Sam's Scribbles

Sam Schnaidt, President

I will start my column with some bad news. We lost two members during the last month. Leon Beaver of North Fort Myers, Florida had been very ill and died early in April. Ronald Moore, son of Vivian and Percy, also died about the same time. HCA sends it's deepest sympathy to the families of these two longtime members.

Also, I am sorry to announce that our administrator Sue Taylor has resigned and is going back to the East Coast. Sue has found that, although she was a native of Newark, after living in New York City for more than forty years she misses the city too much and has decided to return the area—she will be living in New Jersey. Sue has done a very good job for HCA and will be missed by both staff and volunteers. We all wish her well.

We have hired Mary Ourant as Sue's replacement. Mary has lived in the Newark area for many years and brings a strong retail and business background to HCA. Mary has owned several businesses of her own and has worked for large department stores as well. She has collected Vaseline glass and antique furniture. Her first day on the job was Monday, April 11 and it has been great to have her on board.

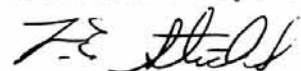

During the week of convention you won't want to miss the other exciting things going on around town, especially the Flea Market on the Square, sponsored by the Buckeye Heisey Collectors Club. The market's second day, June 18, is the last day of the HCA glass show and since the Granville show will be closed by then, it will be your last chance to shop around for the best bargains. And, best of all, it benefits HCA.

Amy Jo Jones has been working hard on all the last minute details for the convention. Don't forget everything is moving up a day earlier this year. Amy Jo, with the help of Jay Martin, has lined up a speaker for this year's banquet that we think will be outstanding. Read the convention schedule carefully in order not to miss any activities you wish to attend. Ken Dalzell has invited us back to the Dalzell Viking factory and Amy Jo has arranged mini busses for those wishing transportation from Newark. Dalzell will be making the Tropical Fish pieces. This should be an exciting item to see produced.

While we are talking about the Tropical Fish, see Charlie Wade's article for more information. The Tropical Fish is probably as difficult to make as the Flying Mare. I hope everyone who wants one is able to get an example.

The convention will be here sooner than you think!♦

Candidates for HCA Board of Directors

The HCA nominating committee met the weekend of the March 1994 Quarterly Meeting and nominated five candidates to the HCA Board of Directors. The list of nominees below is arranged alphabetically. Voting members must request absentee ballots by May 17, 1994 and return them to the HCA office post marked no later than by June 2, 1994. Please remember that instructions given for voting by absentee ballot reflect the rules set by the HCA By-laws, Article VII, section one, paragraphs (h) and (i). No exceptions can be made. Send ballot requests to: HCA Ballot, 169 West Church St., Newark, Ohio, 43055.

William Brakemeyer

Bill Brakemeyer has been a Heisey collector for just five years. During that time he has been a member of both HCA and the Heisey Club of California, where he has served as President, Editor of the Pony Express newsletter, member of the by-laws committee, HCA convention delegate, representative at the Cadillac Lincoln dinner and currently program chair. Bill has given presentations on Heisey glass with partner Dave Molina to the San Diego Depression Glass Society and the Depression Heirs Glass Club of the Inland Empire area. He has placed displays of Heisey Glass at Miller High School in Fontana, where he teaches English, and at the First United Methodist Church of Redlands, where he is an organist. He has helped identify glassware at the Redlands Historical Glass museum and runs a successful antique business. He has refined his own personal collection to Canary (Vaseline) and Cobalt as the main focuses. Bill looks forward to the opportunity to actively participate in the decisions and activities of HCA as it expands its board leadership to a truly nationwide representation. ♦

John Eshelman Jr.

John Eshelman Jr. is a lifelong resident of Licking County and is seeking re-election to the Board of Directors. He is a Real Estate Broker and lives in Newark with his wife Gerry. They are parents of three children, Jennifer, who is a surgical nurse, Leslie, who is an X-Ray technician at Licking Memorial Hospital, and John III, who is a Methodist minister in Cincinnati, Ohio.

The Eshelmans are active members of the Buckeye

Heisey Collectors Club. The club sponsors the Museum Benefit Raffle and donates all proceeds to the Heisey Museum. The club also sets up and oversees the Flea Market on the Square during Heisey Convention time.

