About the cover: This month's cover photo was discovered by member Mart Groesser while he was doing some research in the HCA archives. Mart thought that the photo was the perfect cover for the November issue. Pictured in a patriotic party hat and holding a political cartoon poster is Heisey Company President, Clarence Heisey. The man pictured to the far right is Rod Irwin, long-time Heisey sales manager. Mary Heisey Merrill, daughter of Clarence Heisey, recognized the location of the photo as being the Granville Inn.

Mary Merrill has been kind enough to loan HCA a recent family photo and to provide us with information regarding the Heisey family genealogy. See pages 10 & 11.

The Acquisition Committee recently purchased a plate with "Elect Landon Save America" carving. For the story behind this 1936 presidential candidate and his connection with Heisey, see page 9.

A Reminder To Advertisers: Effective March 1992, the deadline for submitting ads is the 1st. of the month preceding the month of publication, e.g. ads received by Nov. 1, appear in Dec. Heisey News. It is the responsibility of the advertiser to submit ads on time. Ads can be faxed to (614) 345-9638, however, complete charge card information must accompany all faxed ads. Late ads will be held until the next month's issue; late ads will be returned to the advertiser upon request.

Sam's Scribbles

Sam Schnaidt, President

The fall days here in central Ohio have been warm and sunny and the nights cool, clear and crisp. The trees are getting more colorful every day. This beautiful fall weather has enabled our construction workers to make good progress on the museum addition. The concrete for the second floor has been poured and as I write this, the second story cement block walls are being built.

Work begins on the second story. Photo S. Pennington

The Gold Animal Collector's Series Committee has met twice in the last two weeks; the last time ten people got together with less than three hours notice. It is this kind of excitement and dedication of members that makes this organization great. The rumor is that for many of you, Santa's sleigh could be drawn by a pair of hot pink (Rosalene) colts, instead of reindeer this Christmas. Watch for more information in the December issue of Heisey News.

Stan Holmquist delivered a number of animal molds to Dalzell Viking, who will conduct a feasibility study to determine which molds could be used in a second series--a color has yet to be determined.

Frank Frye is planning a committee meeting to discuss next year's Cadillac-Lincoln Dinner.

Jim Clark, Amy Jo Jones and their committee are working on details for the next Benefit Auction to be held March 12 & 13, 1993. Start getting your glass ready. Don't forget, donations of glass may be used for General Fund or Building Fund. Norm Thran, (who we kiddingly say has permanent space in my office) has just told me that he has cancelled two up-coming shows. He is afraid he'll miss something if he is gone for more than a week and he wants to be here to count the money for the Building Fund. He wants more money to count, so please send in a donation to help keep Norm busy and out of Jan's way! The support from the membership has come from about 20% of our members. If you are among the 80% who has not yet made a contribution, we need to hear from you, the silent majority.

Get well wishes go to several HCA members this month: Russell Ream, Al Miller, Helen Pallagi, Mac McWilliams, Helen Rarey, Mr. Chris & Mrs. Chris Maskaleris. Hope everybody's better soon!

HCA wishes to express condolences to Chauncey Delaney, whose father passed away in September. We also want to extend our sympathy to Elaine Cobel on the death of her parents, Arlow & Avis Woods.

Don't forget the Holiday Dinner on December 5th, at the Best Western, Newark Inn. The dinner reservation form appears on page 22 and the area motel list is on page 5 of this issue. We are planning to auction off some special items at the dinner and we'll have a few surprise items, too. No mail bids will be accepted so, if you aren't planning to attend the dinner, make arrangements with a friend to bid for you. Here is a partial list of the mini auction items:

Gazelle, Plumstone	(2)
Sow on bust-off, Rosalene	(1)
Cygnets on bust-off, iridized Rosalene	(1)
Fish bookend, Sea Mist green	(1)
Rococo pitcher, Fenton blue	(1)

Proceeds from this mini auction will be split--half to the Building Fund and half to the Endowment Fund.

