Message from the President

June has quickly come and gone and so has another National Heisey Convention. My wife Kate and I along, with the talented Janine Conrad, chaired this years Convention, and we are thrilled with the results. We had wonderful attendance at all of the events, and all the comments we have heard thus far have been very positive! We really enjoyed all the planning that went into this endeavor, but the reward was in hearing the results of our labors. We outsold any previous year with sales of $46,575.00, in the Museum Shop. The expanded Silent Auction netted $2,698.00, and our live banquet auction netted $3,295.00. I am personally thrilled to report $11,160.00, just in Heisey bead sales! What a great 2015 Gifts of Heisey Convention! See many photos and highlights of events on pages 16 - 19.

The Convention also brought with it the Election of Officers for the HCA Board. I am very pleased to announce your 3 new elected officers are Emie Heisey, Dan Kilgore and myself, Michael Maher. We were elected to serve a 4 year term on the HCA board. These additions brought a change to our executive committee make up. Your new President is Roy Eggert, your Vice President is Emie Heisey, your Treasurer is Jon Heron, and your Secretary is Mary Ann Spahr. I am now your Immediate Past President. This is an inventive and influential team that will bring great success to your Museum.

As I announced above, I am now your Immediate Past President, and I am very pleased to hand the reigns of leadership over to Roy and Emie. They are both great stewards of Heisey glass and have many ideas for future projects to enhance our Museum. Don't worry though, I am not going anywhere! I will still be very active in our Museum, however not writing a monthly presidents article and planning monthly agendas will give me the time required to help with, and enjoy our 2 month old Thompson, who also really enjoyed his 1st Heisey Convention.

I would like to thank so many people for giving me support over the last 4 years while serving on the HCA Board, and the last 2 serving as President. I have been at the head of many changes that took place, and we all know "change" can sometimes be difficult and hard to accept in any organization. I am ecstatic with the Museum Shop move, especially with the sales we are generating! The improved guest engagement area ensures our visitors and members alike, encounter a more personal touch as they enter and exit the museum. Gallery 3 is a beautiful, ever changing, fresh display area, and the NEW Louise Ream Library is coming together very nicely! It has been very challenging and has required a large amount of dedication to achieve these changes, both logistically and diplomatically. I have had many supporters who led me along the way, reassuring me that we were making the right changes and that it would be great in the end. One can easily see how right they were!

I was very pleased to be able to offer, with help from Frank Frye, the opportunity to hold the HCA June Board of Directors meeting at the Heisey Cabin. This was where the Heisey salesman met to discuss pattern changes, sales and other things Heisey. It was a very humbling experience to be planning the future of the Heisey Museum in the same location that Heisey employees planned the Future of the A.H. Heisey & Co. so long ago. See photo on page 17.

The past four years have been a great time in my life, and I am very honored to have served, and to continue to serve, on the HCA Board of Directors. I want to graciously welcome Roy Eggert as your new HCA President.

Words From Your Curator – Director

I think that it must be a very good sign, regarding the success of our convention 2015, in that your staff all enjoyed it immensely! My hope is that all of you, who were fortunate enough to take part in this years “Gift of Heisey” Convention, returned safely to your homes with a positive and very optimistic feeling, from not only your experiences, but for our future as well, to say nothing of your new Heisey treasures. We did have fun. I trust for those of you who were unable to join us this year, that this newsletter can serve as a way of sharing all of the excitement and fun we had!

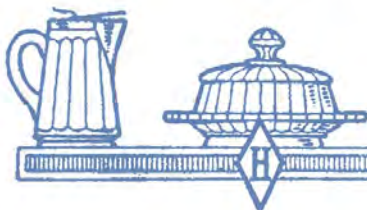

Now, where to begin with the expressions of appreciation, and how to make sure no one is forgotten? Michael, Kate, and Janine, put in countless hours of hard work, of which we were all beneficiaries. I know that at the planning meetings I attended, as there was much laughter and that is usually a good indication of positive events to come. Charlene Bowman and Roy Eggert, as well as all the dealers, put on a show to remember! Dan and Sue Kilgore added their designer touches not only to the table display area, but to the entire sales floor . There was much thought and effort put forth, as evidenced by those who presented theme tables. Back on the home front of your Museum, gracious hospitality was coordinated by Karen Clark and Pat Moore, and our gratitude goes out to all of you that were so generous with food and donations. Mentioning donations, I must say Thank-you to all of our members for the collection glass, shop items, time, talent, and money, donated so generously. Michael has stated the numbers in his article and needless to say they are very generous and overwhelming! All of you working together created the true Gifts of Heisey!

