MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT CHARLIE WADE

Greetings!

Here I am back for another year. I sincerely thank everyone for their support over the last year and the encouragement to run for a second term. Believe me, I am most honored to have been selected as your President again.

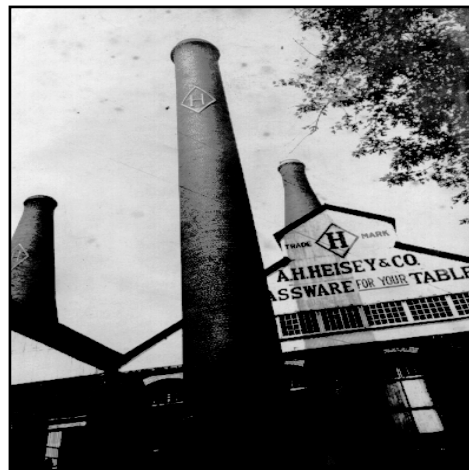

I really feel we have some very important business to get done over the next few months, and I most certainly will need everyone's support the same as you have supported me in the past.

One of our biggies for the year is of course the Strategic Plan. The next Board meeting in July will address this and hopefully we can have a resolution to it by the end of summer. I have talked about this several times in this column, but for those who came in late, I will explain the plan again. It is basically a road map of where we, as an organization/museum need to get to and the way there. The staff and several volunteers have put in many hours on this. Actually, its development started last year and just finished in June. I had copies of the plan sent to the Presidents of the study clubs who attended the President's Meeting with me in June at the Convention. I have asked for them to share this with their memberships and return to me any and all comments.

Once again, many volunteers and the Museum staff put on another great Convention. To Jack Metcalf and Yvonne Gaydos, Convention Co-Chairs; Walter Ludwig, Show; Marilyn Smith, Display; Bob and Hilda Ryan, Joyce and Bob Dickman, Connie and Tim Dall, Swap, Blind Auction and Dinner; Tri-State Club, Hospitality; North Carolina Club, Convention Registration and to the many members of all the Convention committees, a great big thanks to all. A special thanks to the Museum staff. It is without a doubt the busiest time of the year at the Museum and without them we all would be lost. And to our dealers who continue to support us year in and year out, a big thanks to you also.

How about the show and display merging? I thought it looked great and really filled the building up. I know the Internet is taking its toll on our show and all shows in general. From what I am seeing, more and more dealers are finding it easier to sell over the Internet. Somehow though it is really hard to beat getting out and seeing all that beautiful glass all decked out in one place. It really is an exhilarating sight! Look forward to seeing you all back again next year.

I would also like to thank all club and private donations that came in during the Convention. Several came in specifically to support my plea for a couple of special projects that raised their head outside of the budget, and many were given to the Endowment Fund and to the Museum. Thanks to all! All of the donations are listed on pages 12-16.

Don't forget to get your reservations in for the Percy and Vivian Moore Dinner to be held in Rochester this year. Sounds like a lot of fun, and you will get to see Rochester without snow on the ground! Ha! Last two times I visited this great city all I could see was snow and more snow. You have to remember that living in Central Ohio, we are lucky if we get ten inches spread over four months. I can remember a few dinners in March when we had that amount on the ground at once, but since we moved the dinners to April we have not had the bad weather. Oh well, enough for the weather history of Newark.

Look for new Vice-President, Connie Dall to conduct the meeting in Rochester. Yours truly has had those dates secured for more than a year now. This is our annual family trek to the Outer Banks in North Carolina, and these plans have been in the works for a long time. My apologies to the folks in Rochester, but I know Connie will do a great job.

If you can't make it to Rochester in September and you are headed south, be sure to check out the Elegant Glass Show in Georgia at Jim Miller Park. We were there last year and had a great time. One last note, It now appears the Ruby colt is off for the Longaberger Homestead Anniversary Party. This piece was to have provided approximately 10k to the coffers of HCA. Not sure yet but it would appear we will be short on our budget for the year. More later on that subject after I get a chance to talk to Treasurer Jack.

Till next month,

Charlie

ANGIE HORNBERGER

It took a few weeks, but Angie and I have finally finished processing all of the glass donations received during Convention. See pages 12 & 13 for a list of everything that's come in during the first half of the year.

