The Official Publication of Heisey Collectors of America, Inc.

This beautiful piece of artwork was painted by Gustaf Tenggren as part of Heisey's "Glass Secrets" ad campaign which ran from 1928 - 1929. This original oil hangs above the fireplace in the newly renovated Louise Ream Library. A tremendous thanks goes to Bill Jansheski, who made the custom built frame, and Eric Tankesley-Clark who donated the wood. The frame beautifully coordinates with the library furnishings.

National Heisey Glass Museum

Heisey Collectors of America, Inc., a non-profit corporation (tax-exempt status), owns and operates the National Heisey Glass Museum. Open year round, Tuesday through Saturday, 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. and Sunday, 1 p.m. to 4 p.m., closed holidays. Other hours by appointment. Members admitted free. Regular admission $4.

Message from the President

I would like to take this opportunity to thank everyone for their offer of support now that I am the new president. I would also like to welcome two new members to the board, Emie Heisey and Dan Kilgore, and I look forward to working with them, and the rest of the board.

We have a full slate of activities in the next few months. In September the Percy and Vivian Moore weekend is in Seattle, Washington, October 3rd is the Heisey Fall Auction, and the Holiday Open House will be held on December 5th. At the Percy and Vivian Moore weekend there will be house tours hosted by Heisey club members, as well as two auctions, one silent and one live, for all to enjoy. There is a registration form on page 14 of this issue, for those who are interested in attending. You must act quickly, as the deadline to register is August 11th. Also in August, the Fall Auction items will be on display in Gallery 3, at the Museum. Come in to see these wonderful items so you can make a list of everything you want to bid on in the Fall Auction. This is a big fund raiser for the Museum, so bid often and bid high! Remember.... you have no friends at an auction!

We are still going strong on the convention theme "Gifts of Heisey" and hope that everyone will make a donation, either as a monthly or one-time donation, to the Endowment fund to help us reach our goal. There is a sign-up form on page 20.

Once again I want to thank everyone for their support and best wishes for me, as I get acclimated to this new office. It will be a fun and exciting year to come!

Happy Heisey hunting!

Words From Your Curator – Director

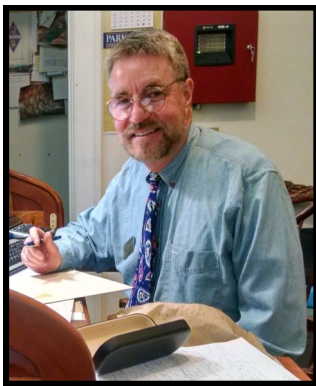

There is no August anymore at our Heisey Museum this year! That much is true! The rhythm of the day brings subtle hints of the many changes that shall arrive with September are in the air. Convention that was so much fun this year does not seem like it was that long ago and yet we are gearing up for both The Seattle Percy and Vivian Moore events taking place September 11 to the 13, and The Fall Auction to be held October 3, with much excitement and anticipation!

There were again television cameras and a reporter present in our fine Museum. We were very pleased to welcome back the crew of “Out n About Columbus” this time to be featured as a Licking County destination not to be missed! They were here in May of 2014 and so we need to take it as a great compliment that they returned so soon. Michael and I both heard many accolades after our last TV appearance so let’s hope this telecast reaches even more potential guests and members.

Walter and I are dismantling the most successful and attention-grabbing sugar and creamer display in Gallery 3 and I shall miss seeing it very much indeed. However there are numerous noteworthy and curious Heisey Fall Auction items to go on display next and they always draw a good number of sightseers both members and guests. The post auction exhibition is to be Heisey etchings and Walter is seeking missing items for this presentation in his article on page 11. The etchings will make for most interesting and enjoyable viewing and study I know. For next year’s convention we shall only hint at “Flowers” for the moment.

My hope is that your memories of Convention 2015 are still strong and positive and that you are thinking about next year’s events that shall take place June 15 thru 18. Gordon Cochran has agreed to be overall chairman, with Emie Heisey chairing the banquet, Michael and Kate working on donations. Charlene Bowman is returning for what she has stated will be her final year of chairing the show and Dan Kilgore will be returning as display chair. There are many opportunities to help out with not only these events but many more as well and I know from experience how very willing and able our membership is! Thank-you in advance and please consider helping out.