John had been an active Board member for the last four years. He has served on the committee for the Cadillac Lincoln dinner since its inception and on the ticket sales committee for this important fund raiser. John feels the completion of the Heisey museum addition is the event he is most proud of during his term. He would like to remain a Board member to work on funding the Endowment to insure the future existence of our museum. ♦

James P. Houghton

Jim is a native New Englander currently residing in Southbridge, Massachusetts. Educated at Brown University Jim currently pursues a career as Senior Real Estate Tax Examiner for Transamerica New England when not searching for Heisey.

As activities chairman for the Yankee Heisey Club for the past four years, Jim has been the driving force behind the highly successful Yankee Invitational Antique & Glass Show held each fall in Sturbridge, Massachusetts to benefit HCA. Last year Jim was also responsible for organizing the first ever, HCA Board of Directors meeting to be held outside of Newark, Ohio, again in Sturbridge. Along with the Directors meeting he also headed an outstanding All Heisey auction to benefit HCA.

Jim is a member of the National Early American Glass Club and the National Capital Heisey Collectors Club. Jim is a frequent contributor to the Heisey News. He feels the future of HCA lies at the grass roots with increased HCA support of the National network of Study clubs along with expanded membership and interest in both HCA and Heisey glassware.

Jim's outstanding organizational and managerial skills as well as his passion for the historic preservation of the genius that was Heisey would be a solid addition to the Board of Directors as the world of Heisey approaches and celebrates its 100th year.

Jim is seeking his 1st term on the Board of Directors. ♦

Walter Ludwig

Walter Ludwig has been a resident of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania for over twenty-one years. He was brought up in Malden, Massachusetts and Hamburg, New York. He attended Hobart College graduating with honors with majors in mathematics and economics. Walter has worked for over twenty years for the WEFA Group, a major economic consulting firm, where he holds the position of Manager of Communications and Mainframe Processing.

Walter first began collecting Heisey in the early 1970s when he was going to flea markets with a friend and was attracted to the beauty of a green glass with a peculiar mark in the middle of each piece. He would buy practical pieces he could use that had this mark on them. It was several years before he learned that these pieces were Heisey Moongleam with the famous Diamond H mark. He joined HCA and attended his first convention in 1982. His collection has grown to the point that he is known as "Mr. Moongleam" within the Heisey family of collectors. His constant search for Heisey resulted in his becoming a dealer in Heisey who has set up at the convention for the last seven years, although he still considers himself a collector first and a dealer second. His Heisey collection has expanded beyond just Moongleam to include New Era, Aqua Calientes, Stanhope, and Hartman.

In 1989 Walter presented a seminar on "The Color Moongleam" at the convention. He has served for four years as the President of the Heisey Heritage Society. He has served on the convention Identification Panel for the last three years. As a member of the board, he would work to strengthen the club through emphasis on the growth of the endowment fund. He is also keenly interested in the social history surrounding the glass industry in the United States and hopes to integrate this information into the educational presentations the Museum is preparing. ♦

Jay C. Martin

Jay C. Martin has been an active member of HCA since 1984 (voting member 1986) and was an enthusiastic collector even before he joined. He is seeking election to the Board of Directors for his second four year term.

Many of you know that Jay collects the Crystolite pattern and that he has written articles for the Heisey News on this pattern. He has also lectured for the Westchester Glass Club on "Heisey A Brief History" and plans to do more lectures in the future. In addition to HCA he is a member of the following glass clubs: National Capital Heisey Collectors Club, Westchester Glass Club, The National Early American Glass Club, Ltd. and the Morgantown Collectors of America.

Jay is known to most of our members through his work, for five years, in the HCA booth at the NCHCC show in Silver Spring, Maryland, and at our convention show for three years. Others of you will know him as the Chairman of the Hospitality Room during convention for two years. Most all members who have ever volunteered to help HCA will have gotten to know Jay as he has also served, over the past ten years, on the following committees. Liaison (one year), Display (five years), Convention (six years), and Museum (seven years).

