NOTES FROM YOUR PRESIDENT.....

It seems like every month I am thanking someone or a group for the contribution that you have made to the museum and club. These contributions are the blood line that continues to carry this organization on and on and on.

To John Eshelman, 200 dinner chairman; Liz Stickle and Jan Thran, ticket sales chairmen, and all who helped make the dinner a huge success, our sincere thanks. It was a very well planned event with lots of good food, and of course, lots of good people. Please remember that without your support for this project, as well as all projects, this organization would not be able to function in the same manner as it currently does.

ABOUT THE COVER

1987 CONVENTION POSTER DESIGNED

BY SHARON ORIENTER OF ROCHESTER H C C

By the time you receive this newsletter Convention will be almost upon us and some members from all over the U.S. will be converging on Newark, Ohio, "Heiseyland" U.S.A. Some members call this "coming home".

The enthusiasm of the Texas Club has even made us excited here and probably has caused other members to decide to come this year. Reservations are running a little slower than usual but perhaps thas is because the newsletter has been reaching many of you later.

We will be chartering three new clubs at the Annual meeting--from San Diego, CA, the Florida Gulf Coast and the other one is the fourth from Massachusetts--a record for number of clubs in one state. There are already three in California, three in Illinois, and three in New York State. Of course, Ohio has the record with ten, which is to be expected.

There is still a lot to do at the museum but we hope everything will be ready by the time most of you arrive. We always have some jobs left for early arrivals.

I really need some writers for the Heisey News. Years ago people wrote about their favorite pieces of Heisey and those articles would still be appreciated. If you have an interesting story to tell please send it in.

We believe we are going to have a beautiful display this year as we always do but the Hawaiian theme seems exciting.

Sharon Orienter of the Rochester HHC designed the yearly poster , and the program covers. The poster design is used on the cover of this issue of Heisey News.

Remember, it was just a year ago at the annual meeting that the Chairman of the Mould Fund Committee, Norm Thran, announced the amount of money still needed to pay off the $100,000 loan. He asked who would like to give a $100 to help pay it off. Hands flew up and in a very few minutes even more money was collected than was needed.

Norm deserves great credit for spearheading the drive which brought in the $229,150 to buy the moulds. Without his optimism and determination that the goal was possible we probably would never have had these moulds.

Jim Speelman, Warehouse Co-Chairman has been having a lot of problems lately. He has had a triple by pass and is now in the hospital again for further surgery. We all wish him the very

We will soon be having French Opalescent madonnas and baby elephants in the gift shop. These are being made by Fenton. Both these and the Ridgeleigh book will be advertised in the July issue. You can also purchase another Oscar after June 17th at $24.00 each.

Remember, Hawaiian dress is optional for all events and will be very appropriate for the great ginner in the tent at the gala preview on June 18 at Adena Hall.

Pick up your registration packets at the Heisey Museum. Phyllis and her crew will be in the lower level again this year. You can also pick up your preordered Oscars in the shipping room in the lower level.

We'll see you soon!

Telephone MU. 9-7000 Fifth Avenue at 34th Street New York store only

In the depths of the depression (the BIG one, not the one we are currently enjoying), circa 1937 before the European was did its bit to bolster our economy Heisey did its bit to bolster our morale. The company brought out three stem lines which featured the king of gems - the diamond. To further enhance the image of wealth the lines were named after the most famous diamond mines of the day; Kimberly, Kohinoor and Shasta.

I have difficulty remembering which name goes with which stem even though the differences are quite apparent. But then I do not have a precise and details are a bore. Perhaps memorizing this little poem will be helpful. It's called "Where's the Diamond".

Hey diddle diddle,
The cat and the fiddle.
Shasta is up and Kimberly down
But Kohinoor's not in the middle.
Alright, so it doesn't help. You're forcing me to be more precise.

#4085 Kohinoor is the first and probably the best known. The bowl shape ets it apart from Kimberly. The Kohinoor bowls have slightly tapered straight sides and will always be found in either saturn or wide optic with saturn being the more common. The 42 oz. cocktail and the Rhine wine are exceptions as they both were offered with round bowls. The stemware offered was the goblet, low footed goblet champagne, cocktail (both straight and round bowls), wine, claret, Rhine wine, cordial, sherbet, oyster cocktail and sodas in three sizes.

As for cuttings and etchings it is known in the 485 Polo etching and the following cuttings: 888 Madeira, 889 Sheffield,890 Churchill, 891 Pembroke, 892 Berkely Square. It is impossible to be specific about cuttings and etchings as buyers could special order an etching or cutting they liked on a line it wasn't normally issued on as a standard catalog item.

Crystal, as usual, is the easy color in Kohinoor followed by Limelight/ Zircon. The only other color made in this pattern was Trial Blue and on the Sparacio scale of 1 to 10 for elusiveness we give it a 39.

One point we might mention which could lead to confusion is the numbering of Kohinoor. The pressed items in this pattern were numbered 1488 and it would normally follow that the blown pieces would be 4088.