A tremendous expression of gratitude and appreciation to all of you our members and please enjoy these later days of summer and keep “Heiseying”!

Jack

Unknown by Name: The Life and Works of Gustaf Tenggren

Written by: Caitlin Clay, Beaumont, TX - Summer 2015 Intern

In the March 1928, No. 22 edition of Table Talk, the Heisey Company announced its new advertisement campaign entitled “Glass Secrets”. The ad campaign ran from 1928 until 1929, and was featured in many common household magazines, such as Vogue, House and Garden, Good Housekeeping, and Woman’s Home Companion. These magazines were purchased by over 4 million people, and Heisey was one of the first large companies to utilize full page, colored advertisements in magazines to reach these buyers. Heisey sought to enchant buyers with the idea that glass was “full of adventure, romance, glory and success”, and the advertisements utilized the paintings of commercial artist and illustrator, Gustaf Tenggren, in order to achieve this goal (Table Talk). Tenggren’s paintings were joined with elegant descriptions of Heisey’s glass, as well as a picture of a Heisey dinner setting, stemware, or other glassware. Heisey’s depiction of the romantic mythology of glass’s evolution through history can still be viewed in the reproductions of the advertisements hanging on the National Heisey Glass Museum’s walls, however, Gustaf Tenggren, the artist who played such a major role in the illustrations, often goes unrecognized for his work.

Gustaf Tenggren was born on November 3, 1896 in Vastergotland, Sweden. His parents, Aron and Augusta, had seven children, and Tenggren was the second youngest. Tenggren’s father, Aron was a painter and decorator, a trade passed down to him by his father, and an occupation to be held by Tenggren as well. After the family moved to the Swedish countryside, Aron left for the U.S. to find work, and Tenggren and his siblings subsequently grew up without the presence of their father. This led Tenggren to have a very close relationship with his paternal grandfather, who encouraged his grandson to practice and hone his artistic talents. At the age of eleven, Tenggren began to work as a runner boy and apprentice at a lithographer’s shop. By the age of thirteen, Tenggren was attending art school on a scholarship, as well as working his everyday jobs. He received his first illustration and portrait commissions while attending school, and he also painted decorations for public buildings. By 1918, Tenggren had landed a job illustrating Bland Tomtar och Troll, which translates to Among Gnomes and Trolls. Bland Tomtar och Troll was an annual Swedish fairytale and folklore publication, for which Tenggren drew pictures for over eight years, and for ten volumes. He also married his first wife Anna Peterson during this time, and by the summer of 1920, Tenggren and Anna had moved to the United States. They settled into a home in Cleveland, Ohio for two years, but then moved to New York. Tenggren’s career continued to grow, and while in New York, Tenggren became a highly sought after commercial artist. It was during this time he was hired by Heisey.

Tenggren created six large oil paintings for Heisey’s “Glass Secrets” campaign. The first advertisement was printed in the various magazines’ March/April publications, and was featured only in black and white. It depicted the ancient Greeks discovering raw, uncut glass, and also included a photograph of Heisey’s 12”, 1203 floral bowl with floral block and vase. The Greeks’ awe of

GLASS SECRETS
Marietta betrays the secrets of colored glass

THE Sign of the Angel marked one of the most famous glass houses of fifteenth century Venice—the house of Angelo Brevetto, greater exponent of the art in his time. Brevetto possessed many precious secrets of giving marvelous color to glass. Secrets that gave him entrance over his rivals in the craft, that were the source of power and wealth for him. Secrets of capturing the tints of the rainbow and making them live again in gorgeous goblets, beakers and decanters.

No wonder, then, that he guarded so jealously his precious formulas. No one knew where they were hidden, except his daughter, Marietta, whom he adored above all things. Little could he reckon that this confidence in his daughter would lead to his greatest loss. Strange in the ways of fate, her true name was Giugio, the most trusted and skillful of Brevetto's artisans. . . . In some sleeping engagements to steal Marietta's heart. She, under the spell of romance, brought to her lover the cherished secrets of her father.

So in one way or another, secrets of the craft passed from individual monopoly to enrich succeeding generations of users of glass. Building upon and developing this knowledge inherited from the past, modern American artisans have attained such surpassing skill that it would astonish the workers of old.

