Sam's Scribbles

Sam Schnaidt, President

Again, I must say that the museum is a flurry of activity. The painting and papering in the King House are near completion. The beautiful cherry floor in the entry hall has been laid and is ready to be finished. The carpet will be laid in the next couple of weeks. Nearly all of the new cabinets have been installed, many of them have been cleaned and shelves have been placed. Special thanks go to Thelma Morningstar and Lynne Sellers who came from Cleveland to help pack glass and to Milner and Martha Carden who came up from Tullahoma, Tennessee to help set glass shelving. Without their help and the help of Mary McWilliams, Phyllis McClain and Kathy McCracken who have been assisting Karen, you might be looking at empty cases in June. Many cases in Gallery Two (our new name for the upper level of the new museum) have been arranged with colored glass and to say they look stunning is probably an understatement!

If you are still trying to decide about coming for this year's convention and have not made reservations, may I say—do it now. Get on the phone and call. You should not miss this year's activities.

I have asked Susan to make a change in the date of mailing for the July newsletter and delay it about a week to 10 days in order to get convention and dedication activities included in the next newsletter instead of waiting until August. If you like or don't like this change, please let Susan or me know so that we will know what to do in the future.

We hope to be ready for all of you come June 15.

In Memoriam— Long-time HCA member, Leonard Tipton passed away May 7, 1993 after a brief illness. Leonard was a member of the Moundbuilders Study Club and worked as the HCA shipping clerk from 1984-90. He is survived by his wife, Frances, and two sons. Private family services were held in Maple Grove Cemetery, Granville. The family has requested that memorials be made to the National Heisey Glass Museum. Leonard was well known around Heiseyland and his many HCA friends will miss him very much.

CURATOR'S REPORT

Karen D. Kneisley

Things are moving quickly around here--literally. As soon as exhibition space was ready for glass, Kathy McCracken and I loaded up the elevator with boxes of Heisey and volunteers helped us put it away. The results are truly breathtaking. Roomier cabinets and different lighting are giving new life to the collection.

Workers continue to spruce up the King House. New wall paper is up in several rooms and cherry flooring has been laid in the foyer. Together with the rich oriental carpeting and new window coverings, these refurbishments make a beautiful house even better. The last glass items to be placed will be in the King House and then we're ready for final touches.

While you're getting ready to enjoy Our New Look, please consider a few things that could help out the staff. If you have spare time in your convention schedule, we'd love to have you as a volunteer. Now that the museum has expanded facilities, we need more people to be docents, greeters and shop helpers. Sign-up sheets have been sent to study club presidents or you can call the museum. Also, if you'd like to pick up your Gem or Gold Series animals while you're in town, please drop us a line or give me a call. We can have everything ready for you. If you are having someone other than yourself pick up your purchases during the convention, we encourage you to use the authorization form on page 3.

I don't know which is more exciting: preparing for the museum's debut or planning for its future. As each new area comes together, we better understand the potential for new directions.

ENDOWMENT FUND REPORT

Amy Jo Jones, Co-chairman

In 1983 the Endowment Fund was formed when a check from HCA for $3700 was presented to the Licking County Foundation to administer the fund. As a charitable foundation, its numerous funds total in excess of 5 million dollars. From its founding in 1956, the foundation received gifts from hundreds of Licking County residents who wanted to donate money for the public's benefit. The money goes to worthwhile causes such as scholarships and purchasing land for parks.

Since 1983, the HCA fund has grown to approximately $100,000. In recent years, the fund has shown the most growth as the Board of Directors has emphasized the need for a substantial fund to assure the financial security of the museum. Now more than ever, it is apparent a strong financial foundation is needed. The dreams of HCA members have reached a new high as their confidence in and commitment to the future grows as exhibited by the museum expansion project begun just two short years ago.

Through the years many of our study clubs have met in the challenge of the Board of Directors to contribute to the Endowment Fund. In large part the fund has grown to its present level due to their recognition of the need. However, now we all, individually, can participate in reaching the goal set by the Board to build for the future. At the March quarterly meeting, the Board approved a plan by the Endowment Committee for a multi-level optional dues structure enabling individuals the opportunity contribute to the fund as an expression of their commitment to the financial security of the museum. This dues proposal is VOLUNTARY and does not change or replace the present associate fee of $18.50. It becomes available for participation June 1, 1993.

