation, and on one quite cool day he arrived home with a pair of #1567 Plantation three light Candelabra with the Ivy Etch and the large #433 Greek Key cherry jar.

My "Friend in Deed" (also MA) came up with a real prize or rather prizes: the #160 Locket on Chain wine. He found four (4) of them, in pristine condition with - mint ruby stain. He also has the #1630 "Stacking" tumbler. (ref; Heisey News March 1976, pg 8 by Tom Bredehoft - "circa 1950, crystal only, it is signed. "Stacking" really refers to the function of the tumbler. It is a one-item pattern number and definitely utilitarian rather than beautiful. It's narrow at the base, only 2", and appears rather top heavy, the ½" sham keeps it stable. The base is recessed about ½" leaving a rim which is ground")

"Mountain Grandma" (CA) slowed down a little this past winter but a few things were reported to "yours truly": #1565 6 3/4" jelly in Dawn; #341 Puritan 5" high footed jelly and the #1425 Victorian individual ash tray and match holder.

Staying in Cal, "Cruet Man" came up with the #5031 Vinegar and oil with a beautiful cutting and a very faint Hawkes symbol.

Now "The Two Guys" (CT) have several nice things in #1401 Empress pattern, one of which is the lovely punch bowl in Crystal. A handsome piece of glass.

The "Keystone Cops" (PA) also found a piece of Plantation, the #1567 9" salad bowl. Not a steal, but they collect Plantation and this was a welcome addition. They also found what she calls a "macho beer mug", the #150 Banded Flute - 22 oz. Marked.

The "Evergreens" (ME) have a little #333 Waldorf Astoria toothpick; a #1201 Fandango 5½" three cornered handled jelly and a #100 Centennial Candlestick - she didn't tell me how tall.

"The Midnight Riders" (MA) are at it again. When you travel around the area most every day there must be lots of interesting places to pull in your reins. In the saddle bags were discovered a #1425 Victorian 2 oz shot glass; a #1252 Twist 13" three compartment relish in Moongleam; a Rib and Panel nut in Hawthorne and a #325 Pillows crystal pickle dish (yours truly has one in flamingo).

"My Sharp Eyed Friends" boast the #1024 Hotel cream & sugar in crystal; a #1485 Stanhope 4½" nappy and a handsome #1469 Ridgeleigh 10" vase.

"The Hanging Judge" sat on his bench and sentenced to life on his shelf the following: two #433 Greek Key 5 oz sodas; a pair of 6½" Empress candlesticks in cobalt and two #1108 saucer footed egg cups.

The "Busy Bee" reports a #150 Pointed oval and Diamond point covered sugar in Emerald while the "Hilltoppers" have the Cobel 1 quart decanter with the Fox Chase Etch; a real goodie to say the very least.

The "Wiz" on his way to "OZ" picked up a #460 Pinwheel and Fan Variant Basket and the #1405 Ipswich Center Bowl.

"The Felicitous Flamingo Hunter" added six more $406 Coarse Rib 7" plates to her collection in crystal; plus a #1220 Punt Band mug - ruby stain; a #439 Raised Loop nappy; the #473 Narrow Flute with rim four compartment round relish; a pair of #1428 Warwick individual candlesticks and the #300½ Colonial 6" low footed jelly.

As for "Yours Truly" the #421 Prism Block with Angular Scallop 5½" nappy (scarce) fell into my eager hands along with five #5038 Rooster Stem 3½ oz cocktails; the #379 Urn 12" Orange Bowl (this also comes footed, mine is not); and two (2) #3381 Creole 7 oz d/o champagnes. Did I forget to say that they are Alexandrite and soooo pretty! Another little gem picked up was the #434 ash tray. That is quite a nice chunk of glass. It had gold leaf around the top which was almost all worn off - so I took the rest off and it left a type of etch all around the edge in the glass. The price was right, I couldn't pass it up, less than Time Magazine. I also found the #473 Narrow Flute/rim Puff and Cover. Love that one.