You can choose Heisey's, the color of soft sunset glow. More glass, like the sheets of emerald on the rippling sea. Heisey's with the delicate tint of the amethyst. . . . one or all of them, in different colors, at different occasions. At leading stores, you will know them by the Heisey symbol of quality.

Wonderfully fascinating are the creations by Heisey in colored glass ware for your table. So many designs from which to choose! Can fine table services in a dinner of entrancing patterns!

GLASS DISCOVERED THROUGH THE SECRETS OF FOUR THOUSAND YEARS

uncut glass was meant to be paired with the reader's amazement of the simple elegance and beauty of the floral bowl.

The May/June advertisement was printed in full color, as were all of the following advertisements. This strategic choice allowed Heisey to not only represent Tenggren's rich use of color, but also promote its gem-like colored glassware. This second ad illustrated the story of a Venetian maiden whispering to her lover the secrets of her father's colored glass recipes and was accompanied by a picture of Heisey's 4206 Optic Tooth 5 oz. and 12 oz. sodas, 3 pint tankard, and a 1225 plate, all with Moongleam handles or teeth.

framed and hanging in the Louise Ream's Library within the addition to the King House.

Heisey continued the "Glass Secrets" campaign for November/December magazine issues by having Tenggren depict a Roman noblewoman receiving a glass vase from a Roman youth. The illustration was followed by a short description of the Roman festival of Saturn, a gift-giving celebration similar to Christmas. The advertisement included an image of a 4027 footed diamond optic decanter with a 48 cut stopper, 4206 Optic Tooth 12 oz. sodas, 500 Octagon ice bucket, 413 Tudor cigarette holder, and 1184 Yeoman handled bow-tie ashtray, all in Moongleam.

The "Glass Secrets" campaign continued for only two more advertisements; one in the March/April magazine publications, and one in the May/June magazine publications. The March/April ad told the story of King James the II of England and how his court would toast his health by drinking out of glasses a yard long. Tenggren's painting included King James sitting at his table with merry courtesans drinking out of iridescent glasses as long as their legs. Heisey included a brief history of the creation of flint glass beneath the illustration, as well as a photograph of 1252 Twist plates, 6" and 8", a 12" oval platter, and 12" three-toed floral bowl. It also included two stemware, a 3368 Albemarle with a flared bowl, and a 3380 Old Dominion with a cupped bowl. The May/June ad illustrated the myth of Peteronius, a Roman nobleman sentenced to death by Emperor Nero. Tenggren depicts Peteronius as a ruddy, handsome young youth surrounded by beautiful noblewomen while celebrating his last night alive. He holds a glass pitcher up to be admired by himself and his fellow merrymakers. This final advertisement depicted Heisey's 1252

The third advertisement was published in the September/October magazine editions and portrays Egyptian nobility admiring a glassblower blowing a glass bubble on a pipe. Heisey paired the story of the discovery of blown glass with a photograph of items in Flamingo, including a 1224 plate without handles, 1229 Octagon sandwich plate with open handles, 1229 Octagon 13" hors d'oeuvre, 8" oval dessert used as a salad bowl, and 3370 African 8 oz. goblet. The original painting used for this advertisement is unique not only because of its rich colors and details, but also because it can be studied and admired at the National Heisey Glass Museum. The Museum is fortunate to have the artwork

A gift esteemed since Imperial Rome

DECEMBER in Rome when the gods hold sway. It is the festival of Saturn, the time of gift-giving. A pertinent youth seeks to speak his generous wish with a gift of glassware. . . a beautiful wrought bottle, delicate in shape . . . with a heart and a message of love engraved on its turned surface. A gift of glass, a triumph of the glassmaker's art.

Across the sea and over tedious mountain trails went the Ancient Romans in search of the wisest secret of molting glass. The secret Roman craftsmen carried to such lengths that they were terrified by antiquity as the great masters of their art. They discovered many new forms and uses for glass.

Their surprising accomplishments were rewarded by a far-flung trade of glassware. They resulted in a vast collection of it. The banquet tables of the wealthy glowed and sparkled with it. Imperal Rome thought of glass as worthy of the finest uses, as a gift of rare excellence.

The rich heritage is yours. In America today thousands turn to Twist pressed-ware, including the 6 oz. soda, 12 oz. iced tea, 9 oz. soda, and 3 oz. oyster cocktail, all footed and presented in Marigold, as well as an ice tub in Marigold.