Curator's Report

Kathy McCracken

We are enjoying some beautiful fall weather here in Newark and, as a result, work on the museum addition is proceeding quickly. The second story will be completed soon and I now have a better idea of the amount of space we will have--WOW! Once the building construction is complete, there will still be a tremendous amount of work to be done to finish the interior and to get ready for visitors.

The Acquisitions Committee was busy in September and we were able to add some interesting pieces to the museum's collection: a 1 1/2" whimsy candlestick in Sahara, a #1401 Empress plate in Alexandrite with an unknown cutting, a #1184 Yeoman plate with the "Elect Landon" etching, a #1229 Octagon footed mayonnaise in Tangerine (pictured above) and a 13" bottle vase in Cobalt.

The Plumstone Fish Lottery was very successful. We received 157 applications and we had 61 fish. Thanks to everyone who supported this project. There are also still a few frosted Rosalene animals available in the Gift Shop--mostly Gazelles and Cygnets--please call if you are interested.

It has continued to be surprisingly busy most weekdays and weekends at the museum. Many of our visitors are out-of-state travellers who are visiting all of the glass museums and sites in the area and they are all impressed with our display here. We even had visitors who were glass collectors from my hometown last week--London, Ontario!

September 25 was my first anniversary as curator here at the museum. When I look back through my calendar, I am amazed at what we have done in the last twelve months. Thanks to everyone for their support.

LETTERS ABOUT LARIAT

In the October issue of Heisey News we included two photos of a Lariat creamed soup bowl with underplate and asked the HCA membership to let us know if they've seen these pieces. Here are the responses we received:

Hi there!

The enclosed pictures are of pieces in my wife's Lariat collection. They were collected over a period of years. Hope this is helpful. We found the pieces in the Newark area at convention time--probably, we think, at the Newark show or out at Granville.

Good Hunting.

G.L.

Peoria, IL

Dear HCA,

Just wanted to drop a note to say that on the Lariat creamed soup bowls, we've got 14 of them. We bought them at the convention at the show, about five years ago.

Please let us know how many there are.

Thank you.

D. K.

Knoxville, TN

Dear Ms. Pennington:

How excited I was to receive this month's newsletter. Two reasons: 1) the mention of the Lariat creamed soup bowl, 2) the reprint of the Lariat catalog list. I had the booklet containing this list but lost it in our move.

In August of this year we were visiting our children in Cleveland and our son asked me to do an inventory of the Lariat that I had purchased for them over the years. Included in this collection is two creamed soup bowls.

Going through all of my Heisey and glass books, I could not find anything on the soup bowl, so I thought perhaps I was wrong in calling them soup bowls. You have solved both of my problems, identifying the dish as a soup bowl and giving me the Lariat list that I lost.

Thank you. G.L.

1993 HCA BENEFIT AUCTION MARCH 12 & 13, 1993

APPLE TREE AUCTION CENTER
1616 W. CHURCH ST.
NEWARK, OHIO 43055

HCA has been very fortunate in the last year to have so many new members join our ranks. Of all the membership benefits to be enjoyed, the opportunity to participate in the annual All Heisey Benefit Auction is one of the most exciting. Not only is it a great way to snare those pieces eluding your collection, but it is also very educational to attend. Most of all, we urge you to participate by consigning and making glass donations. Last year over 960 lots were consigned and 95 lots donated. Approximately $15,000 profit went to the General Fund plus the $3200 profit realized from the donated lots which benefitted the Building Fund. Hundreds of mail bids were handled and hundreds of pieces of glass were shipped all over the country to successful mail bidders. As a review for all members, here is how the auction works:

Each HCA FAMILY may consign 12 lots of Heisey glass. Each lot may contain as many items as you wish. 80% of the price realized goes to the consignor and 20% to the General Fund. Any item which sells for $5.00 or less will be considered a donation.