The "Mr" was pleased with a #1252 7" Pickle in Moongleam; 2 pair of #113 Mars Candlesticks in flamingo (there was so much dirt on them that they almost looked gray, but the price was infinitesimal, and did they ever sparkle when cleaned up). The best happened while we were in a medium sized antique and collectible shop. We were slowly walking up one aisle when the "Mr" espied a Ball Vase over on the other aisle, "Mermaid etch, Mermaid etch!" Was he ever excited. I never saw anyone go down an aisle, around the end and up the other side so fast. The #4045 6" Ball Vase with the #469 Mermaid etch in crystal was his!! Now I call that great recreation, better than a frigid sail in winter.

There's a special town in Essex County,
Rare recipient of nature's bounty
Sailboats spangle vast horizon's blue.

As wandering winds whip up salty brew,
Hollyhock hedges hug weathered shingles
while incoming tide with rocky shore mingles,
Cobblestone treasures of legendary lore.
"by Elaine Locke"

I really need all your input, I'm sure lots of things must have been found over the winter months. Please write and tell me about them. Big or small - rare or common.

Good health and good hunting!

Until later, Janet Caswell

ANATOMY OF AN AUCTION

By Louise Ream

Did you ever wonder what happens to your glass for auction after it leaves your home? First of all it arrives at the HCA office, usually in mid to late December. Each carton is immediately dated and assigned a lot letter on the box and on a list, with the number of lots the box contains if known.

Next it is unpacked, in the order it arrived, and catalogued on a lot sheet. This has your assigned lot letter or letters, your list numbered from 1 to 12 according to the number of lots you have, and the selling order of each item or lot plus full description.

Then it is carefully packed up again to be stored until the auction. Every piece has been examined carefully for damage during this process. All noted damage is marked on the lot sheet, after the item. No matter how carefully this is done, someone at the auction seems to find damage that hasn't been seen before. Sometimes this may be extensive but usually it is so minor that anyone realizing that we are not selling new glass would scarcely notice. Some of this glass is only nine years from being 100 years old. Most of us should look this good when we are 91 or even 80 or 70 or 60 etc.

Several years ago Russ and I attended an auction in a gallery in Norfolk, VA. When they brought glass out to sell the auctioneer said that he guaranteed all of it to be chipped. Of course, it was n't, but it stopped that problem anyway.

On the eve of the auction someone takes all of the boxes of glass to the auction house where it is again unpacked. Many volunteers help with this. Some unpack and others run here and there with glass putting it in selling order. In a few hours everything is ready to be sold. Remember there were 946 lots which means thousands of pieces since most of these lots have multiple items, such as a set of goblets, table set, pitcher and tumblers etc.

The hour arrives, the auction starts and volunteers start bringing the glass to the auction block, constantly moving it closer. All of this is well organized and each person has his job.

When the glass is sold the buyer can go to the back room to examine his glass and if not satisfied it is returned to be resold. All glass is placed on shelves in bid number order to be picked up when the buyer is ready to leave. If uncatalogued damage is noted the mail bidder takes this into consideration when he executes your bids.

Glass sold to mail bidders was immediately wrapped and packed by Laverne Lokay in poultry boxes (18 of them this time) to be taken back to the museum for shipping.

On the Monday after the auction the glass is again unpacked in the lower level of the museum.

The first step is to put the lists of lucky bidders on the tables in numerical order, which takes some doing since there are hundreds of items. Each is already marked with its original bid number and labeled with the buyer's number. All of these are carefully checked as each lot is carried to its proper spot. Janet and Lloyd Caswell and Phyllis and Bob McClain took care of this part this year.

Up until now everything from the day the glass has arrived in December has been handled by volunteers.