The end of the “Glass Secrets” campaign marked the brief, but memorable, relationship between Heisey and Tenggren. However, it was only the beginning of Tenggren's success as an artist. In 1935, Tenggren accepted a job position as Head Art Director at Walt Disney's Studios in Los Angeles, California. He painted landscapes, cityscapes, and other artwork for the background of “Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs”, and many of his paintings were extremely influential in designing the interiors of the dwarfs' cottage, the Queen's laboratory, and the forest. Tenggren also worked on “Bambi”, “The Ugly Duckling”, “Hiawatha”, and “Fantasia”. One of his biggest contributions was to the scene development of the movie “Pinocchio”.

Tenggren left Walt Disney's Studios in 1939 and began illustrating his own books, as well as working with The Golden Press, the creators of “Little Golden Books”. One of the most famous books which resulted from this working relationship was The Poky Little Puppy, which has reached millions of readers. Tenggren and his second wife, Mollie, spent their last years together at their residence in Southport, Maine. Tenggren never returned to Sweden after his initial move to the U.S., and he passed away from lung cancer on April 6th, 1970. Mollie lived for 14 more years, and she donated many of Tenggren's artwork to the Kerlan Collection, which is one of the world's greatest children's literature research centers.

Though Tenggren's name is often unheard of by the many readers and viewers of his work, his artwork has been appreciated for decades. His name is gaining new recognition however, with the publication of a Swedish book dedicated to presenting his life and artwork. This book is tentatively scheduled for publication in English, but may take quite some time before it reaches the United States. Nevertheless, Tenggren's artwork can also be enjoyed in person, and should you happen to be visiting the National Heisey Glass Museum, you have only to make your way to the Library to experience one of Tenggren's magnificent paintings.

Missing Etchings

Walter Ludwig

407 Morning Glory

I know that all of you have enjoyed the special displays that we have been able to put on in the renovated Gallery 3 in the King House. Our inaugural display during Convention 2014 was Heisey candlesticks. This was followed by a display of Heisey nappies. Currently we have Heisey creams and sugars which unfortunately will be dismantled the first week of August so that the Fall Auction Preview can be installed. After the auction we are looking forward to our next display which will be Heisey etches and carvings. With the expanded space we hope to have a very comprehensive display of this aspect of Heisey production.

But we need your help. There are still some etches that the Museum does not have in its collection. I ask you to let us know if you have pieces with any of these decorations that we could borrow for this display. Many etches were only produced on stem lines, but others are on a greater variety of pieces. I have tried to indicate what kind of pieces we are looking for.

Financial Results – Half way Through 2015

By Jon Heron, Treasurer

HCA's accountants, Wells & Priest, provide us with a very handy compilation of our financial results every month. These statements contain our balance sheet, various views of our income statement and a statement of cash flows. This entire package is shared with the Board of Directors, the Finance Committee and also with Jack Burriss and Beth Sperry. The significant points of these financials are part of the agenda for each Executive Committee Meeting, Board of Directors Meetings and the Membership Meetings. As we are now half way through 2015, I would like to share the high points of our financial results with you.

The single statement that is presented here is the one that I find to be the most useful. This statement compares our results for the year to date revenue and expenses against the budget for the same time period. Since HCA is predominantly on a cash basis accounting system, several adjustments need to be considered in order to best understand our results.

On this statement, our revenues are stated to be $50,794 favorable to the budget. The favorability includes $6,280 of donations to the Capital Fund. Since this is not part of our operational budget, I like to exclude it. There is also $21,720 of convention income. We had a tremendous convention and I hope that we made a net profit on it, but our budget was to break even. As of June 30th, virtually all of our convention income had been received, however, quite a few of our Convention expenses had not yet been paid. Since I don't know what our Convention net income will be, I exclude the $21,720. Another adjustment to make is for our Cash Donations. The budget anticipated receiving $10,000 in donations around the Convention timeframe which would get reported in July. In reality, all of the June donations were reported in June and we will have a $10,000 unfavorable variance coming in July. Therefore, I exclude $10,000 from the current revenue variance to budget. Lastly, I have a good item to add back in. This relates to our drawdown of the Endowment Fund Earnings. Our budget included drawing down $15,000 in June. Since our operating cash position was very strong and we had not borrowed on the Line Of Credit, we made a decision to defer the drawdown to the September timeframe and let that money remain in the Endowment Fund and earn additional income for us.