The Endowment membership categories are:

- Individual Contributing—$30 One person only
- Joint Contributing—$40 Two people in one household
- Family Contributing—$50 Parents and children under 18
- Patron—$100
- Sponsor—$250
- Benefactor—$500

It is important to restate the present fee for an associate membership is unchanged at $18.50 and $2.50 for each additional household member. Participation in any other levels would be VOLUNTARY and would benefit the Endowment Fund minus the associate dues fee. All memberships are renewable annually.

Members who choose to participate in any of the optional endowment membership levels will receive recognition on their membership card and through the annual printing of Endowment Membership in the Heisey News.

Join us with your commitment to the future of HCA with a selection from one of the Endowment Membership categories.

For more information, call the membership secretary at the Museum. In addition, members of the Endowment Committee will be available during Convention week to answer any questions. Look for Bob Ryan, Chairman, Amy Jo Jones, Co-chairman; Carl Sparacio, Charlie Le Blond or Chuck Jones. We will be watching for you!

VIEWS FROM THE FUNDRAISER

Norm Thran

The expansion program is finally reaching the end. Much has been accomplished in the past two years, because of the efforts of so many volunteers. My thanks go out to all who have donated time, participated in the special offerings, and donated glass and cash gifts. It takes total support of the membership and friends of HCA for a program of this magnitude to succeed. And the New Addition and refurbished King House are testament to your commitment. I urge all members to visit during the convention and thank the volunteers for their efforts.

With convention approaching we have some special needs, if you have not supported this effort to date or wish to help further—it's not too late. We will need furniture for the King House lounge opposite the new Museum Shop, the new docents lounge needs a chair and a sofa. The Media center will need chairs and visual equipment. The list goes on and on. Please help support our efforts, we are close to completion and have raised a considerable amount of dollars in the past two years.

The additional funds are necessary to give the Museum Complex its final touches: "OUR NEW LOOK". Remember, Together We are Building for the Future!

MUSEUM EXPANSION COMMITTEE UPDATE

Bob Rarey, Recording Secretary

The Expansion Committee is proud to report that the interior of the new Museum Addition is nearly complete. Most of the glass display cases are in place and lighting is being connected to the case. Glass displays will soon be put in place, ready for the dedication in June.

Exterior landscaping will be as weather permits, in cooperation with the City of Newark Parks Department master plan.

Renovation of the office building is complete. All daily used offices are now on the ground floor. The library is in expanded quarters on the second floor.

As noted in the May issue of the Heisey News, the Museum is closed and will remain closed until the June convention, so renovation can be completed in the King House. It was the recommendation of the Expansion Committee to do a complete renovation; new carpet, new wall coverings, new window treatments and painting as needed. The original decor has served well for twenty years and it was felt practical to do the entire renovation at this time.

The committee is looking forward to welcoming all of you to the dedication of the new addition at the June Convention.

ANIMAL PROJECT REPORT

Charlie Wade

I would say it was just about two years ago that we started talking about different ways in which to raise money for the museum. It was at about this time that someone, who shall remain nameless at this time, suggested this whole animal series idea. Through many meetings with many different folks, the ideas were transformed into plans for the next two years during which we hoped to raise a few dollars.

Well, by now most of you are aware of the tremendous success these projects have been for the museum addition. The Gold Series sold out in less than a month, then the Gem Series sold out in a little over one days time, and finally the Flying Mare sold out in less than an hour.

In the beginning, some of the committee members felt that selling 450 of anything was being very optimistic, (I was one of these folks by the way) and I can't begin to tell you how many hours of debate were spent in trying to come up with a workable plan to present to the Board of Directors for approval. In the end, we agreed on all details before the presentation to the Board.

Our primary goal was to raise money for the museum additon with secondary goals being to increase membership which would ultimately increase the Endowment Fund. I feel that both the primary and secondary goals far exceeded anyone's imagination.

