Message from the President

Dear Heisey Collectors of America,

I thought I would share a story with you that made me smile. Recently my father received a call back scheduling his first vaccine shot. The gentleman on the other end questioned his 740 (Ohio) area code asking if he was from Mount Vernon. Daddy was at first concerned that he might get a hard time about his Georgia residency, but quickly found out that Luke's (the man's) interest was more personal. Luke recognized the area code because his grandparents had lived in Newark, and he asked if my father was related to the Heisey family that made crystal there. Relieved and delighted, my father answered that indeed we are related. They spoke for a while about neighborhoods and together identified where his grandparents lived, then they spoke about glass. It was an unexpected connection, but proof that you never know how or where you will meet another Heisey enthusiast! When Daddy arrived for his vaccination appointment, Luke made a point to come outside to meet him. They talked some more about glass, the Museum and HCA. Luke showed him a picture on his phone of his favorite piece of Heisey glass. Want to guess what it was? A crystal Sparky! I love that a piece of Newark, Ohio brought two Heisey collectors together in Savannah, Georgia. In the middle of a pandemic no less!

As we look forward to spring there is hope that we will see a time where we can safely come together and celebrate. There is still a lot of uncertainty in our plans for this year, but our committees are working hard to keep things moving in the right direction. I would like to thank them all for their time and dedication! You will be hearing from several of the chairs in this and future issues. Auction, Budget and Finance, Convention, Membership, Nominations, Properties, Projects, and Show Display just to name a few.

I can tell you here that the newsletter committee is investigating all avenues to support a robust, timely and educational publication. There is much happening behind the scenes and some great ideas are taking shape as chair, Geoff Heisey, and committee move forward. Do you receive a digital copy of the newsletter? If not, I recommend that you contact the museum today to be added to that list. I personally enjoy seeing the full color that this option provides.

Have you placed your bid for the February Fund-Raiser Auction? There are some beautiful pieces that I have my eye on. There were a few pieces in Jack's last video of the museum shop that I liked as well. If something caught your eye, please call the museum and let our staff help you shop! They can answer questions about pricing and changing inventory so that you get exactly what you are looking for. I wish you luck on winning your favorites in the auction!

H.C.A. 2021 CONVENTION NEWS

MEET ME AT THE CONVENTION DISPLAY ----

Please accept this as a very optimistic invitation to participate in a highly special event during our very celebratory 50th anniversary of the founding of the Heisey Collectors of America. Many of you remember the spectacular table settings showing a complete setting for four of each of the Heisey colors. The tables were featured for many years at our earlier conventions. I personally remember the great efforts and organizational skills of Mary McWilliams and Janet Caswell to name just a couple.

I would like to have those tables recreated for our upcoming convention to commemorate the 50th anniversary. Can you picture it? Yes, optimistic due to the virus we've all been avoiding; however, with the vaccine maybe we will all be able to gather again, although cautiously. I need to plan now or it will never happen. Again, I invite you to participate to recreate this spectacular site.

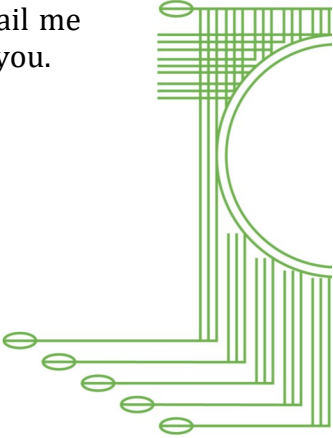

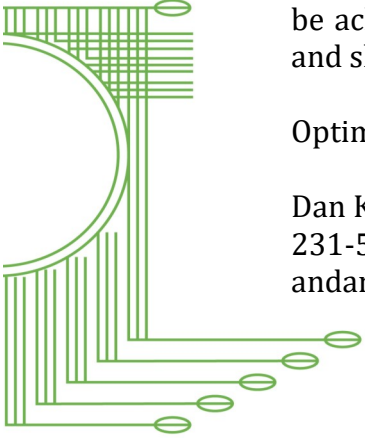

In addition to these featured tables, additional tables were available to view, displaying various "collections" of Heisey glass. At the early conventions, it was a "given" that each study club was represented. A member or group set up a specific category, i.e., cream & sugar sets, decanters, punch bowls, smoking paraphernalia, vases, candlesticks, perhaps cuttings or etchings. I remember one year my family set up a "dressing table" with perfumes, colognes, powder puffs, hair receivers, lamps and more. The Heisey categories are endless. Surprise me!

