Sam's Scribbles

Sam Schnaidt, President

As I write this column we are still in the midst of the worst winter I can remember (weather-wise) in Central Ohio. I believe we have had about three nice days since Christmas. This week it was an ice storm like we have never seen. The good part of this is that it has to be over soon and the weather can only get better. I am looking forward to the March Auction by now you should all have your auction lists and be making your selections. I hope many of you will be able to attend this is always a fun weekend. If you can not attend be sure in send in mail bids. Bid high because we always have lots of interest in this sale and HCA benefits. This is one of our largest fundraisers. I believe this will be the best auction we have ever had. If you are coming and can help with the auction please contact Jim Clark at (513) 845-9132. He is always looking for helpers.

Probably the most active committee lately has been the Cadillac Lincoln dinner committee. They are constantly working and have been holding weekly meetings. I hate to tell you but I have been disappointed with the response we have had from our HCA members. Almost all our board members have purchased tickets and the Newark area community has supported us well. What we need now is to sell at least fifty additional tickets to our members. If you can not buy a ticket alone try to find another member or two and split a ticket. If we sell all the tickets we will make $14,000 to $18,000 profit for the Endowment Fund. If we do not sell these last fifty tickets we will make nothing and our effort will be for nothing. WE NEED YOUR SUPPORT NOW! If you can help us out with a ticket purchase please call John Eshleman at (614) 366-4826, Frank Frye at (614) 366-1298, Dick Smith at (614) 366-5163, me at (614) 587-0052, or Norm Thran at (614) 344-5955, anytime. I personally guarantee that if you attend this evening you will have a good time.

In this past month we have been saddened with the deaths of two long time and very supportive members. Jack Pearl passed away in mid January. Jack had attended almost all of our HCA events with his wife Elaine. He was also an active member of the National Capital Heisey Club. Donations can be made in Jack's name to the National Cancer Society. Jim Umsted, another long time member from Columbus, Ohio, passed away in January. Jim and his long time companion Ruth Spangler attended most HCA meetings and were active in the Far East Club. We will miss Jack and Jim as both were very friendly out-going people who always enjoyed talking with other HCA members. My sincere sympathy goes out to their families and friends. ♦

March Benefit Auction Update

Curator's Report

Karen D. Kneisley

Everyone else is talking about the weather, so I won't. Needless to say, we're eagerly awaiting Spring east of the Mississippi. It will mean that it's auction time in Newark and that makes collectors excited enough to forget the freezing rain.

A few things not to forget: the Cadillac Lincoln Dinner, the Museum Shop, and Rabbits. We're really going to make your trip to Newark worthwhile this year. Of course, you're coming for the Benefit Auction (and don't forget to bid high on those Endowment Fund pieces!). But what will you do on Saturday night? Why, you'll go to the Cadillac Lincoln Dinner. What better way to support the Endowment Fund? You'll even have fun in the process. The committee for this event has worked very hard and I can't think of a more worthy cause.

Come a day early to purchase your Rabbit Family on Thursday, March 10. This adorable set in Lavender Ice promises to be a popular item. While you're at the Museum, stop into the shop. We have items that will sell at special closeout prices and new items that you haven't seen before. You can also pick up your 1994 Souvenir Oscar.

After the auction, I'm sure you'll want to drop off some of your "extra" Heisey for sale in the Museum Shop. I've said it before, I'll say it again, this is an important aspect of visitor relations. During the spring and summer months we'll have lots of visitors that are anxious to commemorate their visit with a Diamond H-marked piece.

So, I really hope to see you in a couple weeks. But if you can't make it I'll understand. There are order forms for the Rabbit Family (page 7) and the Oscar (page 22) and we're always ready to take your order over the phone. ♦

Focus on the Collection—The Heisey Menagerie

Kelly Thrane and Karen D. Kneisley

The reproduction and creation of animal figures can be admired in paintings, sculptures and, of course, glass. A. H. Heisey and Company is no exception. Artistic development of animal figurines to be produced in Crystal began in the 1930s.