With the task of processing the Convention donations completed, I have moved on to another collections-related task that I've mentioned in this column before—reviewing all of the loans that the Museum has received over the years. If you currently have glass on loan, you should have received a list of your items and a response sheet to be completed and returned by August 10, 2001. If you did not receive or have any questions about your list, don't hesitate to contact me.

In the past month I've talked with folks involved in planning both the new Cambridge and the Imperial glass museums here in Ohio. (I'll be sure to announce their official openings.) As we discussed the software that we use to manage our collections and a number of other museum issues, two things occurred to me. The first was that our own HCA members might also like to see a sample of the collections database and what it can do. The second is simply that the Museum was created as a resource, and it's yours to use. If you ever have any questions about the Museum's collection, concerning items it contains or items you'd like to donate, please contact me. With our database I can quickly pull up a variety of lists that can be useful to you as you decide on a piece to donate or as you research your favorite pattern, maybe even for an article in the Heisey News!♥

Wow! These last few months have been an incredibly busy time for the Studio. During the month of June, the Studio had 1,103 visitors, including regular visitors, school groups and organized tours. In addition to our regular demonstrations and classes, we had three Convention glass classes. I have to say that people are really enthusiastic about these classes. Convention goes as well as local participants have had a great time designing and making their own paperweights and glass vessels. Hopefully by the time this newsletter reaches you, class participants will have received their finished pieces.

Currently I am in the process of updating the Studio's web site. I hope to add additional information and photos regarding the Studio, the classes and our artisans. If you took a class and you have yet to see your picture in the Heisey News, check out our web site over the next month. Who knows, you may be famous!!♦

Our collections database is in the Microsoft Access program, which allows users to "filter" the database using specific information from one or more fields and to "sort" according to any of the fields. The list here was generated by running a filter for the Athena pattern name and was then sorted alphabetically according to item name. Our database contains a number of other fields which have been "hidden" for this list. All items in the list are Museum owned.

FROM THE ARCHIVES

VICKI MEEHAN

Recently I came across an original design for a brochure of "Ye Olde Sandwich Glass." Most of the designs pictured are for plates. In The Collector's Encyclopedia of Heisey Glass, I found mention of this brochure on pages 362 and 364. The brochure shows #1238 on the cover and the dolphin candlesticks, as well as #1240, #1234, #1238, and #1236 plates, on the inside. The #1236 and #1238 plates are painted a lovely shade of green (Moongleam). Next to the brochure, I found a striking drawing of the marked #1234 "Stippled Diamond" plate. See the Encyclopedia (pp. 11-12) for more information on Sandwich glass reproductions done by Heisey.

As has been noted before, during the course of business, A. H. Heisey & Co. became the recipient of some of the original wooden models (not molds) from Sandwich Glass Company, and the company created lines for glassware, including Old Sandwich and Ipswich, based on these models. The models are estimated to have been made between 1850 and 1870. According to a 1996 Heisey News article, the models have been found. The Museum continues to display the #110 Sandwich dolphin candlestick model. I haven't quite figured out what became of the rest of the Sandwich wooden models. Of course, I haven't quite figured out what became of the old Heisey models either. Now they would make nice displays. ♦

HEISEY NOVELTIES

JOE LOKAY

The Heisey Company started producing their opal novelties in about 1897. The January 1899 issue of The National Glass Budget mentioned the A. H. Heisey & Co. as an extensive producer of opal specialties. There were six other companies also listed as extensive producers.

Heisey produced 11 novelties. This is not counting any small Winged Scroll items that are sometimes included in the novelty list. The eleven items are:

- #40 Pin Tray
- #41 Comb Tray
- #46 6 in. Plate- Style 1
- #47 6 in. Plate- Style 2
- #51 12 in. Comb & Brush Tray
- #56 Match Box
- #57 Puff Box
- #58 Hair Pin Box
- #59 Cigar & Ash Receiver
- #60 Stamp Box
- #61 Hair Pin Box, small.

A shipping order to the Oriental Glass Company dated June 24, 1899, lists 10 of the 11 novelties. The Oriental Glass Company was a decorating company located in Pittsburgh, PA. Heisey's business with Oriental was either (1) as a supplier of glassware to them, or (2) to use them as a decorator of ware that was sent to Oriental for decorating and then back to Heisey for their sales programs. More on the Oriental Company can be found in the Heisey News, February 1976.