So, let's be optimistic and prepare to celebrate a very special event. Even if we are postponed again this year, 50 YEARS, will be acknowledged at some point in time. Please call or email me and share your ideas. As always, I will be glad to hear from you.

Optimistically yours,

Dan Kilgore

Words From Your Director – Curator

Where did January go please tell me? I think we have been holding our collective breaths that 2021 would be a much better year than the one just over but, I am not sure this whirl wind start is exactly what I had in mind!

Very good organized speed is what was experienced, in a positive way, one weekend here at our Museum in early January ( please see our back cover ). What we were thinking would take two long week-ends of work was accomplished in only one three day marathon session. All of the glass, some 1228 plus lots for our “Spring Auction”, were unpacked, organized, photographed, repacked, and securely returned to storage. Roy Eggert took every single photo himself. Mary Ann Spahr did her usual amazing job of organization and keeping us all to task as well as her excellent computer work. Dick and Marilyn Smith, along with Walter Ludwig and Lisa Baldus, unpacked sorted and checked against the catalog every item in preparation for photographing. Andy Baldus and I repacked everything after the photos were taken. We were all very thankful for the youth and strength of our new employee Nathan Hood who was in charge of moving some 160 chicken boxes ( many very heavy as if Walter had packed them ) two times. All of this was accomplished while wearing masks and maintaining safe distances. The fellowship and cookies (thanks to the Balduses and Smiths) were very much enjoyed by all. They served as an excellent reminder of some of the most missed, but best parts of HCA. Details are still being worked out, however, the very good news is that there will be an opportunity to buy Heisey in a spring auction this year!

On another positive note please enjoy our cover. These are some of the items that, thanks to your generosity and kindness, we were able to add to our Museum collection in 2020. I find this especially positive this year. I serve as president of The Licking County Historical Alliance, a group of museums, libraries, historical societies, and other organizations that promote the celebration of history in Licking County. I have heard stories here and from other reliable sources of museums that are having to sell off items from their collections to stay afloat. A very beneficial reminder of how very strong our foundations were built in so many ways. It is very important careful stewardship and planning for our future and to secure the next 50 years !

We do have 50 years to celebrate this year and that is, indeed, a fantastic milestone to have reached. There are a great deal of planning meetings and parallel planning secessions going on these days. Planning for the way we hope to have to pull off our events and strategies for the “what if” scenarios that may arise. HCA learned a large number of lessons in 2020 to say nothing of the 49 years plus. I am optimistic and looking forward to our future and being able to gather together once again, please stay tuned for details!

In Thanks and with excitement ,

TREASURER'S REPORT

By Karen Taylo

November Financials

November was a great month. Revenue for the month equaled $10,051 against a budget of $5,864. Sales and cash donations both exceeded budget for the month. As a result, the year-to-date total income shows a negative variance of only $92.

The Museum staff continue to do a good job of monitoring expenses. We had to repair the guttering on the warehouse in November due to the fire next door. This was an unexpected expense, but very necessary before the onset of winter. As a result, overall expenditures were over budget by $1,637. Year-to-date, we are still under budgeted expenses by $13,223.

PPP Loan Update

I am happy to report the SBA approved our PPP Loan Forgiveness application in late December. The full loan amount has been forgiven. The funding covered almost 3 months of wages for our employees and allowed the Guest Member Services Associates to return to work while the Museum remained closed due to the pandemic.

Cash Position

Our cash position remains good. This is a testament to the wonderful support you provided throughout 2020. To each and every person who donated money or purchased items from the gift shop, please accept my heartfelt thanks!

Feel free to contact me if you have any questions.

Please continue to wear your mask, wash your hands, and keep your distance when in public!

2020 HCA Budget

By Karen Taylo

2021 HCA Budget

Karen Taylo

Developing a budget during a global pandemic...I can check that off my Treasurer's bucket list! Normally, revenue and expense trends from the current year are used in developing the new budget. But, 2020 was anything but normal so there were a few more challenges than usual.

The 2021 Budget has been approved by the Board of Directors. The budget document includes actual revenues and expenses for 2016, 2017, 2018, 2019 and the budgeted numbers for 2020 and 2021. Final 2020 numbers are not available yet. There will be a year-end wrap-up in next month's newsletter.

The 2021 budgeted Sales goal remains the same this year. As was the case last year, real Heisey was our best seller accounting for 25% of total sales revenue. Pumpkins and ornaments provided strong revenue streams, accounting for 17% and 16% of total sales, respectively. Beads, leaves, and the newly introduced hearts sold well through the year.