Great attention has been given to the Heisey family for their contribution of these magnificent creatures. However, one must not forget the times in which the country had been living. The Great Depression had swept across our country leaving many business's, farms, and homes in ruins. A new decade also brought with it WWII which was sweeping across Europe and hitting too close to home. During these years labor and raw materials were scarce. Glass manufacturers had to carefully concentrate their efforts on products that would be immediately popular with the consumer.

Likewise, after the war, while consumers' interest was focused on durable, utilitarian goods such as electrical appliances and automobiles, the importance of Heisey quality was greater than ever. A. H. Heisey and Company was not only competing within its own industry but with American and Foreign manufacturers in general. In addition, new tariff legislation made it easier for foreign companies to import cheaply made glass.

During these lean years, Heisey's animals contributed greatly to the company's well being. This was no accident. Holt Berni, a manufacturer's representative, wrote in a 1945 letter to T.C. Heisey:

It is going to take a lot of thinking to compete in the post war picture not only from a standpoint of competing with imported merchandise but against more attractive American made post war merchandise which will entice the consumers. ...

Another thing to give a thought to is the Heisey menagerie, and it might be possible to develop this thing into astounding proportions. If we could start a craze of glass animal collecting in America, the possibilities should be beyond comprehension.

This "craze of glass animal collecting" developed beyond Mr. Berni's wildest dreams. A. H. Heisey and Company's menagerie of animals continues to be some of their most popular collectibles. Even reproductions by HCA and Imperial are cherished.

The National Heisey Glass Museum is fortunate to be able to exhibit at least one of each animal produced by Heisey. You can view our menagerie, along with animal-related items, in the Octagon Case located in Gallery 1. Below is a listing of animals (as produced by Heisey) and their production dates compiled from Collector's Guide to Heisey and Heisey by Imperial Glass Animals by Frank L. Hahn and Paul Kikeli. ♦

Lavender Ice Collectors Take note!

Charles B. Wade, Special Projects Chairman

Here comes the rabbit family! After several months in hibernation we have resurrected the Animal Committee to bring out what we feel will be a great production. Many of you have been asking "What is going to be next?" Well here are Mama Rabbit and her bunnies—just in time for Easter.

I am sure that you will want to add these to your already valuable collection. Just like your Gem series, Flying Mare and Geese, the rabbits will be produced in Lavender Ice by Dalzell Viking and marked "HCA D 1994." We have tried to hold the price down so as many of you that want to can participate.

The profit from this project goes to the general fund to defray the operating expenses of the museum. Please remember—at last count we had five (yes, five!) furnaces, three electric meters and a new staff to support for our beautiful museum complex. This project and others that the Board may approve in the future will support operations until the Endowment Fund realizes its full potential.

As always your support for our magnificent museum is greatly appreciated. ♦

California Again, Sorta

Carl Sparacio

In the February Heisey News we spoke about California-the-stem. This month we won't, though we may touch upon California-the-state which has been in the news almost as much as Tonya Harding and Nancy Kerrigan. I have another stem to discuss this time around. It's a Heisey stem for which I've assembled as much information as I offered last month for the lovely California stem which, if I must be honest, was very little. Never the less, if I don't tell what there is to tell about it, there'd be a void in your Heisey life.

The piece pictured here is named Olson. It was named for the long time Heisey chemist, Emmet Olson. Since Mr. Olson the chemist developed most of hHeisey's colors, you'd think a piece named for him would be more colorful. This one isn't, it's crystal.

Unlike California-the-stem, Olson-the-stem is based on a Heisey pattern, the lovely #423 Diamond Band. I wrote about the Diamond Band goblet a while back. If you compare the drawing in that piece to the drawing in this one you'll undoubtedly say, "Gee whiz!"