In the afternoon our shipping person, Leonard, takes over and starts to seek out the proper cartons for each lot. Part of the time his sister, Margaret, who used to have this job, gives him some volunteer assistance. All of this is no small job since mailing labels must be made, charge cards slips written, packages must be weighed and properly written up and insured in the UPS book. Finally it is ready to go and a quantity of parcels is sent out everyday until it is all finished.

Wanda, our bookkeeper, calls in the charges and writes refund checks; also she sends back checks to people who didn't get anything. This takes all of the first week after the auction or longer. During this time we answer numerous phone calls from people wanting to know if they got anything and what it was.

Some people say that the auction isn't much work but countless hours are spent on this end besides all of the work before and during the auction.

All of the auctioneers, Sam Schnaidt, Larry Stickle, Tim Hughes and Craig Connelly give freely of their time in selling. Loren Yeakley does the mail bidding for us, as well as lots of other help with the checks etc. Virginia also cashiers the sale. This year she was helped by Kim White, one of Sam's employees, who is not a Heisey collector and who worked both days for a "Kimberly" goblet. (Her name is Kimberly.)

Norm and Jan Thran and Bob Rarey did almost all of the cataloguing. Betty Barnard, treasurer, and Wanda spent both days working behind the scenes calling in credit cards, etc., and she and Wanda both worked with Loren on Sunday writing the checks etc.

Bob Rarey did a splendid job as auction chairman. Thanks to all of you who sent glass to sell. We couldn't do it without you.

I am sorry that all of the people working during the auction cannot be listed but I don't even remember who they all were and nobody made a list. Everyone in HCA owes all of these fine people a great big "Thank You". Special thanks to Sam and Heidi for allowing us to use their building and their computer.

The auction grossed about $45,000. It has not been determined as yet just how much HCA netted. Some bills have not yet been paid.

NOTE

The auction just held by HCA at Appletree Auction Center had nothing at all to do with Sam's own auctions. He is no longer putting his lists in Heisey News but making and sending them out to those of you who have paid for the service.

DAYTON AREA HEISEY CLUB

By Hilda Ryan

The Dayton Area Heisey Club wishes to thank everyone who purchased the binders for Vogel's books, over the last two years which was our project.

We are SOLD OUT for mail orders and can not take any more. Last year we donated our profit, at that time, to the H.C.A. at convention. Again this year in June we'll donate the profit at the convention.

GATEWAY HEISEY COLLECTORS' CLUB

By Phyllis Freier

To the delight of the Gateway Heisey Collectors' Club of Pittsburgh, PA, Margaret Reed, when she entertained the club on Feb. 7, 1987, presented many mementos, foods and stories from her recent trip to Japan.

The new committees announced by our new president, Joe Lokay are:

Social:	Earl Autenreith
Program:	Rick Stoll
Ways & Means:	Tom & Marge Satryan
Publicity:	Harry & Phyllis Freier

Ideas for the display at the June convention were discussed.

Since Tom and Neila Bredehoft were in Pittsburgh doing research at Carnegie Library, they attended our meeting. Everyone was interested in Tom's informative program. They were especially interested in the unusual tumblers Tom displayed.

Darlene Sanders was also our guest for the evening. Marge Satryan showed many of her flamingo Heisey Twist treasures in our Show and Tell.

The next meeting will be April 4, 1987. Anyone wishing to join us, may contact the club via The Heisey Collectors of America, Inc.

VIRGINIA HEISEY CLUB

The December meeting of the Virginia Heisey Club was held on December 6, 1986 in the home of Charles and Jessie Hopkins in Hampton, Virginia. There were 15 members present. The first thing on the agenda was a covered dish dinner. There are many good cooks in our club, so we enjoyed a delicious meal.