For some unexplained reason blown

Kohinoor was numbered 4085. Saturn, which was 1485, was not offered in a blown line, thank goodness. I'm guessing but perhaps this was done purposely so that the blown 4085 could be offered with both 1485 and 1488. It's not unreasonable since Kohinoor with saturn optic blends well with saturn.

#4091 Kimberly is Kohinoor's kissin' The only difference being cousin. the tulip shaped bowl which was offered plain only -- no optic. The Kimberly design is not as pleasing as Kohinoor's. The bowl and stem just don't make it together. I know of Kimberly in crystal only but what it lacked in color it made up for in cuttings and etchings. Some of the etchings offered were: 497 Rosalie, 496 Skier and 495 Polo. In cuttings you will find: #8441, 893 Carlton, 895 Waterford, 896 Sungate, 919 Laurel Wreath, 941 Barcelona, 943 Belfast, 944 Courtship,945 Virginia, 949 Evelyn, 1015 Dolly Madison Rose and others.

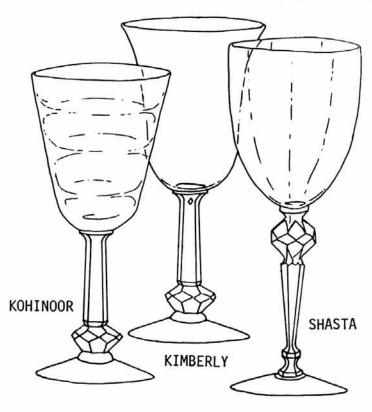

Kimberly was a stem line only and did not have related pressed pieces. The stems offered were a high and low footed goblet, champagne, claret, cocktail, wine, cordial, sherbet, and two sizes of sodas. An oyster cocktail was also offered but it really wasn't Kimberly. It was a stock piece which was carried in the Heisey line for years.

As an extra added attraction we'll discuss 5013 Shasta also. Shasta shares the "diamond" with Kohinoor and Kimberly but nothing else. Shasta's diamond sits between the bowl and the stem rather than at the base of the stem. At first glance it appears that the Shasta stem is no more than Kohinoor/Kimberly turned upside down but there are differences. Of the three Shasta is the most elegant in appearance and when seen with the George IV cutting it is absolutely magnificent. Its amazing what turning a stem upside down will do. The only set of Shasta goblets I've seen was unusual in that the size of the diamond varied so from piece to piece. The largest diamond looked the best.

Shasta sports a cupped shaped bowl in wide optic. I've not seen it signed but Kohinoor and Kimberly will be found signed and unsigned. No color was offered in Shasta and no etchings. The known cuttings are 924 Daisy and 926 George IV. The pieces available were goblet, champagne, claret, cocktail, oyster cocktail, cordial, wine, sherbet and two sizes of footed sodas. A small comport was also made.

Fort Sewall is situated at the harbor entrance and goes back to the mid 17th century. It was once just a rough piece of earthworks thrown up by the town against any sudden attack by sea during the French and Indian Wars. During the Revolution it was turned over to the Federal Government and was made into first class fortifications with barracks to house the garrison and underground quarters, still to be seen. It was under the protection of the fort's guns that the Frigate Constitution, fleeing from British men o'war, sought shelter here. There were Marblehead men on the Constitution. This is now a beautiful park and offers a fine view of the many harbor activities, a favorite place for tourists to visit.

Speaking of visiting, yours truly had a short visit with a fairly new collector, "The Amicable Stroller", this past weekend. She collects creams and sugars along with orchid etch, I understand three orchid etch stems were added to her collection. For the short time she has been collecting, the number of pieces of Heisey she owns is growing by leaps and bounds.

The "Eager Beaver", from the Palmetto State (SC), tells about going to a small shop, consisting of five or six different dealers. (a small coop in comparison to the 200 dealer shops we have in this general area). It was full of anything and everything one might want, making it very difficult to pick out any special piece of glass. Therefore he spent over an hour in this shop. In one corner there was a four shelf bookcase filled with different glass animals and animal related items. These animals were made by many different companies and, by the way, very poor quality glass except two pieces. One was the Petticoat Dolphin candlesticks, in flamingo, and the other a Rooster Vase. It seems the dealer had priced the pieces on a scale of two to twenty-five dollars according to the size. An hour well spent!
"Mountain Grandma" (CA) is spending time with her grandchild but found the time to go down the mountain and bring home a #1519 Waverly 10" Floral Bowl, crimped and Rose etch along with a Waverly 6 ½" 3 footed 2 compartment bowl; plus the #300 Peerless low footed egg cup with English registry mark.

The "Two Guys from CT" were around our area and they found a Waverly footed Cake plate with the Heisey Rose etch! That must have been quite a nice piece, I would have enjoyed seeing that one. Hopefully they took a picture.

My "Evergreen Friends" (ME) most always write me about some nice things, and I was not disappointed this month; three Rooster stems, (those will go nicely with the Rooster Cocktail shaker she found a while ago) and a #1401 Empress sahara 5 ½" mayo.