Cash donations increased to $18,000. We have met the cash donations goal each of the last three years. Your generosity in 2020 was overwhelming and greatly appreciated. With the continuing uncertainties we face in 2021, your support means more than ever.

The budget relies on our ability to hold regular fundraising events throughout the year: Spring Benefit Auction, Convention, Dave Spahr Fall Select Auction and Percy & Vivian Moore Weekend. We will make decisions on the viability of these events as they draw near, keeping the health and safety of the membership foremost in our minds.

Expenses are consistent with the 2020 numbers. The 3% increase in salaries and wages reflects anticipated annual wage increases for the Museum staff.

Last year, I ended the 2020 budget article with the following: "Your continued support of the Museum is key to our success. We hope to see everyone at our 2020 events." The first sentence rang truer than ever in 2020...YOU were the key to our making it through the year so successfully. Let's hope the second sentence, modified to reflect 2021, can (safely) come true sometime this year! Stay safe, my Heisey friends!

HEISEY NEWS AND UPDATES

2021 Dave Spahr Fall Select Auction

As your Auction Committee is getting ready for the 2021 Spring Benefit Auction in April, we are making plans for the 2021 Dave Spahr Fall Select Auction.

This auction will take place in conjunction with the Percy and Vivian Moore weekend in October. A date has not yet been determined.

For this auction, each consignor (HCA member) may submit a list of glass they wish to place in the auction. This list of no more than 40 lots of clean, damage free, pristine Heisey glass must be submitted by 1 May. The Auction Committee will evaluate each list and choose the rarer, hard to find and more desirable Heisey items. Consignors will be notified in early June which items have been selected. There is no limit on the number of lots you wish to donate.

Please do not send or deliver any glass to the museum until you have been notified which items have been selected. Once you have been notified of which lots to ship or deliver, you will have until 30 July to have it at the museum. Please keep in mind there have been issues with shippers and the post office in delayed mail and packages so ship as soon as you are able. HCA is not responsible for lost, misdirected or late mail.

We will inspect, catalog and photograph the selected glass in early August and have the catalog printed, mailed and online by the end of August.

We hope to have 250-300 lots of wonderful Heisey glass for your bidding and buying pleasure. Remember this is a large fund raiser for the museum, please bid often and bid high! Support your museum!

Roy Eggert, Auction Firm Manager / Auction Committee chair

CANDIDATES SOUGHT FOR NEW BOARD OF DIRECTORS

If you would like the opportunity to help shape the future of the Heisey Collectors of America and the National Heisey Glass Museum, consider being a candidate for election to the Board of Directors in June.

The Nominating Committee of Mary Cameron, Sandy Dyer, Charlie Wade, and Mary Olson, chair, is now seeking candidates. Each year, three people are elected to four-year terms on the 12-member board that makes decisions for the organization and the museum. Candidates must be voting members of HCA. (If you are not currently a voting member, you may become one by paying a one-time fee of $25. See Membership information on page 26 of this newsletter.)

Serving on the board is an interesting, challenging, educational and rewarding experience. If you would like more information about the work of the board and the level of commitment necessary to serve on the board, you may contact any board member (see page 3 of this newsletter for contact information) or Nominating Committee member.

The deadline for deciding to run for the board is April 1 to allow time for publishing candidate profiles in the May issue of Heisey News.

If you decide to run for the board, please contact, committee chair Mary Olson (612-597-1284 or marythereseolson555@gmail.com) to make arrangements.

Art Before Design: The Cherub Candlestick

PRODUCT SPECIFICATIONS:

Pattern Number: 111

Production Years: OCT 1926 – 1929 Size: 11 ½" – 11 ¼" Tall

Colors: Crystal, Moongleam, and Flamingo (Optional Frosted / Satin Etching) Catalogues: 109 (pg 126)

While working at the National Museum the other day, I had the pleasure of meeting a gentleman, viewing his glass, and assisting him with some research regarding his Heisey sow and piglets. Treasured pieces of his eclectic collection, they were originally owned by his mother or grandmother – one of the first things he retrieved from her house after her passing. All of the piglets were in sore shape, all with numerous chips, cracks, and the like; while I did my best to clean them, he related how he used to play with them as a child, throwing them “like dice.”