Jay has been a tireless worker, willing to help out wherever he can. He is firmly dedicated to the preservation and education of Heisey glassware. His main focus is on HCA's future and ensuring that The National Heisey Glass Museum remains strong for many generations yet to come. His most recent contributions to HCA have been as convention Show Chairman for three years and as co-chair of Publicity this past year. Jay is dedicated to continue working for the future betterment of HCA and it's membership at large. ♦

Richard "Dick" Smith

HCA member since 1978, Have served HCA Board of Directors eight years, National Vice President three years, National President two years. Have served on various committees including National Convention Co-Chair., Project, Museum, Expansion, Warehouse, Special Projects and Cadillac Lincoln Dinner.

I believe it takes a good team to run HCA. It takes different views and people from all walks of life on the Board so we can objectively make the right decisions. This is a great organization with great people, and I would like to use my past experience to help HCA continue its great tradition in the future. Dick and his wife Marilyn have one son, Douglas and one daughter Jennifer. ♦

Curator's Report

Karen D. Kneisley

The busy season is upon us. Volunteers have begun their steadfast spring cleaning of the collections. In the midst of preparing for convention and finishing our video production, Kelly and I will be meeting and greeting people as we increase the focus of our outreach efforts. Later this month, museums around the world will celebrate International Museum Day following the theme of "Behind the Scenes." Our community will follow suit with a special evening open house on May 18 from 6:00 to 8:00 p.m. We anticipate participation from other museums and community officials as part of this special celebration.

Thanks to the efforts of Amy Jo Jones and the Convention Committee, we have a lot of great things in store for you during this year's week of convention activities. I hope to meet more of you during the seminars that will be presented at the museum by our archivist and by myself. Don's presentation is bound to be exciting for all of you that are avid fans of his monthly column and I'm working on a deluxe tour of the museum.

Until then, ...♦

Therorems for Collecting

Carl Sparacio

As a novice collector I talked too much, I let everyone know what I was into. Why not? I knew I was collecting the best glass in the world and was tickled silly at how easy it was to collect (remember, I go back a few years). Time was you could go into an antiques shop or show and have a choice of Heisey to buy. If I was as bright as I thought I was at the time, I wouldn't have made a choice, I would have bought it all.

No matter, Heisey collecting, as anything that becomes a worthy collectible, eventually develops into a litany of shouldas. If I wore hash marks on my sleeves for every piece of Heisey I shoulda bought, I couldn't lift my arms. No sense recounting them here, that's a stroll down memory lane that might reduce a grown man to tears. Maybe I'll tell you about my shouldas in the future—after my eyes have dried.

As I said, as a novice I talked too much. It got so everyone in North Jersey knew I was a glass collector, though few made the distinction that Heisey glass was the glass I collect. I wear the title "glass collector" to this day even though I clammed up about it years ago.

Since I'm required by the editors of the Heisey News to keep this space educational, I offer Carl's First Theorem of Collecting for those new to the HCA and Heisey collecting (it's too late for the rest of you). This first theorem says: Don't let anyone know you collect anything. A corollary to that theorem says that right off people assume you know everything there is to know about the subject and visions of free appraisals dance in their heads.

It seems not a week goes by that someone doesn't say, "I hear you're a glass collector." I usually confine my answer to a simple, "yes," without further explanation. You understand why if you have ever tried to explain the word "Heisey"? People don't hear, "Heisey," when you say it. They hear, "high C," or, "Hi-C," instead. The last time I answered, "Yes, I collect Heisey glass," it went like this:

"Oh, Hi-C, the 10 percent fruit drink! But doesn't that come in metal cans instead of glass?"

"No, yes," I answered. The only honest response.

$\Sigma Hi - C\sqrt{\diamond} = 100\% \odot$

"I have a couple a hundred old mason jars I'd like you to take a look at. We haven't used them in years."

"But"

"My wife read in Kovac's antique column—"

"Kovel's antiques column," I corrected.

"Whatever—that old mason jars can be very valuable. She said I'd better research them before we chuck 'em into the recycling bin."

"When was the last time you put up preserves?"

"Oh, 1985, 86, easy."

"Wow, that old, huh? That's out of my league. You'd best consult a mason jar expert."

"Shall I write to the Kovacs'?"

"By all means, they know mason jars. Send them a photo of each jar and include written descriptions and any old rubber rings you still have around."