I am very excited about our new board members and officers, as well as our returning ones, and look forward to us all working together for the common good of Heisey and our very special Museum. I need to express my personal, as well as corporate, thanks to Michael Maher. He has been an exceptional President and he has helped make my job the joy that it is! I know that he will still be around and we may all be thankful for that.

On behalf of all your staff, thanks to all and enjoy your summer,

Jack

Heisey Down Under

David G. Malick

I caught the glass collecting bug over twenty years ago now. I did not inherit glass from any family members, nor do I even recall growing up with any special glassware that would have caused my interest in collecting. I am an historian by training and I do collect books and I do recall being in several antique stores over the years but I don't really ever remember paying any attention to glassware until I started collecting Carnival glass. The parents of a friend were antique dealers who specialized in high-end art glass like Tiffany and Stuben. The friend's suggestion was that we could collect Carnival glass since it was more affordable. We looked into it, bought a reference book and were soon hooked. We joined several clubs and started to learn about the companies that produced the glass and the other wares they made. From there we gained an appreciation for other types of glass and built small collections of stretch, opalescent, and crystal to complement our Carnival. We were always aware of Heisey and about six years ago we started to learn more about it since we have a dealer that specializes in Heisey in our main mall in Saginaw. A trip to Newark to visit the Heisey museum and attend the Spring auction was enough to start a new obsession.

Among the many lessons I have learned about collecting glass over the years, (e.g. buy what you like, avoid damage, buy quality), perhaps the most important was taught to me a wonderful couple of glass collectors and researchers from England, Glen and Stephen Thistlewood (www.carnivalglassworldwide.com). I first "met" Glen online via the daily mail list for the Woodsland World Wide Carnival Glass Association. As passionate as Glen and Steve are about collecting and research, they are even more passionate about sharing information. I learned a lot about Carnival Glass from their answers to questions on the mail list and from their published research which includes a journal and several well researched and beautifully illustrated books. But the most important lesson I learned from them was to always appreciate the historical and cultural background of the glass I was so addicted to collecting. Without some understanding of the time and place in which the glass was produced and the artistry that went into the design of the glass all that would remain would simply be pretty glass.

Perhaps that is why I have always been fascinated by Heisey advertising and printed promotional materials. I have been fortunate to obtain several brochures which I have reprinted and have completed two volumes of a three volume set on Heisey Advertising (all available from www.lulu.com/oldcolonypub). Heisey was one of the first glass companies to advertise to the public. They also advertised heavily in different trade publications. Heisey advertising is an enjoyable feature of collecting Heisey glassware. The advertisements are collectible in their own right, but their true value is found in the fact that they illustrate to later generations how the glass was used or was intended to be used and the features that its creators and sellers thought would be most appealing to the public. They provide the historical context of what the glass meant to both the buyers and the sellers in a time and place that is now quickly passing from living memory.

Recently Glen and Steve revived their Network journal for online distribution and in the first issue they show an illustration of Australian Carnival glass in a mail order catalog from Foy & Gibson, one of Australia's earliest department store chains. In the same catalog is a full page of Heisey glassware! The following examples are the first I have seen of Heisey advertising in mail order publications. I do not think anything similar exists in Sears or other catalogs with the exception of Athena in Montgomery Ward catalogs. These ads are even more unique because they clearly document that for a short period of time between 1919 and 1924, Heisey glassware was sold in Australia. I thank Glen and Steve for the lead on this important information. Full versions of these fascinating catalogs are available online from the University of Melbourne.