Page 19 in #60 Heisey Price List dated 1901, lists the opal novelties that were for sale at that time. The list also states that the novelties were available "with assorted decorations." Either Heisey or Oriental may have applied the decorations. Included in this list are 11 novelty items and 14 #1280 Winged Scroll items.

The question is: "How are the novelty items marked?" First, let's look at the beginning of the Diamond H mark.

On June 21, 1901, the Heisey Company filed an application at the U.S. Patent Office to register their trademark for pressed glass. On August 6, 1901, the Patent Office granted registration of the Diamond H to Heisey as trademark #36,860. Heisey's registration letter to the Patent Office stated, "Be it known that the Heisey Company has adopted this trademark for use on its glassware." The registration statement also stated that the Company had been using this trademark since November 1, 1900. More on the Diamond H trademark can be found in the Heisey News, April 1975.

So that leaves the questions: "What about novelty items made in 1898? How are they marked?" Production started in 1897, a full list was available in 1901, and production may have continued to perhaps, 1905. The novelties in the Museum are marked with both the stock number and the Diamond H. For example, the Pin Tray would be marked with a 40 and a Diamond H. The novelty plate I found was marked with a 46 and a Diamond H.

What about items made in 1898? My feeling is that a stock number was placed on a novelty at its beginning, and not when the Diamond H started to be used by Heisey. That means, if you can find an opal novelty with a number 40, 41, 46, 47, 51 or 56-61 on it, it's most likely a Heisey piece. If you find one, compare it to what's in the Museum for positive identification.

The Winged Scroll novelty items do not have a stock number on them because they are from an extensive pattern line that had a pattern number, namely #1280.

Happy novelty hunting! ♦

A CIGARETTE, SWEET MUSIC AND YOU

BILL HERON

Only people who are very ancient, such as Carl Sparacio or myself, will recall Fred Waring and his Pennsylvanians. They were a popular band in their time, and during the Forties, Monday-Friday, they did a fifteen-minute radio show that was sponsored by Chesterfield. "A Cigarette, Sweet Music and You" was the theme song.

When I got the idea of looking into Heisey's containers for cigarettes, it brought the Fred Waring show to mind. As I pursued the subject, the theme song ran around in my head; it was a soothing influence, as once again, when studying what the Heisey people did, I ran into things that were surprising and somewhat mystifying.

Heisey made a number of different items that had to do with smoking. There were ashtrays of all sorts. There were match holders, and there were combination ashtrays and match stands. In addition, there were cigarette lighters in both Whirlpool and Crystolite. The subject of this piece is containers made by Heisey that were intended to hold a supply of cigarettes. Some of these were strictly cigarette containers, but a few were combination cigarette containers and ashtrays. Some had covers while others did not.

The earliest pattern for which I found a cigarette container listed is Winged Scroll. The last Heisey cigarette containers came out in 1949. That's quite a time span, but not every pattern from Winged Scroll through 1949 had a cigarette container. In fact, there were at least two very notable omissions, as will be seen in the list I pulled together from the various references on Heisey glass such as the Vogel and Bredehoff books.

In total, I found 19 Heisey patterns for which one or more cigarette containers are listed. For some patterns, more than one cigarette container is listed. Thus, in total, there are 33 cigarette containers. There are two main types of cigarette containers. Some are boxes with covers. Others are holders with no covers. Of the 33 containers, 17 are boxes with covers and 11 are holders. The rest are something else, e.g., the Victorian individual cigarette holder and ashtray combination.

Ridgeleigh is the champion with seven different cigarette containers. Puritan, (new) and Crystolite also did fairly well, with each scoring four different cigarette containers. It strikes me as quite odd that there is no cigarette container listed for either Empress or Twist. After all, these were two of Heisey's most successful patterns, and a wide range of items was included in them—but no cigarette container. Does anyone know why?

Another rather glaring omission is the entire range of colonial patterns. There are no cigarette containers to be found in Priscilla, Puritan, Narrow Flute or any of the other colonial patterns. One characteristic of the Heisey Company that stands out clearly as one looks at the range of items they made, is the company's willingness to pursue sales dollars wherever they might be found, whether it be soap dishes, toothbrush holders, mail boxes or glass lenses for automobile headlights. Why then did they not provide at least one cigarette container in some of their most popular lines?