The only similarity between the Olson and Diamond Band patterns is the "diamond band" they share. The differences, on the other hand, are more extensive—mostly in their stems and how they were produced. Diamond Band is a pressed line while the Olson goblet has a delicate blown bowl with a wide optic. My guess is that Olson was never a production item.

The drawing is in brother Vince's fine hand. I tremble to think how good this drawing might have been if Vince had more than my description to guide him. The original goblet is in the National Heisey Glass Museum and it has a beautiful "probably-Heisey" cutting. I did not ask Vince to draw the cutting because he upsets easily.

It would behoove you to take a look at the Olson goblet in the museum (if you know anyone else who still says "behoove," raise your hand). When I last saw Olson in the museum (the stem, not the chemist) it was in a display case alongside the California stem but that was before the museum expansion. It's anybody's guess where you'll find it now. No matter, it's worth the hunt because you'll discover many, many exciting things along the way.

Being human and, consequently, self-centered, I've been made aware, through the natural disasters in southern California, that there's more to this country than the Midwest and the Northeast. Geography was never my strong suit. In my world, "west of the Mississippi" and "south of the Mason Dixon line" are places existing only in travelogues.

The new enlightenment has made me realize that many Heisey collectors may not understand why we in the east have been carrying on about this winter. Sure, they have earthquakes in California and hurricanes in Florida but at least they're warm there. I wouldn't complain if I had to shovel snow and chop ice in 72-degree weather. No, sir, not me.

As I write this it's February and I'm sitting out the second day of a nasty snow storm. February has never been a favorite month. In fact it's never even been in the running. It's tough to go antiquing when the thermometer reads minus 10. It's a struggle just to get out of the house to shovel away the snow and ice that entombs your car. When you finally clear the car and the driveway, you brave the cold and risk your life on icy roads only to find the antiques shops closed because of the weather. What's the matter with these people? No wonder antiques dealers never get rich.

January won't win any Best Month of the Year prize either. January 1994 was bad. Chaos in California and ice everywhere else. January pushed me over the weather edge. I've come to hate even discussing the weather. The next guy who asks, "Cold enough for you?" is going to be wearing his skis up his nose or some other handy orifice.

If there isn't already a movement afoot to eliminate certain compound weather words from our vocabulary, I'm going to start one. I'm talking about words like "wind chill," "below zero," "freezing rain," "cold snap," "snow shovel," "shovel snow" and "Willard Scott." And let's not forget "snow plow" (particularly the one that plowed right after I cleared the end of our driveway). I'd ban them, too. I'd also ban store clerks who say, "We're out of rock salt, but we expect another delivery next August."

Winter! Bah, humbug!

Don't despair, Carl, March is here and things will soon look up. (I'm thinking positive here because Dr. Frank said I must). Sure, March throws some curves, too—I won't even mention the Blizzard of 93. Winter weather is lousy but when March arrives you know it can't be lousy much longer. April is just around the corner and everyone knows April is pushy.

March does more than promise—it delivers! It signals the start of the Heisey calendar year. The annual HCA Benefit Auction rings in our new year and the Cadillac Lincoln Dinner kicks off the Heisey social season. Both are quickly followed by the National Capital Heisey Collectors Club's Annual All-Heisey Glass Show and Sale. Now there's a one-two-three punch that'll put Diamond Hs in your eyes.

Look for me at all three events!

If there's snow on the ground, don't waste your time looking. ♦

Don Valdes

Much of my reporting of the correspondence of T. Clarence Heisey may have left many of you collectors a bit cold. But at last I encountered some things a bit more up your alley (or what I imagine to be your alley). Back in 1947 Mr. Heisey had a brief correspondence with Elizabeth Gibson (Mrs. Herbert) of Pittsburgh. It started with a request by Mrs. Gibson for information from T. Clarence as she was to give a talk on colored glass to the fall meeting of the Early American Glass Club. Mrs. Gibson then sent Heisey a "honey colored piece," a sauce dish, requesting information, specifically, the date. She enclosed ".25 for parcel post insurance back to me as this is my pet peice." (sic)

Mr. Heisey responded with the following:

Dear Mrs. Gibson:

The nice little nappy that you sent to us(I still think it is nice even though¹ did make it back somewhere between 1898 and 1905)we called our #1220 pattern with Pearl Edge. It was decorated with a lacquer and burned in a kiln to produce this yellow edge. I don't recall the name they had for this line and we have no literature here that describes it. This was a very popular pattern at that particular decade.