Unfortunately, not everyone was happy, primarily due to the fact they were not able to purchase animals because of the sell outs. To these folks, I apologize. However, as I have said, we had no indication that any of these series would be a sell out, let alone in the time frame that they did happen. I have heard from several of you and I will pass your suggestions along to the post-committee meeting, due shortly.

To those of you who supported these projects or tried to support them, we most sinerely thank you for that support. To all those who helped pick up, unpack, repack, ship, carry, take orders, answer telephones, etc., I thank you, for were it not for all of you, we could not have accomplished what has been accomplished to date.

When you see this beautiful new additon, I am sure you will be in awe as I am.

Don't forget to order your Cabochon ad sign, similar to the label (pictured right). They are available in Lavender Ice at $17.00 each. Call the office at (614) 345-2932.

VERLYS REPRODUCTIONS

Wayne McPeck

The Fenton Art Glass Company and the Holophane Company have joined forces to ensure all future reproductions of Verlys will be marked.

Mr. Frank Fenton, retired Chairman of the Board of the Fenton Art Glass Company, and Mr. Lee Keller, Vice President of Sales of the Holophane Company, are equally committed to protecting the integrity of the original Verlys Art Glass.

Fenton has been signing pieces with their mold impressed Fenton in an oval logo on open line Verlys since 1970 and will continue to do so on general production of Verlys ware. The reproductions prior to 1970 were not signed.

Contract production lots made for Holophane during the period 1986 through 1991, were not marked. The items produced without an identity mark were: The Girl and Deer Bookends, Pinecone Bowl, Rose Bowl, Thistle Bowl, Motif Chinois Bowl, Round Fish Bowl, Hexagon Bowl, Love Bird Vase and Kuan Yin Vase. All were made in Crystal satin finish except the Round Fish Bowl which was made in French opalescence.

When Frank Fenton became aware that original Verlys made by Holophane and Heisey was at times satin finished all over, he began modifying the molds ever so slightly, but definite enough, to distinguish the reproductions from the originals.

The design on the Motif Chinois includes a large vase with one circular ring around the neck. Frank added another ring and a vertical bar in the center connecting the two rings together.

The Round Fish bowl has a base design which has horizontal raised ribs bordering a recessed rectangle. There are three of these sections and they are joined by a smaller rectangle. Frank added a slot-like well in the center.

These ingenious modifications absolutely identify Fenton as the manufacturer of the Motif Chinois, Holophane 1988 Christmas gift, and the Round Fish Bowl 1990 Christmas gift. The 1991 gift, the Kuan Yin Vase is blown and that in itself distinguishes it from the original.

The latest Christmas gift, the 1992 Love Bird Vase is the first item to be marked with the Holophane "Prism" logo. Our profound thanks to Mr. Lee Keller for his support and sensitivity to the interests and concerns of the art glass collector community.

This molded signature will appear on all future Verlys items produced specifically for the Holophane Company. The style and appearance of the Prism logo is shown in the photo of the 1992 Love Bird Vase.

With the Fenton oval signature molded on all open line items and the Prism logo molded on all Holophane contract items, the integrity of the original Verlys would seem to be secure. Thank you Mr. Frank Fenton and Mr. Lee Keller, we salute you!

HEISEY BASKETS — #1503 CRYSTOLITE

3rd Article in the Series

Joe Lokay

We will first take a brief look at the Crystolite pattern. The Crystolite design first appeared as a smoker set in late 1937. The pattern was called Mahabar. Later the pattern was called Rajah. In mid-1938 the pattern was called Crystolite. The pattern retained this name for the rest of its production life till 1957 when the plant closed.

Besides magazine ads, Crystolite first appeared in Heisey's catalog 212-17 (circa 1938). There were over 70 different pieces in the Crystolite pattern in that catalog. There were over 130 different items in Crystolite offered by Heisey in their Wartime Sales Folder (circa 1943). Heisey's last catalog and price list #33 (circa 1956) contained over 65 items of Crystolite.