Glass given as donations are gratefully accepted. 100% of the profit goes to the General Fund, or to the Building Fund if you prefer, and is tax deductible by you. You may donate as many lots of glass as you wish in addition to your twelve lots.

SHIP TO : HCA
169 W. Church St.
Newark, OH 43055

Please enclose a packing list with every box. If more space is needed, reproduce the form. Please note: the Benefit Auction contract appears on page 23, just below the packing list. A signed contract should accompany your auction glass.

Remember to clean your glass - glass in good condition receives better prices.

All glass is inspected when received. Any glass found not to be Heisey will be returned, including Heisey by Imperial and commemorative pieces.

DEADLINE: Glass for the auction must be received by 4:30 p.m. on Monday January 4, 1993.

Views From the Fund Raiser

Norm Thran

As I write this article, October 12, 1992, I can't help but think of how much has been accomplished in such a short period of time. The past 12 months have seen the planning lead to actual construction. The major fund-raising projects of 1992, (Cadillac/Lincoln Dinner and Gold Animal Collector's Series) have been completed and with great success for the Building Fund. The volunteers for those projects did an exceptional job and the many long hours paid off with the profits going toward the building.

Speaking of the building, we can see progress being made at a rapid pace day by day. The block work is almost complete; the second floor level is 90% complete. The roof should be on and complete in the next ten days. We have temporary electric and rough plumbing. The interior framing is underway. The membership support has been tremendous. Let's all pull together and continue to Build For The Future.

BUILDING FUND SUMMARY

Total September 14, 1992	$254,000.00
Interest Received on Account	153.00
Member gifts/donations	600.00
Donated glass	600.00
Gold Animals Series	649.00
Total raised as of Oct. 12, 1992	$256,000.00

Please consider your gift or support to this project if you haven't done so already. The various support committees for the expansion are meeting on a regular basis again, similar to last year. Watch your newsletter for details on what is coming. Till next month--Keep up your support, get your pledge in and help us grow.

The construction progress during the last month is shown in the pictures appearing on this page. Photos by S. Pennington.

HCA Endowment Fund

Bob Ryan & Amy Jo Jones

The Endowment Fund was formed in the early 1980s to eventually fund the operating expenses of the Heisey Museum. As of July 31, 1992 the fund total stands at $94,002.62. Presently, each membership contributes $3.00 per year to the Endowment Fund. All other monies are gifts from affiliated chapter clubs, members or individuals other than HCA members. Funds of any type, e.g. cash, stocks, bonds, real estate, chattels, or anything of value may be bequeathed or given to HCA designated for the Endowment Fund. In columns to follow, we will offer definite ways a member may handle gifts.

This is always a difficult subject to approach. However, there are many of the membership who have had a long-standing relationship with HCA, who have put a lot of work and financial help into the organization, and who want to be certain of HCA's continuation, secure in the knowledge that the museum will survive throughout the years. The museum was a passion with these members who were among the first to belong to the club. It was always their goal--not if, but when and where.

The daily operation of the club has kept the focus on meeting operational expenses. When the Endowment Fund was formed, there was no formal push to increase it until 1988 when plans were made to focus attention to the fund and make it grow more rapidly. The people of Heisey collecting have been very resourceful in a short time to have done all of the things they have done financially, along with making it the most secure and safe collectible when they purchased the original existing molds, bought a warehouse for these molds and continued to grow in other ways. It is hoped each of you will consider how you can join in with your help to make this fund grow rapidly. All gifts are 100% tax deductible. If you need any information or help in making a gift, you are welcome to contact members of the Endowment Fund Committee. Members are: Bob Ryan, Chairman, Amy Jo Jones, Co-Chairman, Curt Guilmette, Charlie LeBlond, Chuck Jones, and Carl Sparacio. Contact HCA for assistance in locating any of the members.