Along about this time my brother George who had graduated from Lehigh came home, joined the Company and designed what was known as the Colonial pattern, which was an instant success. It turned the entire industry from Victoria, all-over cartwheels and what-have-you to the more simple Colonial flutes, and this pattern went out of the picture in consequence. However, I think it could be revived today with much success.

We also made square nappies, both large and small, in this same motif. I regret not having any samples of them to send you.

We are returning your dish to you. Thank you for the courtesy of sending it to us and permitting us to check with you as to the date. I reiterate this dish was made around 1898 to 1905.

Under separate cover, we are sending you a pair of Candlesticks in our Crystolite pattern which we hope you will enjoy.

Yours very truly,
A. H. Heisey & Co.
T. Clarence Heisey

TCH:B

P.S. We are inclosing your quarter.

How about that for an exchange, Crystolite fans?

¹ I have been faithful to spelling, grammar, sentence structure, etc. In the second paragraph, Mr. Heisey was probably referring to Victorian imitation cut designs.

Here is another letter, one from George Granville, the New England area sales representative for Heisey, I felt you would feel good about.

February 21, 1947

Mr. George A. Granville
29 Hurd Road
Belmont 78, Mass.

Dear George:

You were very nice to take your busy time to tell us that our glass is coming through as per the doctor's orders. We are doing our utmost to keep it in such a manner, as we want to be out in front as far as color is concerned, and I believe we are.

A man blew in here the other day who was here 25 years ago. In the interim he has been making glass for all the crowned heads and cracked heads of Europe, Japan, Argentina, etc. He showed me a piece of glass that he had made for Cambridge. I never saw as fine a piece of glass come out of a Cambridge shop before. Also, some stuff he had made for Duncan which is very good. I figured if he had a better egg to fry than we had, we wanted him to lay one for us. He spent ten days here to the tune of about $600.00 and said, "Well, Mr. Heisey, I don't think I can improve on your glass. It is the best in the world." Of course, a man who has been around talking to big shots in our industry is no piker when it comes to polishing the apple, so you are to gulp that with a little bicarbonate of soda or Bisodol. He also, said that he had been in every factory in the world and we had the best run shop of anybody. Of course, you can put that in the lying machine too.

Anyway, even though we have been pretty fortunate in having some good stuff come from our furnace, we are still alert to making it better. That is the reason why I wanted to see what this fellow had to say.

Business is going good² and we are gradually adding shops so that we hope to have a full compliment of help in the next few months. However, don't expect this to be fully consummated until the roses bloom next summer.

With best wishes, I am

Sincerely,

T. Clarence Heisey

As I have mentioned before, and perhaps several times, over the past year I have come to feel that I know T. Clarence Heisey pretty well. Even stronger is my wish that I could have a chat with him (Seance, anyone?). ♦

²Again, I have tried here to faithfully transcribe such correspondence as I report. If Mr. Heisey's letter employs "good" when proper English dictates "well," blame it on (a) his secretary, (b) Mr. Heisey, or (c) his Amherst education, not the editor.

CLUB NOTES

Heisey Collectors of the Rochester Area #19

George J. Reynolds, Secretary

Our January meeting was held at the beautiful home of Roberta and Warren Zimmer on the 9th.

The subject of the meeting was whimsies. Several items of interest were presented by our members including a #112 candle made into a toothpick, Quator handled sugar made into a scoop for flower or sugar, recessed panel three pound candy flattened into a very heavy cake plate.