Now "That Lil ole Lamplighter" took his biggest and brightest flashlight and discovered, lurking in a dark corner, the Imperial Swirl Crystolite Candleblock still on the Bust⊷off in Nut Brown.

He was delighted.

I haven't heard from "the Social Climber" for a while but the wait was well worth it. She usually only purchases marked and Colonial pieces, especially serving pieces, but this time it was Color. The night was a bad one, snow making it almost impossible to drive, but she was headed for an auction and neither rain nor snow would deter her from her appointed rounds. The auction started late because of the weather. Pieces went up one by one, finally the Heisey was held up and the "Social Climber" held her card up time after time and came away with an Octagon #1229 Bon-bon in Sahara and light #1184 Yeoman d/o 6" plates. missed the cups and saucers, oh well, she'll have something to look for. I asked her why she bought color and not her usual crystal. Her answer, "I'm doing my living room over and the Sahara will match".

"The Farmer" brags about the #1425 Victorian cream and sugar, while "Shy Gal" found two #300

4 oz. footed sherbets.

Now "Mr. Crystolite" found a pair of #1567 Plantation three-lite candelabra and the #1509 Queen Ann Floral Bowl/tea rose etch. Well, those pieces aren't crystolite, are they? But never fear, by the time you all read this there will be a "Mrs. Crystolite" (congratulations to you both from the "Mr." and Myself") For a wedding present the new "Mrs. Crystolite" presented "Mr. Crystolite" with a piece of Heisey that he has wanted for quite a long time. The #1503 Crystolite Ice Bucket! What a lovely surprise!!

This past weekend we didn't go on our usual haunts. This section of the country, Western MA, ME, RI, has had torrential rains and bridges and roads have been washed away. The worst floods in fifty years. There was a section of a NY thruway bridge that crashed into the raging waters of Scholarie Creek. It is very scary, we travel the NY thruway on our way to Ohio. We now need lots of sunshine to dry things out.

Although we didn't go hunting last weekend, this weekend we did and the "Mr." came up with a Perfect #300 Peerless Claret Jog; a pair of #114 Pluto Moongleam Candlesticks, a pair of #25 Federal 7" Stocks, and a Lariat 9" plate. As for me I found a pair of #341 salt and peppers with #3 sanitary top; a #1000 etched marmalade; a gorgeous little #5003 Crystolite 1 oz. Cordial and two (2) #1404 Old Sandwich toddies in crystal

Now for "the Keystone Cops" (PA) -- in the Mountain State (WV) they found the stopper for the #4037 (4036) 1 pint oval sherry bottle orchid etch, also some more flower frogs for her collection - a #10 & #11 in moongleam and a #20 in Sahara. Well worth the price, she said. Next was a #1567 Plantation cake salver and the 19" plate.

Enough for now, perhaps the sun will shine soon.

See you at the Convention!!

Happy Hunting Janet Caswell ******************

HEISEY COLLECTORS OF THE ROCHESTER AREA

By Bruce Schwendy

Helen S. Mead

Ed Berg of Wilmington, DE gave an illustrated talk of "Open Salts" at the April meeting of the Heisey Club of Southeastern Massachusetts. The club meets on the third Wednesday of each month at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wade Banck in Rockland. Irene Walton, program chairman, has been instrumental in arranging the fine programs, which have included talks by knowledgeable Heisey collectors from our own club as well as specialists like Mr. Berg. Mr. Berg, whose talk encompassed the early history of salt as well as salt containers, has a wealth of material from which to draw as evidenced by slides of Mrs. Kay Berg's collection. Of special interest to the club was the Berg's collection of Heisey salts -- complete except for one elusive number which has not been seen except as a catalog illustration. The Museum has dubbed this the "Berg" salt so when it is found, and no doubt it will be, it will have a name. Mr. Berg has done a great deal of research, especially since he has retired, and he is well acquainted with the material which was presented in an interesting manner. He had on display at the meeting examples of the Heisey salts. Mr. Berg has written for the Heisey News and will conduct a seminar on Open Salts at the convention in June,

At the March meeting of the club, Everett Dunbar was the genial auctioneer for the annual auction, proceeds of which benefit the Museum.

Shirley Dunbar has been named voting delegate to the June convention, with Lloyd Caswell as alternate. Lloyd and Janet Caswell will again be involved in arranging the display which is always a highlight of the convention. "Aloha" has been chosen as the theme.

Plans for the annual all-glass show and sale are being finalized. It is scheduled for October 10 and 11 at the Yankee Drummer Inn in Auburn, MA. Mr. and Mrs. Everett Dunbar, show managers, report that twenty-five dealers will participate.

At the May meeting, Jarda Cragg of Georgetown, MA will bring examples from her extensive Heisey cruet collection and give a talk on "cruets."

Officers of the club are William Thran, president; Philip Phillips, vice-president; Dorothie Banck, treasurer; Helen Mead, secretary. Maria Martell is membership chairman and Jackie Thran and Shirley Dunbar are co-editors of the club newsletter, the "Heisey Diamond of Southeastern Massachusetts." Mary Williams has graciously served as hospitality chairman since the beginning of the club. Refreshments, provided by a volunteer couple each month, have been plentiful and of great variety. Show and Tell continues to be a highlight of each meeting.