Book Review

George Reynolds

Kovar, Lorraine--Westmoreland Glass 1950-1984

Vol. 1, 200 pages. Available in soft cover or hard cover, includes price guide. Published by Antique Publications Box 553, Marietta Ohio 45750

The author begins her work with a brief forward, explaining how she became interested in this fine glass. She continues with a short history of the Westmoreland firm until its demise in 1984. The historical review is short and to the point with some old photos shown of the workers at the plant. This is followed by illustrations of the various marks and labels the firm used over the years. The companies who continue to produce glass using the Westmoreland molds are listed. The list is valuable to all current collectors who are not interested in reproductions. The care and feeding of Westmoreland glass is then reviewed. This is basically a short lesson on how to avoid destroying the glass while cleaning and storing.

The text begins with the American Hobnail line and continues through most of the modern patterns. There are numerous black and white photos with twenty eight in color included. Each picture is marked with a code number. The Code Section that begins on page 109, then identifies the item by number. The identification includes the use, colors, availability and reproductions (if any). This will be of tremendous value to a collector.

Westmoreland apparently realized that they needed marketing help in 1973. They established a working arrangement with the Levay Distributing Company the same year. The first glass sold through Levay was the Fan and File childs set. This relationship continued until Westmoreland closed its doors with Levay selling their own signed line, commencing in 1978. The L.G. Wright firm entered into a similar arrangement with Westmoreland. None of the Wright firm's glass is marked with any type of logo, according to Kovar.

The author's first attempt at the research and detail required to produce a book of this type has resulted in a very successful volume that should be helpful to all collectors of this modern glass.

Antarctic is More Than a Deep Plate

Carl Sparacio

If there was a TV show called, Lifestyles of the Poor and Dull, I could be a featured segment. They may come poorer but they don't come duller. Let's face facts--when the adventure highlight of your life is finding a piece of Heisey at a flea market, you've got to know you're not Indiana Jones.

No need to sympathize, it hasn't been all that bad. Especially if you count the time I spent in the Antarctic. Talk about excitement! We couldn't use dishes or tumblers made out of milk glass because they'd become invisible when snow drifted through the cracks into the dining Quonset. Dinnerware had to be ruby glass and the serving pieces were emerald. It looked like Christmas everyday and, talk about cold! It was so cold that--never mind.

Perhaps you didn't know I spent time in the Antarctic. Well, actually, neither did I until a nice lady told me so. It happened when Helen and I were up in Sturbridge, Massachusetts doing the Yankee Heisey Club's Yankee Invitational Antiques Show and Sale. Show managers, Jim Houghton and Tim Rector, did a bang up job. They are so eager, I suspect they're in training for the big one in Newark, Ohio.

The show is billed as a general antiques show but, given the sponsors, you've got to know it was heavy with Heisey people. The Thrans were there, Fogg and Maloney, Jay Martin, the Gillettes, the Dunbars, the Waltons, the Pescatores, and a whole bunch of people you should be familiar with if you read these Heisey News pages regularly. There were Heisey folks too numerous to mention even though it seems I already have.

Sturbridge is a nice place to visit. Plenty of history and lots of antiquing. And Jim and Tim put on an exceptional show. It's worth circling September on next year's calendar so you don't miss it.

Anyway, this lovely lady stops at our booth and looks at my name tag and says, "I know you."

I put my best self deprecating Gary Cooper look and was about to say, "Aw shucks," when she added, "You're the fellow who was in the Antarctic."

I'm not making this up.

"Of course!" I said, ready to pull her leg like taffy, "but how did you know?"

"Oh, I've read a lot about you," she replied.

I was ready to have some fun but Helen gave me her watch-it-buster look and I backed off and said, instead, "I think you're mistaken, I've never been to the Antarctic."

Believe it or not, it took some convincing and I'm still not sure she believes me. As it turned out, she had a more interesting story to tell than I could make up about my Antarctic exploits--even if I include how cold it was.