The Crystolite basket did not appear in Catalog 212-17, but first appeared in pages that were added to catalog 212-17, 214-19 (7-15-39) did not list the basket. Therefore, production of the Crystolite basket started sometime in mid-1939. Price list 216 (9-1-41) was the last reference to the Crystolite basket. Beyond this date, the basket was no longer listed in any of the price lists or shown in any catalogs. The 1943 Wartime Folder did not show the basket. Therefore, it is estimated that production of the basket ended in about 1942. Thus, the production life for the Crystolite basket was short and is estimated at about 1939 to 1942.

The basket was made in Crystal color only. The entire pattern was made in Crystal only except for some of the smoker items that were made in several colors.

The design of the #1503 Crystolite pattern consists of large, smooth and rounded, raised ribs. The ribs usually extend from the bottom to the top of the item. In the basket, the vertical ribs start from a plain foot around the bottom of the basket body and end into a plain rim around the top of the basket body.

The catalog calls the basket a 6 inch basket. The basket body is circular at the top and bottom. The top diameter is 6 inches and the bottom diameter is 3 inches. The overall height is 8 inches with the basket body being 4 inches and the handles another 4 inches. The basket is signed with a small diamond H on the underside of the bottom. The bottom of the basket is plain (no star) and the bottom rim is not ground.

I wrote an article about the #417 Double Rib and Panel basket which appeared in the January 1993 issue of Heisey News. Reference to that article shows that the overall dimensions for the Crystolite basket are the same as those for the #417 basket. The #417 basket was produced from about 1924 to 1931. Eight years later, that basket mold was reworked to produce the Crystolite basket. Thus, the reason for the similar dimensions. The molds and records that HCA obtained when they purchased the molds from Imperial confirmed this point.

Because of the full, large rib design, there is really no room for etchings or cuttings or other designs on the Crystolite basket. If one had to, a small cutting could be placed on the plain rim around the top of the basket body. Some gold or other colored decorations could be put on parts of the basket, if desired. I have not seen any decorated ones.

Because of the short production period, the Crystolite basket is fairly rare and hard to find. Good luck in finding one.

NEWARK, OHIO

THE HCA BLIZZARD

Carl Sparacio

If you collect Heisey, you understand what Helen and I were doing out in the mountains of western Pennsylvania when the "Storm of the Century" bore down on our half of the U.S. in March. Only a collector could understand.

You don't have to collect Heisey particularly. It doesn't matter if you collect stamps, baseball cards, coins, antimacassars, shrunken heads—whatever, other collectors accept that a collector will go to the ends of the earth for a coveted piece even as family and friends mock him and say dumb things like, "but it's only a hobby!"

I'd be at a loss to tell you how we became involved with Heisey in the first place but my wife and I have been collecting it for many years. I don't really remember how it started. Perhaps we lost a bet.

Our children might tell you that our collecting is more an obsession than a hobby. They find our collection boring and I can understand that. For them it's like looking at pictures of other peoples' children. But anyone who thinks collecting isn't exciting didn't mess with the Blizzard of '93.

First off, I want to apologize to everyone caught up in that blizzard. The entire weather mess was my fault. I take full responsibility and I'm sorry. If I'd kept it to myself that we were going to attend HCA's Annual Heisey Auction in Newark, Ohio that weekend, the blizzard never would have happened. I'm a jinx. If I publicly announced plans for a trip to Hawaii instead, Honolulu would be knee deep in snow and palm trees would be sprouting all over the Ohio Valley.

Such is my standing with "fate."

As you've surely guessed, we never made it to Ohio and I never got to bid on the one piece of glass that sparked our trip.

Heading west for our 500 mile drive on Pre-storm Thursday, we pooh-poohed reports of possible snow. It was a lovely day. We took a driving break at a favorite lunch stop outside Allentown, Pa. Then, after a long drive, stayed overnight in a motel in the Boondock mountain range east of Pittsburgh—a seven or eight hour drive from home (depending on speed trap activity on the Pennsylvania Turnpike).

Our plans were for a leisurely drive to our Ohio destination the next day, Friday. This would allow ample time before the auction action. "Fate" had other plans.