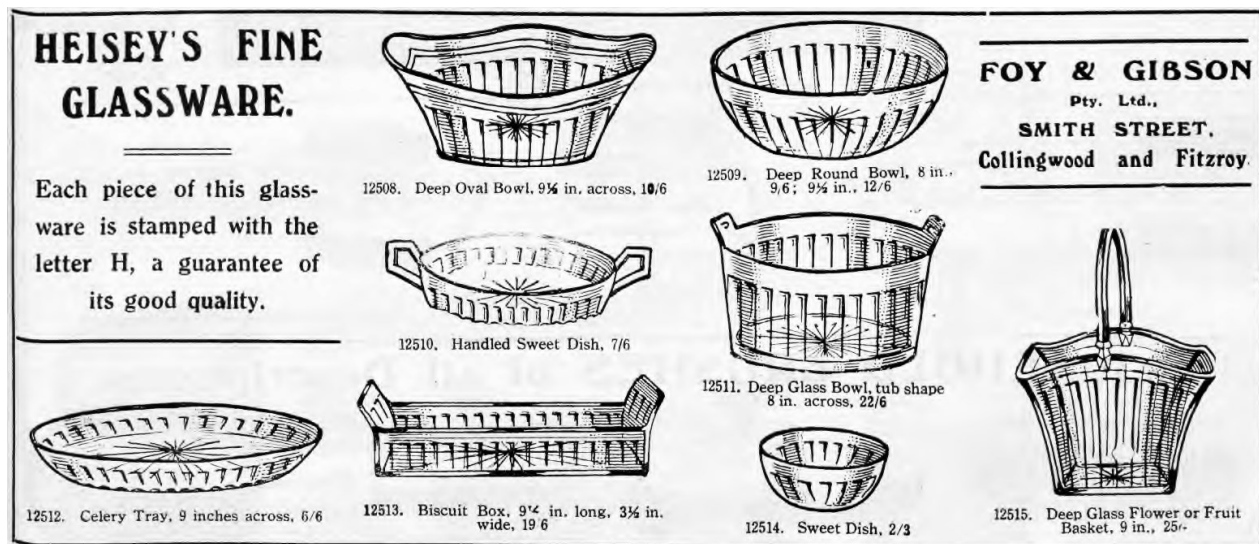

The first known Heisey ad appeared in catalog 57 for Summer 1919-1920 and featured a selection of ten pieces of 393 and 393 1/2 Narrow Flute. The same pieces appear in a slightly different layout in catalog number 58 for Winter 1920.

Summer Catalogue No. 57 (1919-1920)

Catalog 62 for Winter 1922 featured eight pieces of 393, 393 1/2 and 394 Narrow Flute along with a 465 Recessed Panel basket.

Winter Catalogue No. 62 (1922)

Catalog 66 for Autumn & Winter 1923 added 473 Narrow Flute with Rim and 451 Cross Lined Flute bowls to Narrow Flute pieces that appeared before. In addition, a 458 Colonial basket with 351 Mums etching is illustrated in a grouping of glass from other companies. Interestingly, the prices for items that appeared in the 1922 ad were lowered for the same items in 1923.

Heisey's Fine Glassware.

Each piece of this glassware is stamped with the letter H, a guarantee of its good quality.

14514.—Celery Tray, 9 inches across. 4/6.

14518.—Biscuit Box, 9½ in. long, 3½ in. wide. 15/-.

14515.—Beautiful Square Dish, suitable for fruit or cake; 8½-inch. 10/6.

14510.—Oval Dish, 9-inch. 5/6.

14516.—Deep Round Bowl, 8-inch. 6/6.

14517.—Handled Sweet Dish. 3/6.

14520.—Deep Glass Bowl, tub-shaped, 8 inches across. 14/6.

14521.—Sweet Dish. 2/8.

14522.—Deep Glass Flower or Fruit Basket, 9 in. 22/6.