Her name is Dorothy Pepe, a Downeaster out of Tenants Harbor, Maine. She told me how she envied us when she read about the HCA Convention. She wasn't able to attend but, as luck would have it, she had an exciting Heisey adventure right at home this summer.

A neighbor who heard she was into Heisey called and told her she had a house guest she was sure Mrs. Pepe would like to meet. Her house guest was a real live genuine Heisey--Augusta Heisey Weaver, the 80 year old granddaughter of the one and only A. H. Heisey, father of countless glass collectors. Actually, there's another name in Ms. Augusta's name and it sits between the Heisey and the Weaver--it's something like Dockery. Just as any good reporter, I can't read my notes. Perhaps our own Docent Emeritus, Liz King, can tell us. Ms. Augusta said they used to play together whenever her family visited Newark.

She told Mrs. Pepe that her father was in the military and they moved a lot but she remembers sliding down that beautiful curved bannister of the King House (now the Heisey Museum) with Liz King.

Ms. Augusta said that every time they moved, grandpa (A.H.) sent them a barrel of glass. Since they moved often, they had more glass than they could use and much of it remained packed in those barrels.

THIS IS THE EDUCATIONAL PORTION OF THIS COLUMN: Back then glass was packed in excelsior and shipped in wooden barrels, as cardboard hadn't yet been invented (excelsior is called straw when you're not trying to impress anyone).

I asked what happened to those barrels full of Heisey's glass but all Mrs. Pepe would tell me was that Miss Augusta gave them to her son. She had a memory lapse when I tried to pinpoint the specific location of said son. She needn't have been so protective, I certainly wouldn't intrude upon him but I sure would like to keep an eye on the garage sales in his area.

Mrs. Pepe feels her chat with August Heisey's granddaughter, Augusta, was as exciting as going to convention and she may be right. She even got Ms. Augusta's autograph as a memento of their meeting.

She didn't ask for my autograph.

I'll bet Ms. Augusta has never been to the Antarctic.

Editor's Note: See page 11 for the Heisey Family Genealogy Chart to see how and where Augusta Weaver fits in.

The Alf Landon and Heisey Connection

Susan Pennington

The Heisey plate, pictured right, was recently purchased for the museum by the Acquisition Committee. It features a special carving done for the 1936 election campaign of Alf Landon, Republican party candidate for President of the United States. Alf Landon was the governor of Kansas from 1933 to 1937 and although unsuccessful in his bid for the presidency, Mr. Landon lived a long and productive life. It is my understanding that Alf Landon passed away just last year.

As well as the above mentioned plate, the display case pictured below was made for the Presidential campaign of Alf Landon. Master carver, Emil Krall, pictured below with the engraved display case, carved the 72" x 48" x 20" display case. Mr. Krall's son, Emil, assembled the frame for the case. A total of 480 hours went into the making of this fabulous piece.

The oval in the top, center of the case frame originally featured an engraved portrait of Alf Landon. Emil Krall used an enlarged photograph of Mr. Landon, which had been taken at the Republican Convention in Cleveland, Ohio, as a guide for his engraved portrait.

Along the left side of the frame there are three groups of buckeyes and buckeye leaves. Along the right side of the cabinet there are three groups of sunflowers, the Kansas state flower. A newspaper clipping circa 1936 read:

TO SEE
BEAUTIFUL GLASS ENCASED PICTURE OF ALF LANDON, with hand engraving by Emil Krall, formerly with Royal Court of Austria for Francis Joseph I; Chief Designer, A. H. Heisey Co. A real feature of the Convention, Gallery of Ohio Statesmen.

After the election, the case was placed on display at the Newark Chamber of Commerce. It was eventually returned to the Heisey Co. The engraved portrait of Alf Landon was replaced with an engraving of the Santa Maria. The beautiful display case then became a regular feature of Emil Krall's appearances at department stores throughout the Mid West. It was used to showcase Heisey glass engraved by Emil Krall.