Friday morning we heard warnings of a "Storm of the Century." Apparently it was imminent. A psychotic TV weatherman gleefully promised a foot of snow on Saturday followed by at least that much more on Sunday. He made no mention of the snow already swirling around our motel rendering the mountains invisible. How could he be aware of it? He was drunk with power. His storm was going to hit more than Interchange Gulch, Pa.

I whispered very, very quietly to my wife that we'd best turn around and head back home before the storm hit. Experience has taught that if "fate" overheard our change of plans, we'd likely never make it.

"Isn't the storm already here?" she asked.

"This is not the one they're talking about. We're imagining this one. No matter how it looks, it's not snowing out there," I explained and added, "Let's get out of here!"

We traveled home as quietly as possible, not daring to mention out loud where we were going. And, pushed by an extremely brisk tail wind, we traveled quickly, too.

We stopped once again, this time for a late lunch, at that favorite lunch stop outside of Allentown. Yesterday's waitress greeted us warmly.

"Well, hello, again, you two!" (I left a good tip the day before because I didn't have small change). "You folks must be local," she added.

"No," I confessed, "we're just traveling through."

"Sure didn't get far, did you, Hon," was the curt reply.

There was no sense explaining, the snow had yet to start in Allentown.

We didn't escape the storm, it followed us home. You know the rest, many of you were also in that snow-wind-ice rain mess along with us for the next couple of days. Still, it was far better being stranded at home than stranded in the middle of God knows where sucking shoe laces for sustenance and praying for a helicopter drop of Oreos.

Parenthetically, this is why I never mentioned that we would be at the National Capital Heisey Study Club's Annual All Heisey Glass Show and Sale held the very next weekend in Silver Spring, Maryland, just outside of Washington D. C. I didn't want "you-know-who" to get wind of it. In the future these reports will be confined to where we've been rather than where we're going.

The NCHSC annual event kicks off the Heisey social season and is one of the jewels of the many Heisey events scheduled throughout the year. This year's show and sale met all expectations. The folks at the NCHSC do a great job.

I always enjoy our annual trek to the National Capital Show because it is just far enough south of home to give us an early taste of spring. This year, however, it wasn't spring-like. The "Storm of the Century" had been there, too. Fortunately, it was there before we arrived ("Fate" does screw up once in awhile). Snow was still all about and the flowers that had popped up were crushed to the ground under the weight of it.

There is a happy ending to our blizzard adventure. At the National Capital Show, I bought the one piece I risked our necks to bid on at the Annual HCA Auction: An Aqua Caliente with the Calcutta cutting. And, best of all, I paid less than the successful auction bidder. Good sport that I am, I won't rub it in—much.

The Fates are kind.

CLUB NOTES

#13 Heisey Collectors of California

The March meeting of HCC was held at the home of Connie and Don Murphy with Sofija Korff and Jeanne Lorti helping as co hostesses. A generous lunch was provided for twenty-nine members and guest Jeannie Sennes who attended, and was especially appreciated by those who drive some distance for our meetings. The By laws committee met prior to the lunch and will prepare its revisions for voting approval by the membership. Betty and Herb Wanser gave reports on the snowy March Benefit Auction and Cadillac-Lincoln Dinner in Newark, the Board of Directors meeting, as well as the plans for the many activities at the June Convention. Members voted to concentrate efforts on the dedication of the addition at the museum on Wednesday, as it would be difficult to coordinate both Wednesday and Saturday evening events from California. We are excited about supporting member Frances Brock for the HCA Board of Directors and voted to prepare campaign flyers and ads in her behalf. We have received inquiries from across the nation for our April Auction, and have also received a generous donation from member Barbara Bartlett. The raffle prize won by Bud Thorup was Crystolite rosette candle. Gene Moenning gave the second portion of his informative research on Heisey glass, and examples of many colors produced by Heisey were brought to highlight his program. Members had good luck locating new items for their collections.

#22 Northwest Heisey Collectors

Nan Alderson

Saturday, April 3rd meeting was held at the home of Marian Belt in Auburn. President Mary Beatty opened the meeting, followed by roll call. We were sorry to hear our VP Rollie Martin was ill and unable to attend, also Maxine Johanson (temporary treasurer) on the sick list but phoned in a report.