Some people are not as easy to get rid of but I've come to enjoy the challenge. Helen says I have a cruel streak but I notice when anyone asks about glass she says, "Don't look at me, talk to Carl."

Know what my problem is? I look more intelligent than I am. No, honest—I've been told more than once I look like a nerd. It's a curse. I'm sure it's the eyeglasses. I haven't used a pocket shield in years. Carl's Second Theorem of Collecting: When you admit to being a collector, don't wear your eyeglasses. ♦

Focus on the Collection—Reporting from the Mold Warehouse

Charlie Wade, Special Projects Chairman

A couple of years ago several of us were going over the different animal molds at the warehouse trying to see what could be used for the different series offerings. There were several molds that I could not find listed on the warehouse master. One of these was the Tropical Fish piece. Well, it took me several stabs at that list and a couple of hours climbing over molds, but at last it was found.

It seems that Imperial listed this as the "Fish Lamp Base" and being a nosey type of person that I am I just had to find this lamp and see what it looked like. Could this be a new item never produced or mentioned before? Could I have found a monstrous discovery? Well, as it turned out the lamp base was the rusted hulk of the Tropical Fish piece minus ring and plunger. It took three of us to open this thing up and inspect the inside. Pretty much the rest is history except to thank Ken Dalzell for cleaning and polishing the mold and in helping us with the ring and plunger fittings.

As summer nears several of us plan to go down to the warehouse and straighten the place up. Really we just want to try our hand at driving the new fork lift! One of our goals is to look at each mold, catalog it, and redo the location system that was first placed in use. As I find unusual or different information, I will write a brief account for your reading pleasure. ♦

This drawing was also labelled "Fish Lamp Base" by Imperial.

Endowment Fund Report

Chuck Jones, Chairman

On June 15, 1983, Bob McClain, HCA president and Dick Marsh, treasurer, presented a check for $3,700 to Licking County Foundation Chairman Frank Murphy to establish the Heisey Collectors of America Fund. The presentation took place at the museum. Today the Licking County Foundation still administers the fund through the Trust Department of Park National Bank. By combining assets with other small organizations in the LCF the joint effort would provide a larger sum in the hopes of better growth. Then the LCF assets were about $740,000; today over $10 million.

From July 1982 through 1986, donations from clubs and individuals had been about $6,000. Information for the Endowment Fund was obtained through the past year-end auditor's reports. Due to the nature of reporting at that time the year-end endowment status did not show the total for the fund, only annual contributions. Beginning in 1986 the fund was recorded independently, with 1986 closing with $18,584. From 1986 through 1988 the fund grew to $30,351. In 1986 the fund grew from another direction with donation of twelve shares of USF&G stock. Now it consisted of the HCA share of the Licking County Fund and the USF&G stock.

HCA President Bob Rarey, during the 1988 annual convention, announced the Board of Directors had set a goal of $50,000 for the fund and the HCA Endowment Fund was off and running in earnest. In 1990 the HCA Endowment Fund, through the hard work and fund raising efforts of individuals and clubs across the nation, the $50,000 goal was exceeded.

With the undertaking of an expansion to the museum the future survivability of The National Heisey Glass Museum demonstrated a strong need for an Endowment Fund to eventually meet the financial requirements for sustaining the museum. In 1991, HCA President Dick Smith formed a seven member HCA Endowment Fund Committee to begin monitoring the growth of the fund through donations and projects.

The year 1992 found the fund receiving a gift of five hundred shares of Deluxe Corp. stock valued at approximately $20,000. The dividends from the USF&G and Deluxe Corp. are deposited along with cash donations received into the Licking County Fund which also reinvests all dividends and interest earned. At the end of 1992 the HCA Endowment Fund totalled $114,735 and was comprised of the LCF, USF&G stock and Deluxe Corp. stock. The stock certificates for USF&G and Deluxe Corp. are maintained separately from the LCF and are held in the HCA safety deposit box at Park National Bank where they are inventoried annually.

In March 1993 the Endowment Fund Committee established a goal of $500,000 to be reached in ten years. With the completion of the museum expansion it was determined the fund could now begin to receive the major efforts of the HCA membership. This emphasis is beginning to be observed with the $30,000 gained from the donations from the 1994 All-Heisey Benefit Auction and Cadillac-Lincoln Dinner.