Goodness, how surprising! It was a wonderfully unique story and I am honored to have been allowed to handle such beautiful pieces, each practically worthless monetarily, yet in every way priceless for this particular individual. It is strange to think, but some of my favorite pieces have been those doomed by their everyday use; that the value I sometimes emphasize is intrinsic rather than that of scarcity, condition, or material. I do love a good story after all. I told the gentlemen that instead of referring to the piglets as beat-up or abused, he should consider them “well-loved.” I believe the sentiment was well received – there is no shame in really loving your Heisey.

Altered Heisey Flamingo no. 111, ca 1900. Note, the missing top candle cup, ground and polished area, and overall reduced mold flashing on the piece.

Art Before Design: The Cherub Candlestick

Sometime after the HCA's acquisition of the Heisey molds from Imperial, pattern no. 111 was colloquially renamed to its current designation as Heisey's "Cherub" candlestick. Unfortunately, nearly all other information on Heisey's no. 111, rephrased or otherwise directly restated in other reference works, can be detailed by Felt and O'Grady in their book, Candlesticks Candelabra and Lamps:

"The no. 111 was the third in the series of reproduction candlesticks to be made by Heisey in the mid- twenties. It was first made in October 1926 – well out of sequence, since by then the no. 112, 113, 114, 116 and 118 candlesticks had already been issued. The pattern numbers assigned to candlesticks during this period probably reflected the order in which they were designed; variations in the sequence of actual production are probably due to the various difficulties encountered in executing certain designs. For instance, in the case of no. 111, it is known from a former employee of the company that this was one of the most difficult molds the mold making shop had ever been called upon to produce. Reportedly, it took a total of nine months to complete.

This close-up of the cherub candlestick displays the superior craftsmanship and exceptional detail of the face and hands on the figure.

It is uncertain whether the no. 111 is an exact reproduction of any particular early American candlestick. Similar designs were made in the 1880's and 1890's by Central Glass Company<sup>1</sup> and the United States Glass Company<sup>2</sup> among others. However, it is equally possible that the original model for this particular candlestick may have been French.<sup>3</sup>

At any rate, after having taken so long to produce initially, Heisey's no. 111 was then made for little more than three or four years at most and is the most difficult of the three reproduction candlesticks to find today. It was made in all three colors both a clear and with a satin finish, but is found more often with the satin finish. Like the other reproductions, it is never marked.

Art Before Design: The Cherub Candlestick

1. Central's no. 691 cherub candlestick is pictured in the catalogue of an exhibition held June 8- September 1, 1980, at Huntington Galleries, Huntington, West Virginia, entitled A Century of Glassmaking in West Virginia.
2. United States Glass Company's no. 17 candlestick was pictured in an ad in the August 3, 1892 issue of China, Glass & Lamps, p. 5 bis.
3. A pair of lustres attributed to Baccarat, with a base which appears to be strikingly similar to Heisey's no. 111 candlestick, are shown in Hammond's Pictorial Guide to American Antiques, p. 147."

Felt and O'Grady appear to be justified in their assumptions. While information on the United States Glass Company's no. 17 could not be located, Central's no. 691 looks to have begun production in 1882, and the earliest instance of the corresponding Baccarat design seemingly appears in a catalogue from 1893 with another source claiming a similar sighting in a catalogue from 1895. In contrast, Heisey's Cherub design began production in October of 1926 which supersedes the others by a substantial amount of time. Unfortunately, original sketches of the Heisey design either no longer exist or never did in the first place, nor do there appear to be any published design or engineering patents. Examples of marketing were similarly unaccountable.

Democrats and Republicans don't see eye to eye on many issues, but they could readily agree on the quality of Heisey Crystal. Since 1895, the Diamond-H (the industry's oldest, nationally-recognized trade mark) has been a dependable symbol of consistently fine glassware.

Elected to serve in so many homes throughout the country, Heisey Rose . . . Orchid . . . Williamsburg . . . Waverly . . . Cabochon, with their complete lines of sparkling stemware and matching table pieces, make an impressive parade of popular Heisey patterns.

For a sincere vote of confidence from your customers, be sure you're well stocked for the holiday season with the many lovely gift items Heisey offers. A. H. Heisey & Co., Newark, Ohio.

Thanks to our Spring Auction Set-Up Team!

All of the glass, some 1228 plus lots for our "Spring Auction", were unpacked, organized, photographed, repacked and securely returned to storage. Roy Eggert took every single photo himself. Mary Ann Spahr did her usual amazing job of keeping us all on-task and organized. Also, thanks to Dick and Marilyn Smith, along with Walter Ludwig, Lisa Baldus who unpacked sorted and checked against the catalog every item in preparation for photographing. Many thanks to Andy Baldus who re-packed items and everyone else that helped as well!