Mary told us about a purchase made for the hospitality room at the June Convention in Newark, Ohio. It was a case of knowing the right person and being able to buy 320 pieces of Almond Roca for and literature to go with. It was decided earlier to do this instead of sending cash as we have done in the past. Clara Olsen, our new sunshine person, purchased boxes of sympathy and get well cards.

Election of officers held, Pres: Mary Beatty, VP Rollie Martin, Sec. Nan Alderson and new Treas. Chris Witski.

Gordon Cochran made a recent visit to the Museum and was very pleased with what he saw in the new addition. Beautiful cherry wood cabinets throughout.

It was a unanimous decision to mention anniversary and birthday dates in the meeting announcement rather than send cards. Send these dates to VP Rollie Martin, he does the mailing of notices and maps.

Program: Dennis Headrick's collection of Lariat and what a collection. You had to be there to fully appreciate. Many pieces most of us had never seen!

Raffle: Nan, a Crystolite-small shell candy and Chris Witski, a Narrow Flute plate with beautiful cutting. Many thanks to Nelsons and Pedersons for finding all these goodies in the past and now Glenna & Don will take over the big search.

Hostess Marian Belt and co-host Kathy Eytcheson did a beautiful job on the ham dinner.

#23 Heisey Collectors of Columbus

Marie Rehbeck, Pres.

Newly elected officers for 1993-94 for the Heisey Collectors of Columbus Study Club are: Pres.: Marie E. Rehbeck, V.P. Max Puderbaugh, Sec./Treas: Bill (William L.) Rehbeck.

Our present plans are to continue as museum docents on the fifth Sunday of each month throughout 1993.

#36 Heisey Club of Southeastern MA

Russell Decatur

The Heisey Club of Southeastern MA met on April 21, 1993 at Bancks Studio in Rockland, MA with fifteen members attending our bi-monthly meeting.

This meeting will probably be the last time our club will enjoy meeting at the Banck's Studio because after many years our hosts Dorothee and Wade are moving to a new residence in Florida. Best wishes from all of us.

Maria Martell opened the meeting which focused on a donation to HCA's hospitality room to help defray expenses for the upcoming convention. Every one was in agreement.

Show and Tell included a #343 10" Sunburst shallow nappie, #1235 Fandango footed comport, #1590 Zodiac coaster, #132 Sunburst candle block in Marigold, #150 Banded Flute 6" plate and a #1225 Sawtooth 6" plate.

Next, we raffled a beautiful #1567 Plantation celery tray, the lucky winner being Donald Macomber.

Rick Martell presented our program on covered Heisey pieces many rare and interesting pieces were shown.

The meeting adjourned and we all enjoyed refreshments provided by Murielle and Michael Moss. Especially enjoyed was a cake of appreciation for the Bancks.

#41 Yankee Heisey Club

Jim Houghton

Remember, the Yankee Heisey Club is working on two projects: a benefit auction on September 11 (see the May 1993 issue for our consignment form and contract), and an Antique Show & Sale September 25 & 26. See Bulletin Board for motel room reservation information. More information will appear in upcoming issues.

Jim Houghton and Tim Rector want to remind those who do shows to consider taking the opportunity to educate the public by handing out HCA brochures and spreading the Heisey story as they have done. Jim and Tim have also done some community speaking engagements. Seeking out speaking forums could be a challenging study club project.

#44 The National Capital Heisey Collectors Club

From the Heisey Herald April and May 1993

Prez Sez, Butch Jones

Colorful Heisey, theme of our 21st All Heisey Show, really tells it all. Sincere thanks to all of you, for it is the efforts of all that "makes the wheels go 'round"--the exhibitors who transform an empty, drab room into a dazzling display of Mr. Heisey's finest wares (and special thanks to the Rosenbergers, Indiana, and Jay Martin, Connecticut, for filling in on very short notice for two regular exhibitors unable to do the Show this year because of last minute emergencies) and the Display, featuring all of the Heisey colors, plus the special treat of the rose candlestick (I believe the forerunner of Flamingo) so beautifully done by Tom Felt and Bob O'Grady, complimented by the lovely floral arrangement by our "Flower Lady" Martha Seaton; we appreciated Louise Ream, "First Lady of Heisey", who opened the Show with complimentary remarks of our club and HCA Sam