Nearly twenty years ago two hundred shares of Bob Evans Farms, Inc. stock was given to HCA. In that time through dividend reinvestment and stock splits they have grown to over 10,000 shares. It was recommended to the Board of Directors by the Endowment Fund Committee that these shares be designated as part of the fund. The Board approved the recommendation at the March 14, 1994, meeting and the Bob Evans Farms, Inc. stock is now officially included in the HCA Endowment Fund. The stock certificates will continue to be maintained in the HCA safety deposit box at Park National Bank. Today the HCA Endowment Fund consists of USF&G stock, Deluxe Corp. stock, Bob Evans Farms, Inc. stock and Licking County Fund and totals approximately $388,500.

Don't Forget ...

You can have lasting effect on the future of HCA and The National Heisey Glass Museum. Contribute to the Endowment Fund annually with your dues. These convenient membership levels make it simple.

Through the efforts of individual members and HCA clubs the Endowment Fund is inching closer to the goal set with the first deposit—support of The National Heisey Glass Museum. The results of the Mold Fund in 1983-1984 and the Expansion Fund 1990-1992 are clear indicators of membership support and interest maintaining the heritage of A.H. Heisey glass. This same dedication is reflected in the growth of the Endowment Fund and is the ingredient required to reach that self-sustaining goal. ♦

From the Archives—T. Clarence Heisey Tries to Perfect the Shaver

Don Valdes, Archivist

Today I presented Karen with some interesting letters, ones I thought were highly suitable for the interest of collectors. I sent them on down to Karen as they were more technical than my limited Heisey glass knowledge was capable of handling. So she gets the by-line, I've got plenty more here. For example: I mentioned technical. Now I think of myself as being rather technically oriented and the technical orientation of a series of letters between T. Clarence and Mr. F. G. Evans of the Sunbeam Corporation's service department got me duly impressed. On October 21 of 1954, Mr. Heisey sent his electric razor to the service department for repair. (This was not unusual, he also sent his Parker pens back to the factory for rejuvenation.) It was his postscript that intrigued me.

P.S. If it is possible, why don't you people incorporate a small shaver on this large one so that one can get the hair around the nose shaved clean. As it is, the razor is too big to do that and you have to use a razor to finish the job or use the old style thin electric shaver that you used to make one of which I have.

If you enjoy these monthly tidbits from the archives, you'll love the seminar planned for the convention. See pages 11 and 12 for more information and the schedule.

Sunbeam's Mr. Evans promptly replied. The following is an excerpt:

We were particularly interested in the suggestions which was (sic) contained in the postscript of your letter because it indicates that you have had some difficulty in getting a good shave around the nose. We wonder why this should be for most men tell us that they have no difficulty in shaving all parts of the face with the Shavemaster comb. While it is rather large in comparison to previous models of the Shavemaster, there is no difficulty at all in shaving the upper lip if you start at the outside at the corners of the mouth and shave inward and upward toward the center of the nose. Remember that there is no danger of cutting the end of your nose so that you can use considerable pressure if necessary.

Now not for a minute would T. Clarence take a letter like this sitting down. He replied by return mail:

Frankly, I think you have a wonderful machine but it really isn't worth a damn to get around one's nose, and my nostrils, you might say, are scarcely patrician. They are really the old double-barrel variety. Still, it is just hell to get the whiskers right below my nostrils. In consequence, I still have one of your smaller machines that I use just for that purpose...

Unfortunately, however, T. C. had met his match in F. G. Evans. Within a few days Mr. Heisey received a reply which included this information:

We hope that if you visit one of the branch offices in the near future with your Shavemaster, you can arrange to go without having shaved too recently, for we are pretty sure that one of our branch managers can demonstrate to you how to shave around your nose and on other hard to get at parts of your face with the Shavemaster. It seems that these are matters which are very simple to demonstrate but pretty hard to explain in a letter...

I love it! But then, I have a beard. ♦

Lavender Ice Collectors Take Note!