#1567 PLANTATION

Our April meeting was hosted by Betty Evans with fourteen members present. Her special desserts and Heisey collection were a treat to us all. She has a nice group of covered candy dishes as well as a large variety of Heisey patterns and colors.

Under new business, our club now has two Apple discs with an alphabetical and numerical listing of every pattern known by researchers in Newark. Thank you to Neila and Tom Brendehoft. We noted that Sharon Orienter is designing both the poster and the program cover for the convention in June. Also, HCA will soon be selling the candlestick field guide made up by Marvin Jacob. This is a convenient pocket sized booklet with pictures and a numerical list at the end showing heights, sizes, and colors as well as an alphabetical index.

Our topic for the meeting was colored plates and Sharon did her usual complete job on a quiz to identify thirteen plates all the way from the rare 7026 Heart and Drape to Empress which came in six colors plus crystal.

Marvin and Lois Jacob brought three flamingo plates, 1425 Spiral, Yeoman with DO, and Yeoman with the Trojan Etch. George Reynolds showed a 12 inch 1225 Ridge and Star plate in flamingo. Marge Gillette showed us a flamingo 1228 Swirl plate and a crystal Plantation sandwich plate. Art and Gertrude Costello brought flamingo 1243 Stepped Octagon, Alexandrite 1401 Empress, and square 1469 Ridgeleigh plates. Edith Bockes proudly showed her nearly complete collection of Empress square plates, 6, 7 and 8 inch in six colors, crystal, and crystal with Crinoline etch. To round this out she is looking for the 6 inch plate in crystal and cobalt, the 7 inch plate in flamingo and moongleam, and the etched 6 and 8 inch plates. Any offers? Donna Schwendy brought a 12 inch round Empress moongleam plate.

For show and tell, George and Arlene brought a pair of 71 Oval candles with the Adam cutting. This is the only candle with an oval cross section. Marge showed a pair of Queen Ann dolphin footed candles. These are about the size of the Empress individual nut dishes.

Our May meeting will be a picnic at the home of Bill and Marian Heron. Following that, we're looking forward to a great convention!

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q. I have in my possession a small jar (?) approximately 5 1/8" in height, very pale bluishgreen in color and eight panelled. It would require a screw on type top. This does not appear to me to be Heisey and I can find no reference to anything of this kind in my books but on the bottom of the jar is a definite diamond with an "H" (?) inside. See enclosed tracings.

Could you tell me if this might be Heisey?
B. Egerton, NJ

A. Your small jar is not Heisey glass, unfortunately. If you look again you will see that the letter is an I and not an H. The H in the diamond is vertical in the Heisey mark as above on our letterhead. Many people make this mistake.

The Diamond I is the mark of the Illinois Glass Company, forerunner of Owens-Illinois.

NORTH CAROLINA HEISEY STUDY GROUP

Our Spring Meeting was held in Rocky Mount, North Carolina, home of HARDEE HAMBURGER, INC. and of Ed and Virginia PERVA, who with Ned and Sibyl LAVENGOOD hosted 18 members to a HARDY (no Hamburgers or Fries) Lunch. We were surrounded by HEISEY and we all felt the quality of the glass and why its so important to us. After the Noon lunch we gathered in their spacious living room, with its high ceilings and viewed the slide show -"How Well do You Know Your Heisey?".

I wouldn't want to grade our results, but it sure made us want to study harder for the next quiz!! We do recommend this slide show, but wished that after each slide, a full view of the article would be shown so that the viewer could see the piece in perspective.

Our gift to the Heisey Museum was brought out and displayed. I can't say what it is now, but if you read your March 1987 Issue of the Heisey News you would have seen a picture of the GIFT. We are proud of it and thanks to all who went to the National Capital Heisey Collector's show in March, we were able to secure it. By the way we had 12 members present at that show. All the time our meeting was going on, a silent auction was being held to raise money for the Convention next year '88. A serious discussion arose over "INSURING" your Heisey. If anyone reading this has an answer, solution or whatever, PLEASE LET US KNOW!!!

The NCHSG will meet next on AUGUST 8, 1987 at 1:00 p.m. in Charlottesville, Virginia. LINDA HASKELL and her parents will host. Lunch will be served, a Silent Auction will be held, a slide show-HEISEY BY IMPERIAL, will be shown, Heisey discussed and FUN will be HAD! If you would like to attend that meeting, wrote or call Linda at 921 Chatham Court, Charlottesville, VA, 22901. Phone 804-973-9157

DAYTON AREA HEISEY CLUB

The Dayton Area Heisey Club #7, for many years, has used the meeting rooms of the Public Library in Downtown Dayton Ohio.

Due to remodeling our meetings were moved to the public library in Huber Heights, Ohio. This turned out to be a blessing in disguise. It is so convenient to reach, our attendance has increased.