Also, one stemware line, Carcassonne, shows a cigarette container, yet none of the other stemware lines do so. If Carcassonne, then why not, for example, Gascony? Strange, very strange. One other thing might be of note. Some of the cigarette containers are very easy to find. Others don't seem to turn up very often. For example, how often do you see a Rococo cigarette box?

Now it's time to look at what I found. Here they are, listed in the order of the year in which the pattern is believed to have come out.

NEWARK BICENTENNIAL
 TWIST PLATTER
 AVAILABLE FOR ORDER

Newark will turn 200 in 2002, and to celebrate, the Newark Bicentennial Commission, through HCA, is reproducing the #1252 Twist platter that Heisey made for the Newark sesquicentennial in 1952.

This piece is being produced by Mosser Glass in teal and will feature the Newark bicentennial logo in place of the original sesquicentennial logo. Though being made from the same mold as the Heisey platter, the finished reproduction will actually be more of a bowl shape.

The Commission is making and numbering 2002 of these pieces, and the cost will be $64.95 plus tax and a $10 shipping and handling charge if applicable. Checks and money orders will be accepted.

For an order form, contact Chuck Jackson of the Newark Bicentennial Commission at 740-344-9252 or visit the Commission's web site at: www.newarkohio200.com. Click on "products" to view platter or order form.

Note: This item will not be available for purchase directly from HCA. You must place your order through the Commission.

FOUND

A ring was found at OSU's Hopewell Hall following the Convention. If anyone lost a ring during this time, please contact the Museum.

CALL FOR ARTICLES

Greetings from the Editor's desk! Please let me begin by thanking everyone who has recently submitted an article for the Newsletter. Judging by the recent complimentary emails I have received, our readers are really enjoying these refreshing pieces. To keep this momentum going, I would like to invite all readers to type up a few words and send it my way!

Some possible article ideas include: writing about your area of expertise, interesting glassware finds or historical pieces regarding a specific pattern, etch, cutting, etc. These articles can be of varying lengths and may include photos.

Also Cheri and I were considering a monthly column that would feature fakes and look-a-likes. We would be very interested in hearing about your experiences with fakes and look-a-likes. If anyone has any suggestions for this column or would like to submit an article, please contact me either by phone or email. ♦

AN UNKNOWN HEISEY STEM

One of the exciting items to be had at this year's "Before Auction Madness" flea market was the unknown 12 oz. Heisey goblet shown below. The Museum was lucky to receive a donation of one of these goblets from Ron Keener.

As we were finding a place to display the item in Gallery 1, we came across a matching 6 oz. champagne from the same pattern that was donated by Gene Moenning back in 1996. Both pieces have a round, flat pressed stem and a blown bowl and foot. Both are also marked at the top of the stem. If anyone knows anything about this pattern or has other items from the line, we'd love to hear from you. ♦

The 2001 Convention Souvenirs, a Willow Blue Cabochon Sign, are still available in the Museum Shop. Cost is now $25.00.

Coffee Maker Set General Electric Hotpoint offers you the most up-to-date convenience for making perfect coffee, together with the smartest means of serving it. The Coffee Maker is the standard Dorchester 8-cup model. Its operation assures the most perfect coffee known to modern science. Coffee Maker, with eight attractive Heisey glasses, which have been heat treated, and a gleaming Chromeplate tray, comprise the set.

Dorchester Set New! Available September 15, 1934. Beautifully styled, with the smartness derived from the contrast of gleaming Chromeplate and sparkling glassware. Large Chromeplate tray with black Colrold lifting handles. Eight heat-treated stemware glasses for serving. See page six for complete description of Coffee Maker.

DORCHESTER CAT. NO. 189596

Shown here is an ad for Hotpoint Coffee sets that featured Heisey #3312 Gayoso footed Russian coffees without the handles. For more information regarding this ad, see the Northwest Heisey Collectors club notes on page 21.

Starting your Set of Heisey Crystal...

You'll find that there's one big advantage in buying established patterns of quality glassware. Such patterns remain in open stock and you can be certain of being able to add to your original set as time goes on.