Though it was a bit early, Jessie had decorated her house for Christmas--even had her tree decorated. This put us all in the Christmas Spirit. As part of her program, Jessie had requested each member to bring a piece of Heisey decorated as a Christmas arrangement with either artificial or real flowers or fruit. She was very happy when each member responded. The arrangements were lovely. Since it was too hard for her to judge them, a secret ballot was held. Ted Bunch won the prize--a homemade cake. Ted's arrangements were red and white carnations (fresh) with green fern in a pair of Heisey Horn of Plenty.* Jessie ended her program by reading a poem she had written entitled "My Christmas Tree". Unfortunately, our president, George Fallows, and Dot were not able to be with us. George had to have surgery on his shoulder that week and was not able to get around. He is doing very well now, I am glad to say.

We do not meet in January due to the fact that we meet on the first Saturday in the month and such a date would be around the New Year's holiday.

Our February meeting was held on February 7, 1987 in the home of George and Dot Fallows in Richmond, Virginia. The club voted to give a donation in the amount of $100.00 to the Heisey Endowment Fund. Ted Bunch gave a most interesting program on Heisey pattern names that have been changed.

We do enjoy our Virginia Heisey Club. Are there some collectors in the state who might be interested in joining? If you are interested please contact one of the following people:

The regular meeting of the Virginia Heisey Club was held in the home of Jim and Bobby James in Williamsburg, VA. The club voted to give $100.00 to H.C.A. to be used for the Fire Alarm System.

Many interesting "Heisey Finds" were shown and discussed. George Fallows gave us a most interesting program on Heisey Colors. As usual, we all enjoyed delicious refreshments.

HEISEY COLLECTORS OF THE ROCHESTER AREA

By Bruce Schwendy

The February meeting was held at the home of Donna and Bruce Schwendy and we were happy to host our first Heisey Collectors meeting and display our Heisey glass. The theme of the meeting was patterns introduced before 1910. In addition, we saw a movie on the Seneca Glass Co., formed in 1891 in Seneca County, Ohio and moved to Morgantown in 1896. The movie explained about the ingredients in fine glassware and showed workers gathering glass from the furnaces, blowing, forming, and doing wheel cuttings on the finished pieces.

Everyone brought examples of Heisey glass patterns before 1910 and the table contained an impressive collection of the old patterns. Marian Heron brought a Jelly with a screw top. Edith Bockes showed a Locket on Chain comport, Beaded Panel and Sunburst sugar, Prison Stripe spooner, and several custards in various patterns. Arlene Reynolds displayed a small Pillows nappy. Marge Gillette brought a nappy in Square and Diamond Point, also called Cut Block. Marge also showed a Urn syrup, Puntzy Band salt, Fancy Loop Emerald cup and Prison Stripe cup. Betty Evans brought a Daisy and Leaves nappy and Sharon Orienter brought a Waldorf Astoria Cruet. There were items in Prince of Wales, Queen Ann, Puntzy and Diamond Point, Pineapple and Fan, and Kalonyal as well.

For show and tell, Marge Gillette brought a Yeoman Hawthorne puff box with cover. This pattern began production in 1915. (Hawthorne was only made one year, 1927.)

Since we are a study club, Sharon Orienter prepared another quiz for the group based on the patterns introduced before 1910 to improve our knowledge of them. She prepared a display of twenty five different patterns with the help of several people who brought examples and organized them on the table in chronological order. As each one was held up we tried to list both the pattern name and the date of introduction. We all agreed that we have become better prepared in our search for Heisey at the various shows and flea markets coming up!

LAND OF LEGEND HEISEY CLUB

The combined clubs of Land of Legend and Heisey Hunters met February 24, 1987 at 7:30 p.m. in the home of Jean and Jim Williams.

New officers for Land of Legend Club are Helen Pallagi-President, Mary McWilliams-Secretary, Marilyn Smith-Treasurer. Special recognition was given to Dick Smith for his six successful years as President.

After the business meeting was adjourned, the program was announced as "Broken Pieces".

Members brought shelf pieces with minor or major nicks. Some were a beautiful Alexandrite cup, a cut vase, large rabbit, a small elephant, horsehead ash-tray and candlestick and more. All of which proves that you cannot give up even a broken piece of Heisey.