Charles B. Wade, Special Projects Chairman

Now that the bunny season is over it is only natural that we would move along into Spring. With Spring comes warm weather, boating, fishing, golfing, baseball and all of those great things we love to do this time of the year. One of my favorites is fishing! Fishing for a tropical fish piece that is. Beginning June 6, 1994, at 8:30 a.m. we will have a chance to hook one of these babies in Lavender Ice.

In trying to stay with the rare, hard-to-produce items, the Board has approved this item for your buying pleasure. Ken Dalzell has forewarned us that this piece is difficult to produce and has explained the production problems that Heisey and Imperial had specifically with this mold. Perhaps that is why this item is so scarce. Due to the complexity of the mold it is a challenge to try to force the glass through it. Ken has told us he will be using extra workers to help keep the mold hot to lessen the chances of wavy glass.

We have been told by those folks who saw the sample in March what a great addition the Lavender Ice tropical fish will make to their collection. However, if you are a perfectionist and expect no bubbles, mold mark, etc. in your glass I would suggest you examine the sample, on view in the Museum Shop, for yourself to be fully satisfied.

I personally feel this production is another world class item and in future years will increase in value. Again, this is one of the hardest animal types to find and this will be the only time it will be reproduced in Lavender Ice. Now is the time to add it to your collection.

Please read the ordering instructions carefully. We will be adding extra help to process the orders in a smooth and timely fashion. Please remember the proceeds from this project go directly to the general fund to help defray the operating expenses. As always, your help and support is greatly appreciated. ♦

Twenty-Fourth Annual Convention

Amy Jo Jones, Chairwoman

Here in Newark, things are really starting to perk in preparation for all the festivities. However, not just in Newark is the work done: In Connecticut Jay Martin has been busy all year getting dealers signed up to do the show; in California, Fran Brock's club is getting volunteers together to staff the HCA booth during all the hours the show is open. Virginia and Odell Johnson in Florida have been organizing the "goodie" brigade for the Hospitality Lounge; the North Carolina study club has been arranging banquet decorations. In Massachusetts, Janet Caswell has been talking to many people throughout the year to set up the usual breathtaking all-Heisey display at Hopewell Hall. In Dayton, the Dayton Area Study Club is just a short time away from pulling together their hardworking group again (after just setting up the auction) to host the Swap and Silent Auction. Locally, the dedicated core of members is going about the everyday tasks of pulling together the myriad of details to be accomplished before June such as cleaning all the glass displays in the museum. It is all done with great anticipation and excitement—what a great group this is!

Registration is required!

Schedule and form follow on pages 12 and 13.

Here is a closer look at some of the scheduled events:

Bus Tour—The bus tour to Dalzell-Viking last year which was so enthusiastically received, will be organized again this year for the purpose of viewing the production of the Tropical Fish. Lunch will again be served at the factory. If you didn't go last year, just a few minutes with someone who did will convince you that this demonstration of American glassmaking is well worth the trip. Note that it is possible to arrange your own transportation but still have lunch at the factory. Any way you plan to go, please indicate it on the registration form. We would like to give Ken Dalzell as accurate a count as possible.

Seminars—On Thursday, Joe Lokay, Heisey researcher, will present a seminar which looks at the design factors of the colonial period and how those factors were adapted to Heisey glassware patterns. Curator Karen Kneisley will present a deluxe tour (theme to be announced) of the museum on Friday at 1:30 p.m. Saturday at 1:00 p.m. HCA Archivist, Don Valdes, will speak on the wrap-up of his project of cataloguing all the correspondence in the archives relating to T. Clarence Heisey, sharing some new insights into business practices, hobbies and relationships.

Annual Meeting—One of the more interesting revisions to this year's schedule is the annual meeting slated for Friday, June 17. Because the Board of Directors considers the annual meeting the main event of the convention, it is scheduled at a time when the maximum number of convention attendees will be free to come. On the agenda is the election of directors and study club reports with the business meeting following. Cherry Valley will prepare each person who signs up for dessert a sample of their most luscious sweet treats which will be served between 7:00 and 8:00 p.m.