When the Heisey factory closed, Percy and Vivian Moore bought the display case, along with the remaining Heisey stock. They sold it to Viola Cudd for $500.00. In 1973, Ms. Cudd offered the display case for sale at an Opera House auction. The minimum bid was not made and the case remained in the possession of Viola Cudd. Unfortunately, we have lost track of the whereabouts of this famous display case. If you know where it is, please contact HCA.

The genealogy chart on the next page was compiled by using HCA archival material. In addition, Mary Merrill was kind enough to provide additional information and even made a trip to Cedar Hill cemetery to visit the Heisey family plot just to check some dates.

As you will notice, we are still lacking some dates and possibly the names of some family members. If you have additional information, please send it to: HCA, 169 W. Church St., Newark, Ohio 43055 Attn: Susan Pennington

#5 Bay State HCC

Susan Pescatore

The first meeting of the season of the Bay State HCC was held on Tuesday, September 8 at the Sir Speedy Printing Center in Woburn, MA, with 15 members in attendance and Steven Pescatore presiding.

After the business meeting, the membership made a beeline for Barbara McTighe's excellent food served on her fabulous Orchid etch pieces, and we then got down to the real business of the September meeting: end of the summer Bring and Brag--this year's edition was even more overwhelming than usual.

Frank Maloney brought in a lamp designed by Royal Hickman for the Royal Haeger Lamp Co., the base of which was the Heisey gazelle (also a Royal Hickman design). This was marketed originally in this form--not put together after the fact.

Pitchers and jugs were everywhere: a #4164 Gallagher with Monticello etch and (5) #2351 tumblers; a #4166 Balda, cut, with (6) matching Biltmore burgundies; and a gorgeous #4163 Whaley with the Warwick cutting. Other containers for liquids included a Fandango water bottle; the small #5052 Penguin decanter; the #05031 oil and vinegar bottle with sterling stopper; a #1225 Plain Band molasses; a Winged Scroll custard cruet; and a #1250 Groove and Slash cruet.

In the stem and tumbler category, there was a Barbara Fritchie goblet with the Del Monte cut; a very early #129 tumbler; a Fancy Loop punch glass; a Banded Flute 14 oz footed schoepfen (rare); a seldom seen #1053 Zinzinnati goblet; a Seahorse cocktail; a 18 oz. Hoffman House goblet with the Club Drinking Scene; a Plantation AND a Lariat cordial; and a Pleat and Panel goblet in Crystal, unusual. In the obscure category were a #602 rinse glass made for the Ritter Company, a dental supply house (the name is etched on the tumbler), and a Puntty Band ruby stained souvenir wine with a very odd motif: the words Hotel Rurig on one side, and a picture of a pig carrying a bird on its back on the other. Is there anyone out there who can shed any light on this?

There were also some interesting vases: the Ridgeleigh triangular version, a #4045 6" ball vase in Crystal, the #5012 Urn vase, and what may be a variant Prison Stripe vase with convex horizontal ribs, as opposed to concave--would also appreciate some information on this.

No fewer than five pieces of Puntty and Diamond Point appeared, including the toothpick, the cologne, and a pair of salt and peppers, as well as two tiny pieces of #379 Urn--the toothpick and the individual salt dip. But wait, there's more: a lovely Empress Flamingo round high-footed compote; a pair of #32 Tom Thumb toy candlesticks; a #429 footed individual salt (one of six), the #473 Narrow Flute with Rim square marmalade and underplate, as well as the square 8" nappy beautifully cut; a #325 Pillows 6" handled jelly; and a #339 Continental footed jelly.

As is usual with our Show and Tell, space considerations dictate that some members' finds go unreported, but they were fully appreciated at the meeting.

Editor's Note: If you have information on the souvenir wine or the Prison Stripe variant mentioned in Bay State club notes, write to: HCA, 169 W. Church St., Newark, OH 43055. We'll share your information with the readers.