The program for April was informative as to the value of Heisey. Each member was given a paper and pencil. The program chairman used Heisey Pressed Ware Catalogue #109 Pattern 352 pages 52-53 Pattern 500 pages 108-109. We each wrote our idea of the value of each item. Then we compared each members value. Some were high some were low. This was interesting and informative. Next month we are using Clarence Vogel's books to do the same thing on Rose, Orchid etch and Cuttings.

> Respectfully, R. Clarke West

HEISEY COLLECTORS OF TEXAS

The Heisey Collectors of Texas met last Saturday in Weatherford. At this time we held elections so the the charter club annual report reflects those results. The membership list is up to date as of the May meeting also.

At our last meeting we made final plans for our trek to Newark. We voted to provide the Museum lounge with 10 pounds of fresh and delicious Texas pecans (shelled, of course!) We will provide our own container for the pecans as well as a small card describing the origin of the Texas pecan. In addition, never being ones to pass up an opportunity to show off we respectfully request to be allowed to display our fabulous HCT scrapbook in the lounge. We are very proud of our scrapbook and would hope that displaying it would encourage other clubs to document the history of their clubs in a meaningful way.

We are all but comatose with excitement and anticipation. How we will ever survive until convention time is beyond me. We will see you then!

Impatiently yours, Amy Jo Jones

EXTRA! EXTRA!

A party for the former Heisey workers and their families and friends - will be held at the Court Yard entrance of the YWCA on Friday, June 19th at 1:00 p.m.

The Mayor will proclaim this day Former Heisey

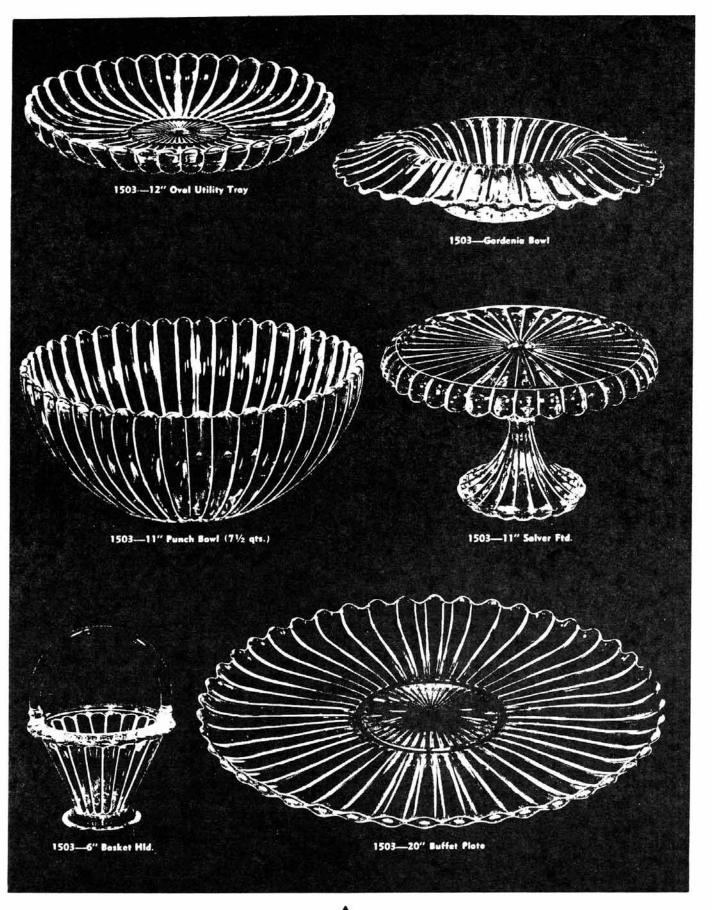

There will be MUSIC by the Heisey Ensemble, and great refreshments by Eleanor Jackson along with good fellowship with members of the Newark Community and the Heisey Collectors of America.

The $2.00 which registrants will be paying for the meeting with former employees will cover this event at the YWCA instead of the Best Western Inn. You may also add this to your packet by paying when you pick it up at the museum. It should be a fun time for all.