So, if you kept track of all of those adjustments, I lowered the $50,794 by $6,280 (Capital Donations), $21,284 (Convention Income) and $10,000 (Cash Donations), but I added back $15,000 (Endowment Fund Drawdown) to a final figure of $28,230.

On the Expense half of the statement I do not need to make any adjustments. I will note that we are running unfavorable in payroll, Cost Of Sales and Special Projects. This is to be expected since our Museum shop sales are $21,720 favorable to budget.

I hope this has provided you with a comfortable understanding of HCA's financial governance process and our year to date results. I believe that we are having a terrific year due to our memberships support of HCA activities. Our Museum shop is dependent on you, so please keep in mind that the items that we make the highest margins on are the items that you donate, such as real Heisey, glass made in Heisey molds and damaged Heisey that can be made into beads.

Thank you for all of your support and let's have a great second half of 2015!

Percy & Vivian Moore Weekend: Origins and History

By: Kelly Haist, paraphrased from previous article written by Greg (Percy's grandson) & Gloria Moore in 2003

In honor of the upcoming Percy and Vivian Moore Weekend, and considering there have been many new members added to the ranks of HCA, we thought it important to revisit the history surrounding the Percy and Vivian Moore Weekend and their importance as HCA pioneers.

In 1991 the HCA Board voted unanimously to rename the Annual Souvenir Dinner to honor Percy Moore who was a longtime HCA member and supporter. In 1996 the board recognized Vivian posthumously. The Moore's were avid collectors and they, along with other HCA Club Pioneers, began the National Heisey Museum. The event itself is hosted annually by HCA Study Club volunteers and occasionally individual members, as a fundraiser for HCA and a draw to their communities. As you will note, the Northwest Heisey Collectors will be hosting this year's event in Seattle, Washington. Next year the event will be held in Texas. It is the perfect opportunity to visit and share your love of Heisey with others from around the nation. This year's event marks the 23rd Annual Percy and Vivian Moore Weekend.

The Moore's were avid collectors and Museum enthusiasts. Percy, along with his brother Glenn, restored old cars and from that they started an Auto Museum in the early 1950's, where they showcased their auto treasures, including a full sized train locomotive. Percy and Vivian were reported to drive their old roadsters around Newark and they participated in many parades held in the community. Rifles, pistols, antique music boxes, and of course Heisey, were some of the many things collected by Percy and Vivian.

Percy opened his Auto Museum in the 1950's. When the Heisey factory closed, he purchased the remaining pallets of Heisey inventory. Vivian then sold Heisey from the Gift Shop located next to the museum. After Glenn's death in the late 1950's, Percy had to divide their car collection to help provide for Glenn's family, but Percy and Vivian maintained the Gift shop until the early 1970's, continuing to sell their robust Heisey inventory. As friendships grew with other Heisey enthusiasts, the Heisey Collectors of America was born and founded in 1971.

When the Heisey Collectors of America started the Heisey Museum, opening its doors in 1974, the Moore's were generous in their donations of Heisey pieces to display in the Museum. In addition they supplied the large grinding stones that serve as steps leading into the King House as well as being built into a retaining wall on the north side of the property. They also served as a lender to help make the King House purchase and relocation possible.

Volunteering hours and donations, Percy and Vivian Moore joined the other founding Pioneers in providing a home for the Heisey legacy and securing that legacy for future Heisey enthusiasts.

It is not hard to understand why the 1991 HCA Board of Directors made the unanimous decision to pay tribute to these founding members of HCA by renaming the Annual Souvenir Dinner in their honor. Their love of Heisey and willingness to dedicate their time and efforts, along side other founding members, to HCA and the Museum, are the reason we have the ability and pride to call ourselves Heisey collectors and HCA members.

We invite new and old members alike to attend this exciting event and share in the fun and joy of Heisey and take part in honoring the memories of these early Heisey Heroes.

Heisey Collectors of America, Inc.