From the Pony Express September 1992

Prez Sez Penny Thorup

Thanks to the Wansers, the September meeting/potluck and program on Heisey Baskets was another productive meeting and fun get together. How timely, that the September HCA newsletter featured a wonderful article on baskets. A special thank you to Gene Moenning for presiding at the meeting in my absence.

Norval Heisey was selected to chair the nomination committee to prepare the 1993 HCC slate of officers. Please plan to become more involved with HCC this coming year, and consider volunteering for an office or, if you have any suggestions for nominees, please contact Norval.

Leo Bevon, our Pony Express Editor and past President is moving to Virginia where he has accepted a new job. We will really miss Leo and Anne, but wish them the best for success in relocating and their new jobs. I will fill in and complete the year as Pony Express Editor! Please send all newsletter articles and ads to me by the 10th of each month. I would appreciate any articles or pictures you would like to share for the newsletters.

Heisey Highlights by Betty Wanser

We had a great program on Baskets, with about thirty beautiful baskets on display. Most of the baskets not on display were pictured on our hand out sheets. Ironically, the next issue of Heisey News had an article on baskets, authored by Joe Lokay. If I'd waited another month, I wouldn't have had to do so much work!

The fall meeting of the Gulf Coast Heisey Club will be held Thursday, Nov. 19, at the home of Anne & Paul Keister, Spring Hill, FL. All Florida Heisey visitors are welcome. Please call the Keisters for particulars at (904)688-5176.

#33 Golden Gate HCC

From the Golden Gater September 1992 issue

From the Editor's Desk Russ Nicholas

As you know Heisey collectors have debated for years about the origin of the ivy vase in Tangerine. Its shape is very similar to that of that of the #4224 ivy vase in Cobalt by Heisey. However, it seems that no record has been found that proves that it was produced in Tangerine by Heisey.

Lee Jones and I may now be able to shed some light on this matter. During our trip to Vancouver, B.C. in July, we were directed to an antique shop specializing in glassware located in Ladner, a very small town south of Vancouver. The proprietor had a few pieces of common Heisey in Crystal, however, he did bring out a #4227 favor vase in Flamingo. It was reasonably priced so we of course, added it to our collection. He was apologizing for not having more Heisey when Lee spotted a Tangerine ivy vase and asked, What about this?

The proprietor replied, "That's not a Heisey piece.

It's marked on the bottom."

The mark, which was done by applying a silver substance, appeared to be two capital L's back to back with dots in the right angles formed by each L. I've tried to approximate the size and design of the mark.

He proceeded to show us a markings book in which he had located the mark for identification. I must apologize for not getting the title, author, and publisher of the book. The mark was used by Christian Johannes Lanoony (1881-1948). He was a designer of production glassware for the Leerdam Company from 1919 to 1930 and for Uniaka Vessels from 1925 to 1929, in the Netherlands.

The shopkeeper stated that he'd had one other such marked Tangerine vase, but the mark had been partially removed. Apparently, the silver substance can be removed when washed. That would explain why we have not seen the mark on an ivy vase before. This information backs the theory which some Heisey collectors have had all along, that the Tangerine ivy vase was produced in Europe and of course, not by Heisey.

I've just received the latest edition (the 5th) of Gene Florence's Elegant Glassware of the Depression Era. After only a few minutes of glancing through it I've discovered what I would call glaring errors--at least to a Heisey collector. On page 86, he lists Heisey Empress, blank #1401. He states, "Notice the Crystal is no longer priced here. You will find Crystal prices listed under the name Queen Ann. When the colors were made, this pattern was called Empress, but when Crystal was added later, the name was changed to Queen Ann."

On page 150 he lists Heisey Queen Ann also as blank #1401, instead of #1509. Here he states, "Queen Ann is the pattern name give to Empress when it was made in Crystal." I do hope HCA will educate Mr. Florence about the fact that Empress was made in Crystal and called Empress. Later, when the moulds were reworked (a change in the pattern design) Queen Ann was introduced and made only in Crystal. For those of you who don't know if a Crystal piece is Empress or Queen Ann: feel the inside of an Empress bowl and you'll feel a smooth surface. Then feel the inside of a Queen Ann bowl and you'll feel an undulated surface. You can usually see the difference just by looking closely.