You may wish to begin with the obvious essentials. Goblets are first among these. Buy service for four, six, eight or twelve persons depending on your budget — and on the size of your dining room table!

Next in importance are sherbets and wine glasses. High sherbets are also known as saucer champagnes and, indeed, are used for this bubbly vintage although serving more often for the mousse or chilled fruit of your dessert. There are several types of wine glasses, used for sherry, Rhine wine and other wines. Lower footed stemware and glasses without feet are for juices and other beverages.

You'll want matching glass plates, for use with sherbets, to truly dramatize your table for special occasions. Your next choice may be iced tea glasses, which can do double duty for highballs or frosted drinks. And high on your list will be a water pitcher.

These are but a few of the many pieces of tableware and decorative accessories, such as candelabra, candlesticks, bowls, etc., available in almost all Heisey patterns. Other pieces to be added later to your Heisey collection may be complete bar ensembles including cocktail glasses and shaker, old fashioned, highballs, liquor glasses, and ice cube bowl.

Sketched below are the basic pieces of stemware available in a given Heisey pattern — however, the pattern itself will determine the shape of the stemware "bowls."

While conducting research in the Archives, summer intern, Amy Shaw encountered a booklet published by A. H. Heisey & Company titled, Choosing Your Crystal Pattern. Pictured here is page 9 of the booklet.

CLUB NOTES

Northwest Heisey Collectors Deborah de Jong

We had 20 members attend the meeting at Don & Glenna Wehmeyer's beautiful apartment on a gorgeous sunny day. We all spent our time studying their collection of candleholders that were all over the place. Much time was spent in front of Don's goblet case, where many rare and exquisite examples of Heisey's production rest. Both bedrooms held breathtaking displays of color and form, the colognes being one of my favorites. Don & Glenna have spent about 15 years collecting and have an astonishing display.

Old Business:

We didn't have any business at all to discuss, a pleasant change of events. Instead Deborah showed an ad for Hotpoint Coffee sets that employed Heisey tempered glass footed Russian coffees (see page 19.) When we did the Green River Show display a man approached us with a query on what glasses they could be, and sent a copy of the ad over email. It was determined they were probably Gayoso Russian coffees without the handle.

Deborah had correspondence from a past visitor, Gary Lanksbury, regarding a pitcher he had. It turned out to be a #461 Convex Circle. What a find! We also had an email from a new HCA member in Yakima inquiring about things happening that a new collector should know about. She was invited to attend a meeting and referred to the Old Stuff magazines available in antique stores locally.

Raffle:

We all like to kid the Bellingham group for their uncanny luck at winning the raffle. This month we had only one of their couples and sure enough, Don Pederson won the #300 ½ Colonial sugar. In all fairness, it has been a while since a win for them.

Show & Tell:

For show & tell Glenna read us the information on the Rose etching. Her collection of Rose in the china hutch and the table display was astounding. She and Don had assembled the pieces of stemware, sherbets to goblets. There was a comparison of wine and claret that was very informative. It's hard to tell from books what the subtle differences are and the ability to physically examine the pieces are what study club meetings are all about. We were able to touch everything from a dinner plate, a bow-tie candy seahorse footed bowl, cruet, sugar & creamer set, salt & pepper set, etc. The stemware went from the tiny cordial to wine then claret, sherbet, cocktail, champagne, oyster, footed juice, ice tea and finally the goblet. It was great to see them lined up according to size! Other items included a #1447 Rococo Sahara sugar & creamer, #1404 Old Sandwich round sugar & creamer, #3403 Spanish dinner bell with label and #7098 cut daisy plate.

Meeting Adjourned:

After the meeting adjourned, the desserts were devoured, if you hadn't already gotten your fill. Jim Curtiss passed out packets of flower seeds he had leftover. We all left with handfuls of packets; he really didn't want to take them home. Another great day and great Heisey glass. Thanks to all. ♦

Northwoods Heisey Club of Minnesota Ann Heinzman

Having missed the last two meetings of the Northwoods Heisey Club of Minnesota limits my ability to write with the same enthusiasm as those in attendance. At the March 12th meeting, Chuck Bingham presented his collection of 2,200 pieces of Fenton glass. He also shared a handout titled "Fenton Art Glass 1905-2001," which included a listing of all the glass he shared, as well as a brief history. Chuck also served as the group's host! Several members brought items to peak the group's interest, such as a seahorse cocktail w/ Sultana stem, a Fancy Loop plate (featured in the March issue of Heisey News), Locket on Chain salt and pepper shakers in red stain and a concave circle candle in Sahara. It was decided that individual sharing would be an asset to each meeting.