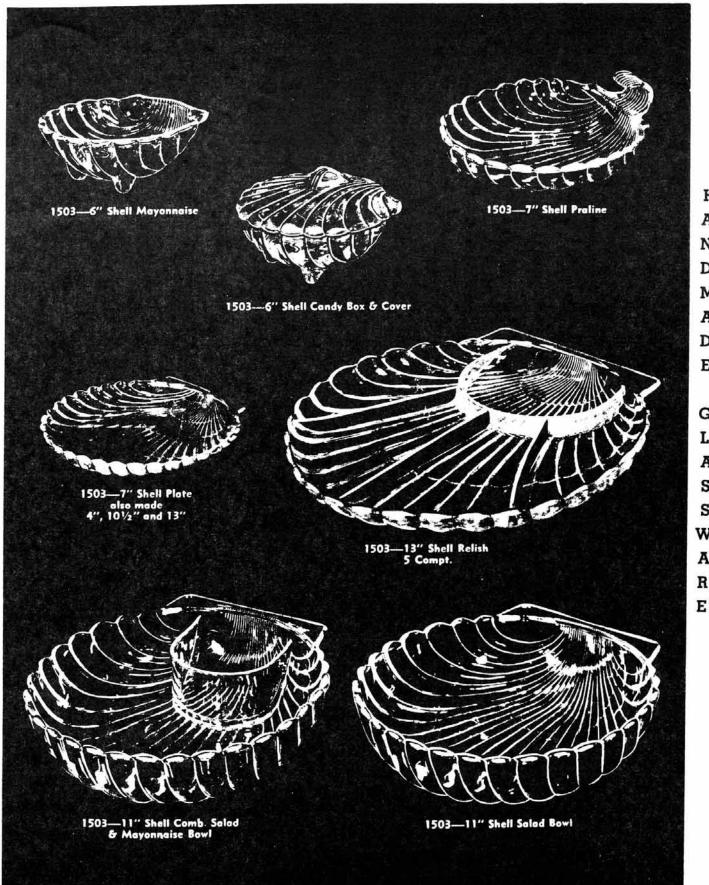

Other surprises not mentioned here will also take place.

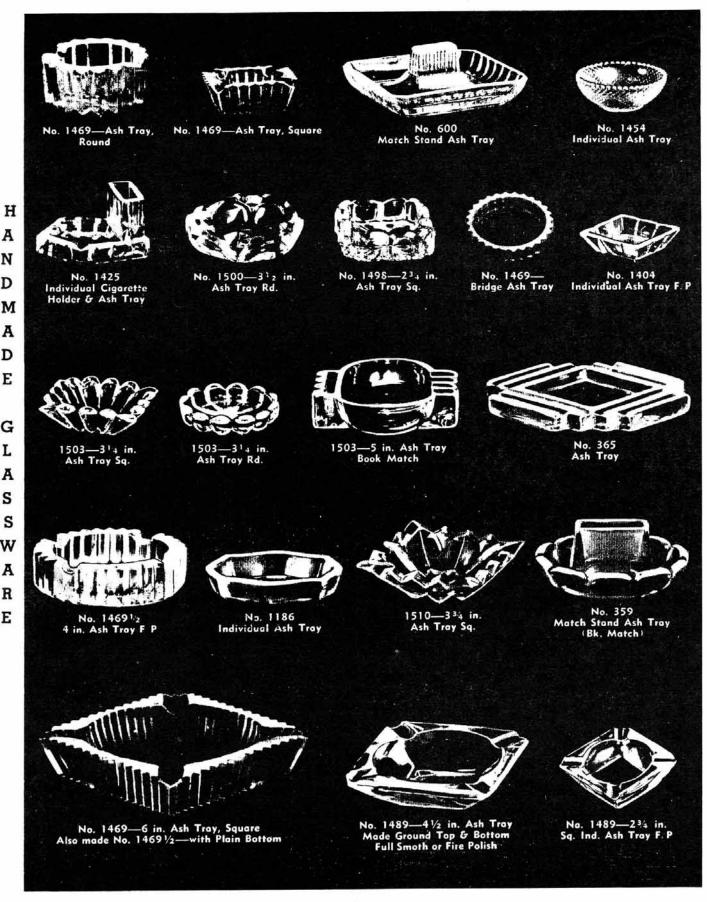

Enjoy!!

No. 1503 CRYSTOLITE PATTERN

THE COLOR OF GLASS

The firm, clean lines of good glass are its basic beauty. Some glass gains added beauty by being colored.

The colors of glass are quite unlike other colors you may know well. The very nature of the glass itself makes the colors different. Most of the glass you are most familiar with is translucent or transparent. Light shines through it, and it reflects light.

The colors used in glassmaking must be delicate, airy, light. There's life to them. Even when they are deep colors — like cobalt blue, or ebony — there's nothing stodgy or dull about them.

The richness of some Viking colors has never been equaled. Viking ruby glass has a flashing fire. Viking green is the color you find deep in a cool evergreen forest. Amber is true amber. Sky blue is like the June heavens.

It takes a man with the skill of an artist to color glass. This may account for the saying that glass is the most temperamental product America makes.