Show and Tell produced a nice #341 1/2 one pint squat jug by Donna Schwendy. Our newest member Charlie Penny brought two great #1428 Warwick large Horn of Plenty vases in Cobalt, 15" Moongleam #1184 Yeoman sandwich tray and a dolphin-handled #1519 Waverly 14 inch tray. Charlie speaks Chinese, this will be a great help to the group. There are times when no one can understand what's going on. Charlie is an interesting and valued addition to our group, we welcome him!

The motion was made and passed that all monies raised by our club would be donated to the endowment fund, only.

Our quote for the month: "In this world, you must be a bit too kind in order to be kind enough."♦

Virginia Heisey Club #35

Harriett H. Slear, Vice President

The December meeting of the Virginia Heisey Club was held in the turn of the century home of Jessie and Charles Hopkins in Hampton. It is always a treat to visit their lovely home. Unfortunately illnesses and weather kept our attendance low. After our covered dish Christmas dinner we cleared the table for our program and finds. Jessie once again shared her thoughts of the season with us, giving each of us a copy to keep. We were then asked to list vertically the first letters in our club's name and write by each letter a Heisey related fact of item. Our finds included a Twist celery in Sahara, Plantation cruet, Kalonyal tall jelly compote, Minuet etched shallow oval bowl and dinner bell, a Rooster vase, a Saturn vase, Ridgeleigh square cigarette holder, Colonial punch cup and a Petticoat Dolphin candlestick in Flamingo. We adjourned our meeting agreeing to meet again in February 1994.♦

Heisey Collectors of Texas #16

Aleeta Herr, Secretary

What better way to start the New Year than with a Heisey club meeting. January 8 brought the Heisey Collectors of Texas and their guests to the home of Tom and Aleeta Herr in Duncanville, Texas.

There were twelve members and seven guests present. After a great lunch, the meeting was called to order by President Bill Carter. Member Ken Deibel delivered a very interesting program on silver overlay which included several pieces from his personal collection.

As always, Show and Tell provided some interesting pieces. Members brought examples of Heisey's beautiful milk glass and a very old Fancy Loop spooner. Guests Jan and John Newby shared with us there beautiful Cobalt Spanish stems.

Our next meeting is scheduled for the second Saturday in March. The Heisey Collectors of Texas meet bi-monthly in member's homes and we welcome visitors or anyone interested in joining the club. For information concerning meetings and/or membership, please call Aleeta Herr at (214) 780-0193.♦

Heisey Club of California #13

Poney Express

The January meeting for the Heisey Club of California was held January 23 at the home of Bud and Penny Thorup, co-hosted by Bev Souders in Long Beach with a luncheon provided. Our program for the afternoon was #300 Peerless and our club members were encouraged to bring interesting items to share.

Discussed in our newsletter was a reprint of a portion of the section on the #134 Trident two-lite candlestick from the HCA candlesticks, candelabra and lamps book by Tom Felt and Bob O'Grady. A pair of the #134's in plain Crystal was the "grand" raffle prize won by Terry Smith (me) at the December meeting.

Plans are underway for our Annual Fundraising Auction. This is our club's major fundraising event held in April. Our members were reminded that now is the time to put some thought into the item given for donation.♦

Gulf Coast Heisey Club of Florida #42

Virginia Johnson

The January meeting of our club was held the 26th and was hosted by Bob and Betty Williams in Bradenton, Florida. Present were fourteen members and one guest, Joyce Farnham from the Heisey Heritage Club in New Jersey. After a delicious lunch, the climax being the luscious deserts Bob Williams creates, we settled in for our business meeting, followed by our Fund Raising Auction which included a raffle for a surprise piece of Heisey provided by Odell and Virginia Johnson. This year we raised $1250 which will be donated to the HCA Endowment Fund. Calvin and Dorothy Meyer were the holders of the winning ticket and won a #1632 Lodestar 12 inch floral bowl in Dawn. The membership voted to give $50 for the June Convention Hospitality Room needs and Fran and Jack Grenzabach offered to do a display of table of Orchid Etch at the June display. Among the show and tell items were a Krall cutting Churchill on an apple shaped nappie, Daisy and Leaves vase and also a Daisy and Leaves basket, a glass fork and spoon, decorated in Gold and signed, an Airedale, signed, Banded Flute pint jug and a Coventry claret with Belvidere Etch.