Schnaidt's kind words, all of which made our hours of work worthwhile--and then all the members without whose help the Show would not succeed

The program at our April meeting was a review of our All Heisey Show with a slide show and critique. Also Jim Jones presented "Heisey's Smoking Items". The program at the May 10 meeting was Heisey Colognes by Maezene Walker. The June meeting will be held June 14, 7 p.m. at the Potomac Library.

Summer and glass collectors' conventions have all been scheduled, and for us the HCA Convention will be the Heisey highlight of the year with the dedication of the Museum expansion on June 16--no Heisey collector will want to miss this! And of course, there will be many other activities to hold your attention.

#45 Hoosier Heisey Club

Sonnie Taylor

President Charles Beckman welcomed everyone and called the first meeting of the year to order at 2:00 PM on Saturday, April 17, 1993. There were 23 present.

Charlie commented on the club returning to the Warren Library as a meeting place. Stating easy access, no charge, and no steps as good reasons. The dates set for the remainder of the year, by availability of library room, are July 17, October 2, and November 20. The July program will be "Rose Etch", color: Vaseline, pattern: Locket on Chain. Charlie said that the officers would like to have volunteers for presenting the programs, serving refreshments, and any program suggestions.

Don Raybourn reported that he hasn't found the specific piece of glass in Irene Pope's collection that will be given in her memory to the museum. He hopes to deliver the piece at convention time. Don also brought some items from Irene's collection that were priced and sold at the conclusion of the meeting.

Charlie reminded those in attendance that the dues of $5.00 per person is payable now for 1993. Checks may be mailed to: Mrs. Ebbie Kolter, 305 W. Adams Street, Decatur, IN 46733.

Don Raybourn gave the presentation on Opal, featuring Bead Swag. Today we call it milk glass and perhaps the presence of lead gave Heisey's Opal its shiny appearance, not found in other glass company's milk glass. The Oriental Glass Company of Pittsburgh purchased Opal glass from Heisey to decorate. Decorated pieces command a higher price than plain ones. Bead Swag, with 38 different items, is the most common pattern found in Opal. Other patterns represented were: Winged Scroll, Locket on Chain, Beaded Panel and Sunburst, Punt Band, Pineapple and Fan, and Ring Band.

Durward Vogel, assisted by Carl Bowman, discussed the Show & Tell table. These two knowledgeable persons added special tidbits to our delight. In the spotlight were: Saturn-like pitcher with Good Morning etch and 8 juice glasses, Aqua Caliente decanter with Fisherman etch, Impromptu decanter, Cabochon covered butter with Rose etch, Toujours candle lamp.

Charlene Bowman was well prepared to present an informative lesson on Orchid etch. Orchid, Rose and Minuet etches are Heisey's most collected. Orchid etch was introduced in 1940 and became one of Heisey's most profitable lines during its 17 years of production. It was produced by Imperial until 1962. Charlene pointed out that the Waverly cream & sugar are probably the most common pieces found although there are 243 items with Orchid etch, including blown pieces. Charlene concluded by recommending the Orchid etch book and price guide available at the museum.

Ondoise Beckman served an assortment of cookies and punch from a Crystalite punch bowl, on a lovely decorated table.

● SLEEPING FOX ASHTRAY IN LAVENDER ICE—Dedication Piece For The New Museum Addition

In celebration of the opening of the new museum addition, the Sleeping Fox Ashtray is being offered by HCA as a special dedication piece for the occasion. Produced by Dalzell-Viking in the original Heisey mold, these ashtrays will be inscribed with the museum addition dedication date. The fox will be highlighted by a satin finish, while the remainder of the piece will be clear Lavender Ice. Order NOW. The price will be $15.00 per ashtray. Order as many as you wish. The quantity will be limited to the number sold by June 11, plus 100. Your order will be processed as soon as we receive the ashtrays.