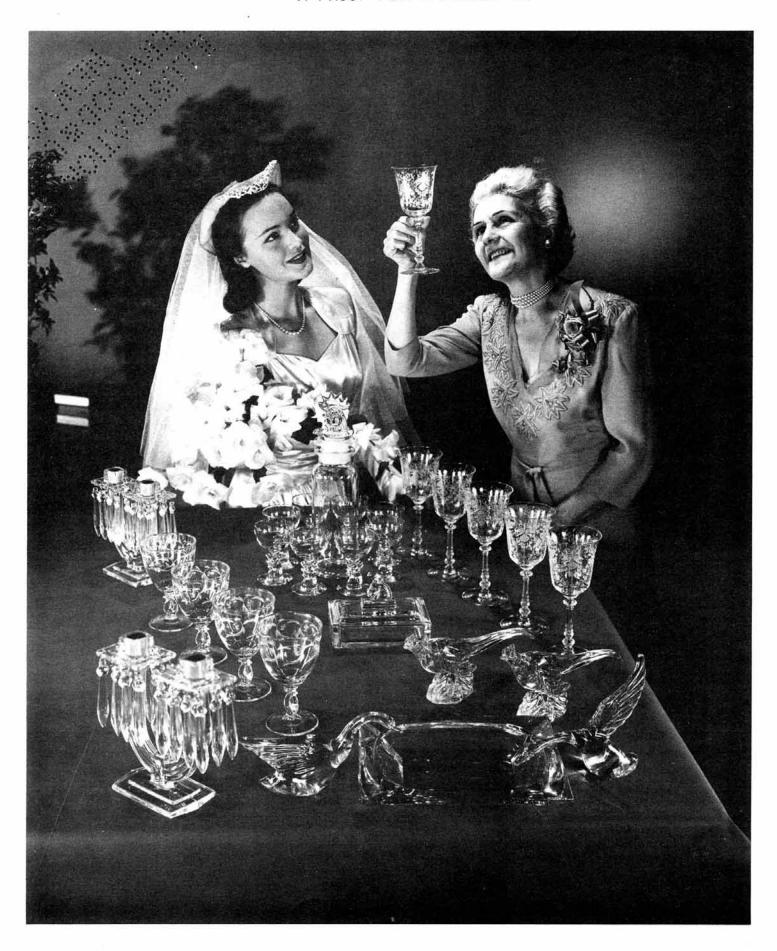

A relatively tiny amount of color is used to color a batch of glass. It's astonishing how little color goes into the 2000-pound batch you saw go into the pot to be melted.

Chemicals color glass. This is one reason why American hand made glass colors are probably the finest in the world. American chemicals are more carefully compounded. America has remarkable machines that exactly determine the purity of all the ingredients. American chemicals are abundant. They're true-to-character.

You might never be able to tell, from seeing the color of the raw chemicals, what colors they will produce in the glass. A white chemical sometimes produces amber glass. Green sometimes comes from a silver-colored chemical. Copper color will produce ruby; and so will a gold-colored chemical. It is even possible to use uranium, and produce a glass whose color glows! Arsenic goes into glass.

No glass company tells the secrets of how its colors are produced, any more than an artist whose colors are different tells how he mixes his pigments. Viking has great secrets.

New colors are constantly being experimented with and tested. If you should visit the color room, where the chemicals are stored (the room is usually kept locked, by the way!) you would see scales of all kinds, some of them as fragile-looking as jewelers' scales. You might see a man weighing and mixing chemicals, with the utmost precision, with matchless care. This is where colors are born.

A. H. HEISEY & COMPANY - A CHRONOLOGY

Part 13, 1953-1958

by Tom Felt

- January. Catalog 32 was issued.

February. The Domesti-Cater line was advertised as new, a collection of eight different sets made up of serving accessories, combining "fine crystal with ebonized or natural birch-and aluminum trays."

March. The No. 1076, Nonchalance cutting was shown as new in The Jewelers' Circular-Keystone.

April. 1847 Rogers Bros. began offering a "promotion magnet" for their new Heritage silverplate pattern, consisting of a 3-piece snack set in a gift box for only $3.95. This set included a Heritage snack server, or spoon, and a fork with a No. 1519, Waverly 2-compartment round relish. **

May. Howard C. Mueller, Heisey's vice president and treasurer, retired after 45 years of service. He began working at the factory as a boy out of high school and served 25 years in an executive capacity. Two new cuttings, No. 1079 Garland and No. 1080 Fern were shown in The Jewelers' Circular-Keystone on the No. 6003 Tempo stemware line.

December. The Crockery and Glass Journal announced that Eva Zeisel, the "internationally known designer and teacher," had been appointed as Heisey's art director. It was reported that she would "concentrate her efforts toward producing new concepts in glass."

A Commemorative plate was issued in 1953 for the sesquicentennial of Ohjo.

Other new cuttings included: No. 1077 Fanfare and No. 1078 Bellflower.

January. No. 6009A Roundelay, designed by Eva Zeisel, was shown at Pittsburgh. Heisey's new color, dawn, was also introduced at the same time. Several etchings by Eva Zeisel were also shown. Harold Dunham, advertising and sales manager, was named director of sales at this time, with coordination for all sales henceforth to be centered in the home office at Newark.

April 17. Ray C. Cobel, foreman of the mould making department and master mechanic for the plant, died at the age of 71.

Also new in 1954 was No. 1637A Town and Country, designed by Eva Zeisel.

One new stemware line was introduced No. 6004 Classic.

New cuttings included: No. 1083 Jungle Flower, No. 1084 Spring No. 1085 Forget-Me-Not No. 1086 American Beauty Rose and No. 1087 Comet.

1955 - February. Limelight, Heisey's last color, was advertised as new. 4

June. The Verlys line was advertised by Heisey. Sixteen moulds were leased from Verlys of America, Inc., a subsidiary of the Holophane Lighting Company, Inc.