On page 219 Mr. Florence shows three 5 oz. footed sodas in three different variations of Trial Blue and Crystal. He states that the blank is #3368 Albemarle when in fact it is #4085 Kohinoor with wide optic rather than the usual saturn optic.

Elegant Glassware of the Depression Era is a good resource book. However, too many people take its word as Gospel.

Editor's Note: As a follow-up to Russ Nicholas' comments on Empress/Queen Ann, I offer the following excerpts from Louise Ream's "Pattern of the Month" column in the Nov. 1972 issue of Heisey News, p. 5 & p. 9.

Pattern of the Month Empress and Queen Ann by Louise Ream

We are writing about these two patterns together because they are so similar and in some cases are identical. Empress was apparently introduced early in 1930. The March issue of National Geographic magazine shows pieces of the pattern and calls it #1401, "available in Crystal, Flamingo Rose, Moongleam and Sahara gold, and also Heisey's new Alexandrite."

I was inclined to call the decorative motif on the edges of this pattern a partially open fan but the September issue of the Geographic of the same year describes it as "Lilies of France inspired this lovely glass. Alluring is this new glass by Heisey, motivated by the lilies that the Knights of France bore into battle for ladies fair."

So, the design apparently was to represent lilies and actually they do resemble lilies as much as anything else. . . . According to trade catalogs, the earlier name for the pattern was #1401 Empress and it is generally believed that only Empress was made in color. For some reason at least part of the molds were redesigned and the name in a later catalogs is #1509 Queen Ann.

The most notable difference in the two is the appearance of vertical ripples inside some pieces of the latter. These show clearly in the McClean catalog reprint. Note the floral bowls, 11 and 8-1/2" sizes, and it is also obvious on the cups and saucers on page 57. These same pieces are shown in Vogel under #1509. At least some of the plates are thicker and have the ripples in the glass. Some might call these waves or undulations. Pieces etched with Crinoline, Belle-le-Rose and Orchid show the ripples, as do creams, sugars and nut cups. Orchid etching was first used on #1509 which pre-dates Waverly, which seems to be seen most often in Orchid. A #1509 cup, saucer, cream, sugar, footed mint and a mayonnaise set were shown as late as the 1956 catalog.

HCA NEEDS TABLECLOTHS

Virginia Johnson, HCA Board Member

Tablecloths for what tables? To redress the tables used at the June Convention for the displays of our beautiful Heisey Glass--table settings, club displays--and these table dressings help to enhance the glass. Mary McWilliams has presented a sample of the fabrics and the cost of the completed cloths to the Board. There are twenty-five tables and the approximate cost is $50.00 for each table. The total price of $1,262.60 was approved by the Board. However, we thought that some of you 3,869 HCA members would like to help buy these. Many of us don't live in the Newark area and aren't able to be docents, clean glass, and all of the other things volunteers do. BUT, we can donate money.

Please send your check to: HCA, 169 W. Church St., Newark, OH 43055 Attn: Susan Pennington; make checks payable to HCA. Be sure to indicate that your donation is for HCA Tablecloths. Thanks !

APPLE TREE AUCTION CENTER
1616 W CHURCH STREET
NEWARK, OHIO 43055

This sale will include a good selection of Heisey with good color, animals, cuttings, deep plates etc.

We have been getting items from a number of local estates and homes, however, nothing has been unpacked or cataloged at this writing. Catalogs will be available by the time this reaches you. This will be an interesting sale just in time for Christmas presents. We hope you will be able to attend as this will be the weekend for the Holiday Dinner and quarterly meeting. If you are unable to attend we will be happy to execute your absentee bids.