Banquet—This year's banquet speaker, Kirk Nelson, Curator of Glass at the Sandwich Glass Museum, will trace the history of dolphins in glass from classical times to the present but focusing primarily on ties between Heisey and Sandwich products. The title of his talk and slide presentation will be "Fabulous Fins: The Dolphin Motif in American Pressed Glass." Following the banquet, join us poolside at the coffee bar. (All types of flavored coffees will be served.) Mr. Nelson will be available to talk with us further. And, we will be able to get to know him through convention week—he will be arriving in Newark Wednesday to observe and join in all the festivities. Introduce yourselves; give him some Heisey hospitality. ♦

Don't miss this year's banquet presentation on the Dolphin motif.

CLUB NOTES

Heisey Collectors of Texas #16

Aleeta Herr, Secretary

The March meeting of Heisey Collector's of Texas was held in North Dallas at the home of Becky and David Hopkins. We had nineteen members and one guest present. HCT member Charlie Baird presented club members with a very informative program on Heisey tumblers. Charlie brought over twenty-five tumblers from his own collection for our guessing/viewing pleasure. Charlie also had very valuable information concerning the tumblers production dates, colors, and any that Imperial might have made.

Heisey Collectors of Texas meet bi-monthly in members' homes. Our next meeting is scheduled for Saturday, May 14th at the home of Charlie Baird and will be our annual auction/fundraiser for HCA. For meeting and/or membership information, please contact Aleeta Herr, 335 Hummingbird Lane, Duncanville, Texas, 75137. ♦

Northwest Heisey Collectors Club #22

Dixie Fuller, Secretary

Our April meeting was called to order by Rollie Martin, President. He introduced our new officers and began our meeting. Our show and tell meeting focused on our "First" and "Last" Heisey purchases. Some of these gems were a pair of Giraffes, one with head turned for $3.50 each; Ipswich luncheon plate for 99 cents! There were many exciting and fun purchases shared.

Many of our members will be heading out to Ohio starting in May. We discussed our participation in the convention and the raffle we will be holding. Everyone is urged to bring your small pieces of Heisey to convention in exchange for raffle tickets. The items will be donated to the museum and your raffle ticket entitles you to a chance at a Frosted Lavender Ice Flying Mare. Gordon Cochran is running this raffle and it should be fun! ♦

Virginia Heisey Club #35

Harriett H Slear, Vice President

The March meeting of the Virginia Heisey Club was held in the home of our President, Jean Dougherty. There were fifteen members and one guest present. After our business meeting our hostess, presented an excellent program candlestick. Each phase of the production of candlesticks was illustrated with beautiful examples from Jean's collection. Our finds included an interesting syrup with interlocking lid, excellent glass but maker not known, Chintz etched oyster cocktail, a #1231 cup and saucer in Moongleam, a Minuet etched Toujours plate, a Navy whiskey and a Carcassonne sherbert in Sahara. ♦

Yankee Heisey Club #41

Pat Gibbons, Secretary

Our March meeting was hosted by Donald and Betty Bean. President Tom Gibbons called the meeting to order. Charlie Horsfall reported there were twenty-eight paid Members to date. New England weather has presented a challenge for the membership keeping attendance lower than usual.

Jim Houghton and Tim Rector have been working on (it's hard to believe) our fourth Annual Yankee Invitational Antique Show and Sale to benefit HCA.

Our March program was Heisey candlesticks. Club members' contributions were educational in themselves. To name a few: #1252 Twist 2-inch in Moongleam w/Fern cutting, #300-1 candlelabrum 10-inch w/"A"prisms and many more interesting candlesticks were shared.

Show and tell was of equal delight with such items as a #4045 9-inch ball vase w/Mermaid etch, #2 Epergne w/cutting, and #353 Medium Flat Panel mug. Our next meeting is scheduled for May 2. Visitors are welcome. Anyone interested can call Pat Gibbons at 508-674-7361. ♦

Gulf Coast Heisey Club #42

Virginia Johnson

The March meeting of our club was held at the home of Odell and Virginia Johnson in Bradenton. We really celebrated St. Patrick's Day with green punch in a Lariat punch bowl. The program of the day was centered on Heisey's Greens—Emerald, Moongleam, Zircon and Limelight. Calvin Meyer had prepared information about these colors and passed around sheets for everyone to read. Members brought in different pieces and patterns in these brilliant colors and each one was described.

We now "adjourn" our meetings until november. Please check your Heisey News in October for more information. ♦