Inc., a subsidiary of the Holophane Lighting Company, Inc. No. 1415 Twentieth Century, was reintroduced in dawn.

Eva Zeisel's design No. 1637A Town and Country, won the "Good Design" award for 1955.

T. Clarence Heisey represented the American Glassware Association at the Czechoslovakian Chamber of Commerce's Annual Fair.

- February. The new No. 1632 pattern was shown for the first time. Pieces in crystal were known as Satellite, whereas pieces in dawn were called Lodestar.

March. A new cutting No. 1091 Wheat was shown in The Jewelers' Circular-Keystone on the "new traditional shape in stemware," No. 1E92 Omega.

June 1. Catalog 33 was issued.

July 24. Emil Krall, Sr., died at the age of 75.

New stemware lines for 1956 also included No. 6010 Finesse.

The No. 1102 Bridal Band decoration was introduced. 7

Other new cuttings included: No. 1088 Aurora, No. 1089 Silver Leaves, No. 1090 Radiance, No. 1092, Melody, No. 1093 Flight, No. 1094 Ultronic, No. 1095 Tea Rose, No. 1096 Wreath, No. 1097 Wild Flower, No. 1098 Starflower, No. 1099 Festoon, No. 1100 Waltz, No. 1103 Hi Fi.

1957 - July. The Verlys line was discontinued and the moulds were returned to Holophane.

New cuttings for 1957 included No. 1083 1/2 El Dorado and No. 1104 Paradise.

Max Seidel retired this year, setting up a cutting shop in his home on Wing St. in Newark.

December. The factory closed the week before Christmas for the traditional Christmas vacation--and never opened again.

1956 - January. The reporter from Heisey for the American Flint wrote: "At first we were to be off for a few weeks but then during the middle of January the furnace was turned out until such a time when business would improve...On the 21st of January when our furnace was turned out, it made the first time since 1895...that all fires were completely out."

April 29. All moulds, related tools, etching plates, customer lists, production records, patents, copyrights, trademarks, and batch formulas were acquired by the Imperial Glass Corporation of Bellaire, Ohio. The agreement between the companies was negotiated by T. Clarence Heisey, as president, and Thomas C. Heisey, Jr. (Tim Heisey), as vice president, and Carl W. Gustkey, president, and J. Thomas Ball, vice president of Imperial. Orders for glass, totaling more than $30,000, were also transferred to Imperial and filled after a production break of 4 months, with Imperial beginning to use the Heisey moulds as early as May.

July. "Heisey by Imperial" was advertised, claiming that "two good names are better than one!" The retail outlet store at the Heisey factory in Newark remained open for about 15 months after the plant was closed.

*Original pattern name unknown; named by researchers.

Note: I have attempted to gather information from as many sources as possible, to verify that information from multiple sources when available, and to include the most likely "guesses" based on our current knowledge, when the sources disagree or reliable information is not available. I would appreciate very much hearing from anyone who has additional information, or who can confirm or correct any information given above. Please contact me c/o The Heisey News, P. O. Box 27, Newark, OH 43055.

- This piece is not listed in the 1953 catalog and may have been returned to production especially for 1847 Rogers Bros. at this time.
- 2. Roundelay was one of the few patterns ever produced by Heisey which seems to have been made in color only, and not in crystal.
- An obituary in the May issue of the American Flint gives his age as 70 at the time of his death. In fact, limelight is identical to Heisey's earlier color, from the 1930's zircon.

Originally made from 1931-1937.

- Some of the items in this line had different pattern numbers and were, in fact, reissues of earlier pieces, particularly from the No. 1626 line, which dates originally to 1952.
- Consisting of a platinum band applied around the edge of the pieces so decorated.

LETTERS, we get letters....

....Enclosed is my dues for 1987. I hope to avoid the problems of late newsletters another year and it seems better to send this along with my news for Janet for the column. I have not had an opportunity to send the list since last year and I have found some nice things. Moongleam pieces include: Twist Bon Bon, #1229 almond, #1401 Empress D/F 11" bowl, #1193 Inside Scallop cucumber dish, (This I had a hard time locating in my books) All these are marked. I found an unmarked #1229 bon bon in flamingo. "Nice pink dish," the lady said. In clear pieces I found a #353 8" vase which I have loved for the spring flowers this year. Also, #99 clear candlesticks. I am still looking for a match for my Flamingo one. The latest piece is a #1469 2 1/2 oz. bar glass. Sold as a toothpick. I picked up a nice full page color ad dated 1949 for the Plantation pattern, which is my wedding crystal.

My daughter received from relatives for a wedding gift, a dozen #411 tumblers. She does not really want these and may turn them over to me to use until she does.

June is a difficult time for me to get away, but I do enjoy reading of the plans for the convention and the report later.

Sincerely, Marion Rush

*This was too late for Janet's column so we decided to print Marion's letter. L.R.

The Ridgeleigh candelabra at A. H. Heisey Co. above will grace many a festive board this season. They retail for about $5.50 a pair, and can be had with or without prisms.