We meet on the third Thursday of the months, November, January and March, at 11:00 a.m., unless otherwise noted. The March meeting will be March 17 at 11:00 a.m. The meeting will be held at the home of Odell and Virginia Johnson, 6909 Tenth Ave. W., Bradenton, (813) 792-0604. Visitors are welcome. Please call or write for directions. Program will be centered on Heisey glass in Moongleam, Emerald, Zircon, Limelight in honor of St. Patrick's Day. ♦

National Capital Heisey Study Club #44

The Heisey Herald

Well, didn't 1994 get off to an uncomfortable and shivering beginning! Let's hope we are through with all that stuff and can concentrate on Spring.

Our January program was a continuation of "Heisey Cuttings" with Jim Jones's slide presentation of patterns in the categories of Diamonds, Wheat, Leaves and Flowers. It was a great learning opportunity.

Last month's program gave us the chance to swap tales of "My First Piece of Heisey and Where I Found It". Our 22nd Annual All-Heisey Show and Sale is getting very close, March 19th-20th. Please remember the success of the show depends not only on the dealers but also on membership support. ♦

Northwest Heisey Collectors Club #22

Dixie Fuller

Our February meeting theme was "Sweet Heisey Day" and our members were invited to bring their "Sweetheart Heisey Deals" for show and tell. We all oohed and aahed when our members showed their unbelievable deals. A Puritan horse head #1489-1/2 cigarette box for $15 two Gascony #3397 sodas, Tangerine with Crystal foot, one for $4.50 and the other was free; four Heisey Rose goblets for $18.50 and four Heisey Rose sherberts for $18.50; #3947 covered candy with blown top and bowl, cut to simulate hammered metal with three different cuttings; sunburst #343 heart shape dish; Vervyls Mandarin vase; #1401 Empress 7 inch oval comport, Lafayette Etch in Sahara; 7 inch Rose Etch lily bowl; 9 inch Rose Etch salad bowl; Rose Etch ice tub; Ridgeleigh shoe tree; Ridgeleigh pressed wine that is flared like the #4069 blown stemware and looks like the mold drawings from the Ridgeleigh book, page 31 for $30.00. Gordon Cochran reported on the last Heisey meeting in Newark. We held our election of officers, Rollie Martin, President; Mary Lux, Vice President; Chris Wyskie, Treasurer and Nan Alderson, Secretary.

This spring our club will again display Heisey at various Antique shows in Oregon and Washington. Many of our members will be heading out to Newark in June. Our club discussed our participation in the convention hospitality room and sponsoring a raffle. ♦

Hoosier Heisey Club #45

Sonnie Taylor, Secretary

The Hoosier Heisey club met November 20, 1993 at the Warren Library in Indianapolis from 2:00 to 4:00 p.m. New officers for 1994 were elected as follows: President, Don Babourn, Vice President, Tom Taylor, Secretary, Sonnie Taylor, and Treasurer, Ebbie Kolter. Meeting dates for 1994 are March 5, June 4, August 20, and November 19.

Fred Duhm presented the program on Warwick, commonly called horn of plenty. It was first produced in 1933 and is usually marked. It is available in Crystal, Moongleam, Sahara, Cobalt, Flamingo, and rare in Alexandrite. Judging from some of the recent auction prices, it's rare in Flamingo also! Our color presentation was beautiful and rare colored peices in the Warwick pattern. Our show and tell display featured many different and colorful pieces, proving that Heisey is available and really a joy to find! ♦