On May 12th the members met at the home of Marilyn and Jerry Coleman. They presented a slide program on Heisey Lariat, which they obtained from the Heisey Collectors of America. Individuals shared the following items: #1509 Queen Ann silver overlay ice bucket; #1425 Victorian condiment set and a small nut set; #1503 Crystalite 7" shell praline; #1506 Whirlpool Limelight covered footed candy dish; #1509 Queen Ann lemon dish and cover w/ Orchid etch; #1252 Twist Flamingo covered mustard; #1428 Warwick II Horn of Plenty floral bowl flashed; #1252 Moongleam 6" 2-handled jelly and #1185 Yeoman Flamingo celery dish.

Merlyn and Dorothy Krentz will host the September 8th meeting at 1:00 P.M. in Lewiston, MN. Kay Chapman will be doing a program on Orchid and Minuet etches. We are eager to increase our membership. If you share an interest in Heisey, I can provide directions to the Krentz's. Call 763-542-9177 or email me at amh1304@aol.com. ♦

The Heisey Collectors of Texas

Rodger Hulslander

A great turnout for our July meeting of HCT, and right in the middle of vacation time! We were privileged to have five visitors with us, Bobbie & James, Carol, Gloria and Sharon, and fifteen HCT members. Our hostess, Peggy Moseley prepared a delicious luncheon, and Gloria and Sharon helped out tremendously in the kitchen. Peggy's daughter Sharon even drove in from out of town to help Mom for the day! And what a day we had! Sharon also showed us a gift she had bought for her Mother's, birthday. Sharon very carefully opened a USPS Priority Box, and found a beautiful Empress Cobalt piece! However, instead of a one-piece plate, this plate was in many pieces! Yes, everyone's jaws dropped! However, the thought was there!

We were very thankful to have two of our faithful HCT members back with us, Margie Allen and John Powell, both have been very ill for the last 3-4 months.

A short business meeting to elect officers for the next two years followed. The new officers are President, Greg Freeman, Vice President, Charlie Baird and yours truly, Secretary/Treasure. This was followed by some interesting reports from HCT Convention goers, Charlie Baird and Kay and Rusty Kohler. The Blind Auction at the Convention sounded like a lot of fun and a great success! They also reported that the "new kids on the block" showed up in Newark, Ohio for the Convention. Way to go Marion & Linda. Y'all come back now, we've been missing you!

Our hostess Peggy, did some research on Heisey lavender jars. This was distributed to all of us to read and keep in our Heisey memory! Also Peggy put together a game that I will call "Brown Bag Pattern Identification." The game consisted of ten brown bags numbered 1 through 10 and our job was to reach in and feel the piece of Heisey then identify it. I have to say we had some pretty good Heisey identifiers in the group. Only two people missed one out of ten. I would say that was very outstanding considering it had been a long time since we had played this game. Some of those Colonials are hard to identify when you get into those 300's!

Our visitors from Atlanta, TX, Bobbie and James, came with a couple of their finds from East Texas. These finds included a couple of Spanish stems with the elaborate Artichoke Krall cutting and a gaslight shade in Puntty & Diamond Point, that is not an easy one to come by either!

Other show and tell items to mention are the Moongleam and Crystal Steeplechase cocktails, Renaissance double plate etching stem and a Cross Lined Flute flared vase. Also, the Killarney cutting on a Spanish cordial (which yours truly has seen and said, "no, the stem did not look right" - tells you I am really losing it! Ha!) Also had a boat shaped piece in "Yeoman" which the dealer called a banana split dish and a small banana split dish, I believe Heisey called it a fruit. However, remember the small sherbets Heisey made, very small - so who knows.

One couple in our club have friends who bring Heisey with them when they come to visit. Would you believe a "Grape" floral bowl and a cut Crystal Pleat and Panel compote? No, they will not give anyone their names!! Tried that already, so don't even think about asking!

Until next our next meeting, September 8th at the Caraway's, "Happy Heisey Hunting"! ♦