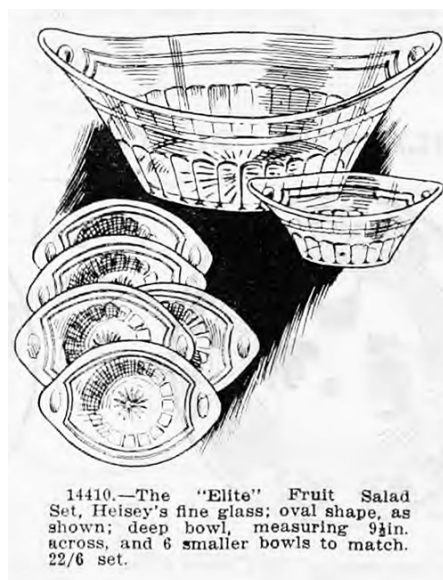

Autumn & Winter Catalogue No. 66 (1923)

Catalog 67 for Spring & Summer 1923-1924 repeated the main ad from catalog 66 but replaced the Colonial basket with a 394 Narrow Flute berry set.

Note on Prices

The pound was the currency of Australia until 1966. Prices are quoted in the catalogs in shillings and pence. Each shilling consisted of 12 pence. In 1924 an Australian shilling was worth roughly 25 cents in US currency. So the price for the seven piece berry set illustrated on the right would have been about $5.63 in the United States. From pricing I have seen in a US newspaper ad from 1924 for a Heisey berry set, it seems like the price is almost twice as much as what it would have cost in the United States. Perhaps the high cost of imports is the reason why Australian glassware gradually replaces imports in later catalogs.

Spring & Summer Catalogue No. 67 (1923-1924)

The final and most impressive Foy & Gibson Heisey ad appeared in catalogs 68 (1924) and 69 (Autumn & Winter 1924). It featured several 411 Tudor pieces along with 473 Narrow Flute with Rim pieces and a 393 Narrow Flute biscuit tray. The 458 Colonial basket with 351 Mums etching also appears in a grouping of glass from other companies.

MORE TO DO IN THE PACIFIC NORTHWEST:

Seattle must-dos include a ride on the Great Wheel, a gargantuan 175 foot tall Ferris wheel at Pier 57. Each gondola is glassed-in, climate-controlled and the ride takes about 15 minutes or three revolutions. Visit the Seattle Aquarium which is two piers, north. A trip to Pioneer Square, offers a taste of old Seattle or the historic Underground Tour. Ride the Duck, an amphibious tour of the area complete with hilarious commentary, which is always a family favorite.

Just north of us are two wonderful Canadian cities. A 2 ½ hour drive to the border and then on to Vancouver, BC, a very cosmopolitan city, is where the cruise ships make a short stop, located on Burrard Inset with many fabulous views. Take a boat ride across the bay to Grouse Mt. whose ski lift lights you can see at night.

How about taking the Clipper hydrofoil to Victoria, located a couple hours away on Vancouver Island, which is home to the fabulous Bchart Gardens and the renowned Provincial Museum. Spend the night and enjoy a bit of Olde England. The exchange rate is in your favor. For those in a hurry take a one way seaplane flight.

For sports fans, the Mariners are playing the Los Angeles Angels; the University of Washington is playing football in their new $280 million stadium on the shores of Lake Washington. The Super Bowl champion Seahawks are out of town but are on TV. Golf fans can travel south of Tacoma to the site of the recent U.S. Open Championship at Chambers Bay. This is a public golf course open to all.

Anyone looking for culture, we have the Seattle Symphony playing in Benaroya Hall, well known for its acoustics. The Pacific Northwest Ballet and Opera are at the Seattle Center and there is live theater too numerous to list. The Seattle Art Museum is downtown and the Asian Art Museum is on Capitol Hill and offers a walking tour of the Olympic Sculpture Park, at the north end of the waterfront. Enjoy the Olympic Mountains to the west.

The Bellevue area is a bustling city undergoing lots of new construction. It is the home to Microsoft, Expedia, Paccar, Symetra Financial, Nintendo, and Costco. For a walking tour, visit the Bellevue Botanical Garden just across the freeway from the hotel. This is a 53 acre garden oasis showcasing native plants and also features a Waterwise Garden. The Bellevue Arts Museum features the best in arts and crafts from world famous artists. Of course, we have world class shopping at Bellevue Square and The Bravern. The hotel can even provide you with a free shuttle.