The rest of the evening was spent enjoying the Williams' 1890 home with all their many collections, including Heisey. Candlelight added the appropriate touch to every room, highlighting their antique furniture and beautiful art collection.

It was an evening to remember.

Mary McWilliams, Secretary

"ALOHA" - BADGES FOR SALE MOUNDBUILDERS HEISEY COLLECTORS

The Moundbuilders H.C.C. has been busy this winter, at their meetings held at the Museum, helping to place glass in the cabinets. After the February business meeting the members were privileged to be able to put the "little things" in the beautiful cherry cabinet that Virgil Hauser made and donated to the museum.

The March meeting was held at the charming home of Karen O'Hare with Jay Martin of New York as co-host. After members enjoyed Karen's interesting antiques and various collections the business meeting was held. The club will be selling badges at the convention in keeping with the Hawaiian theme. We are hoping everyone attending the convention will see one of our club members and purchase an "Aloha" badge to get in the spirit.

Following the business meeting Jay Martin presented the program on Ball Vases and Colognes. Jay gave us very interesting information on the many different ball vases, using Karen's to demonstrate various types and sizes.

The second segment of his program, on colognes, was very enlightening to all who attended. Again, using Karen's collection of colognes to demonstrate the various sizes and patterns and the stoppers that fit each one, Jay gave us an idea what a challenge it is to collect a particular item.

Another highlight of the evening was the refreshments served from beautiful pieces of Heisey; punch from a crystalite punch bowl, "Diamond H" sandwiches served on Sahara Old Sandwich plates etc. etc.

The April meeting will be hosted by Russ and Louise Ream.

Q. Just a note about this Heisey item. I don't know if it is a syrup or a molasses jug. It belongs to a couple in Vermont. It is sure a beautiful thing.

The item is 3½" in diameter on the bottom - 18 point Star Cut polished bottom - moulded handle - 4½" high at the pouring lip - large Diamond H on inside center bottom. I do not know the cutting.

I have never seen this in Heisey books or papers. Maybe you can give me the information in Heisey News.

Gerard B. Shondell, OH.

A. I found the syrup in the 1924 Catalog. It is #371, Patent number 60,378. I was not aware that it is signed on the inside, which is rare for a syrup. I am sure the syrup experts did know it, however. The cutting, probably not done by Heisey, is quite attractive. Since this is a color picture it may not turn out too well so we've included the patent drawing elsewhere in the newsletter. L.R.

Q. This pitcher is 6" high at midpoint, 5" across the ground, starred bottom; 4½" across the top with a cupped effect. It has ½" wide raised ribs. It is marked. What is it? Nancy Steele, Washington

A. We have not been able to determine what this is. It is not coarse Rib or Crystolite. One might think that it is colonial because it appears to be a shape of that period and it also has the familiar handle of earlier patterns. It is strange how many odd, marked pieces of Heisey show up from time to time. Perhaps a complete study of the moulds and mould drawings will someday help us to identify some of these oddball items. In fact it already has helped to identify some of them. L.R.

"Moderate" Living Standard

The Labor Department estimated that a young couple without children could live on the same standard for about $3,591 while an increase in the age of the two children to high school age would boost the budget to $8,282.

Wide differences in housing costs contributed most to variation in the budget from one city to another. City home owners averaged about $800 more in costs than did renters, largely due to mortgage payments about half of which represented amortization or "savings."

"As real income rises," the study said, "certain aspects of living, once considered attainable only by a few, come within the reach of many and are accepted as part of the American way of life. In a dynamic society, therefore, the relative position of a moderate living standard on a scale of all living standards may remain fixed, but the description of what constitutes a standard will be ever-changing."

The budget was based on a family consisting of an employed husband, aged 38, a wife not employed outside the home and two children, a girl aged 8 and a boy aged 13. The husband was presumed to be an experienced worker well advanced in his trade or profession.

The rest of the budget covered income and Social Security taxes, occupational expenses, gifts, contributions and basic life insurance.