A trip to nearby Mt. Rainier is always amazing. At 14,000 plus feet it can be viewed from most everywhere. You must learn to say "the mountain is out" to sound like a native. Also in September is the Washington State fair, just south in Puyallup, and is open until the 21st.

We hope you will join us for a great visit in the Pacific Northwest.

2015 Heisey Convention

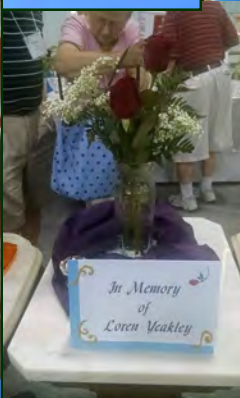

Many Smiles, as we kicked off Convention fun!

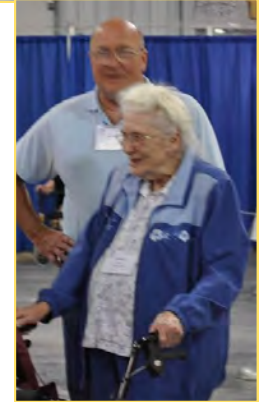

Above: Your board met at the Heisey Cabin. Seminars were presented and enjoyed.

The show & Convention activities were enjoyed by all...

...both long time members and our youngest; as friends met and new friendships were formed!!!

The fun continued at our banquet!

Rain didn't dampen Heisey shopping on the square.

Many thanks to our membership who volunteered throughout this years 2015 National Convention. It truly was a group effort to have such a successful and memorable Convention.

I hope that you all enjoyed the many events and appreciated the extra touch to emphasize “Gifts of Heisey”. It was great to see the friendships of our membership rekindled, who only have the opportunity to visit once a year at the Convention.

We had great success in sales, both in the live and the silent auctions Thank you to those who donated items and baskets from Heisey Study clubs and from individuals, as well as to the bidders. Next year I hope to visit with more of you, and Thompson will be looking forward to his second Convention. Many Thanks!

Kate Maher

THANK YOU CONVENTION DISPLAY PARTICIPANTS

Fourteen exquisite exhibits of amazing Heisey glass were brought to Convention for your viewing pleasure. It is our third year with a delightful display of your favorite glass, showcasing beautiful patterns and colors all to the theme of “Gifts Of Heisey.” It all became a reality due to the generosity of our members volunteering nationwide. I would like to express my thanks to those fourteen HCA members who took the time to design, pack, travel and display their personal collections: Pat Lucke (Nebraska), Jon Heron (Hilton Head), Walter Ludwig (Ohio), Pat Moore (Ohio), Glen Gall (Iowa,) Jack Burriss (Ohio), The Dayton Area Heisey Collectors Club (Ohio), The Buckeye Heisey Study Club (Ohio), Kaileigh Denning (Alabama), Trudy Mock (Nebraska), Whit Tussing (Ohio), Phyllis Deal (New Jersey), Dick and Marilyn Smith (Ohio), and Bob and Bev Heise (Minnesota). Thank you all for sharing your collections so creatively.

The event has become a favorite feature of Convention, facilitating conversation and learning, as well as instigating new collections. Please, consider creating your own display next year. It is about Heisey glass but can be combined with a china pattern, or appropriate non-Heisey pieces. Please, contact me if you are interested. A new theme will be unveiled soon.

Of course, most events Heisey related become fundraisers. The Heisey display is a friendly competition whereby viewers are encouraged to vote for their “favorite” display in the form of dollar bills (fives, tens, twenties, etc.) This year we received 467 votes or $467.00. Thank you, to all the voters! The voting money goes to the museum operating fund. The majority of “votes” went to Glen Gall and his table themed “Celebration With Gifts”, utilizing an imaginative use of Moongleam Octagon. Congratulations, Glen.

Please note that some of these wonderful tables are pictured within this months newsletter. Many Thanks to All,

Dan Kilgore