The Heisey Collectors of America, Inc. (HCA), is a private non-profit organization which owns and operates the National Heisey Glass Museum. HCA opened the National Heisey Glass Museum in Newark, Ohio in 1974 to establish a permanent place for the display and study of glassware manufactured by A. H. Heisey & Company, in Newark between 1896 and 1957. Since its opening, HCA has maintained the Museum and HCA's national membership in turn has generously supported the facility and HCA. This support has enabled the organization to continue to build its collection, maintain archives, add a 6,000 square foot addition to the original King House, establish an endowment fund, and hire professional staff. Your continued support is essential to ensure the survival and continued operations of the National Heisey Glass Museum.

Please be generous.

On the Air With Heisey (Again)

Provided through Heisey's Table Talk, March 1928

If television were a part of your receiving sets, you would get this picture of Don Bernard, manager of WAIU, Columbus, Ohio, when you tune in on the delightful half hour with the "Crystal Gazer" every Sunday afternoon from 2:30 to 3, coming from this station. A.H. Heisey & Company are sponsoring this broadcast, and every Sunday present Cecil Fanning, internationally known baritone, in the role of "Crystal Gazer," with Helen Grace Jones at the piano. Mr. Bernard not only devises the continuity, but announces it as well and was co-composer of the special "Ballad of the Crystal Gazer," which opens each Heisey program.

Now we get a sample of Mr. Bernard's announcing for this program: "Imagine if you can a very dimly lighted room. The lighting is really too ethereal and too mechanical to describe, as it would detract from the mystical illusion we hope to create in this little half hour with the Crystal Gazer. This room is hung in gorgeous and elaborate silken tapestry. In the center this loveliness is seated on a carved throne like chair, the Crystal Gazer in his somber robes of grotesque, yet quiet beauty. Before him, resting on a black satin pillow, is a large glowing crystal. The Crystal Gazer moves, peers into the crystal, and is startled by the reflection of what he sees. The image—a beautiful girl wrapped in crimson glow in the beams of a spectrum—and we hear him utter in song his ballad."

Then the Crystal Gazer, Mr. Fanning, sings the "Ballad of the Crystal Gazer." - Further on, Mr. Bernard again interprets: "Suddenly, and without kindly warning, the crystal becomes blurred. The mist covering it is not caused by the delicate incense that so pleasingly strikes our nostrils, but is the fading of the first and birth of the second image. It is interpreted by the Crystal Gazer as a premonition of war and he sees a battlefield—soldiers and flags passing in panorama through the crystal, and we next hear him singing, 'Drums'." Then Mr. Fanning renders the stirring piece just named.

And so the program goes on with charming music from voice and piano and Mr. Bernard's atmosphere-creating explanations. At times the sponsors of the program are brought in, for instance at the end something like this is said about them:

"A.H. Heisey & Company of Newark, Ohio, who have made this delightful half hour possible for you this afternoon, are not only identified as the makers of exquisite glassware for the table, but are recognized as the originators of the newest creations in the art of glassware manufacture. This and future programs, by Mr. Fanning, assisted by Helen Grace Jones at the Baldwin, will be selected from the requests sent in by the listeners. Address all requests for favorite songs or for the illustrated booklet on glassware prepared for you by Heisey, either to WAIU at Columbus, Ohio, or to the A.H. Heisey & Company at Newark, Ohio.

* A digitally remastered version of this program is now being played for your listening pleasure, at your Museum. In large part, thanks to Michael Maher.

Congratulations & Thank You

Jean Will of the Great Plains Heisey Club is shown here being toasted by her daughter Bucky Will and Glen Gall for being recognized as the HCA Study Club Outstanding Member of the Year. Jean would very much like to express her great appreciation and honor at being thusly recognized.

MUSEUM ACQUISITIONS (NON-MONETARY)

September 2014 – June 2015

Compiled by Walter Ludwig

The Museum has been extremely fortunate to be the recipient of a great deal of wonderful glass during the last year. Some pieces were donated specifically to be added to the collection, but we received a lot of glass that was designated for the benefit of HCA. All of this glass is reviewed and any item which is not found to be in the collection is also accessed into the Museum collection. The remainder is designated to be sold either in our Museum Shop or at a future auction.

Some of you have inquired as to what the Museum would like to add to our collection. For a long while the Museum's objective was to have a good representative collection with examples of all patterns, colors, and decorations done at the Heisey factory. We have now expanded the collection objective to have a solid study collection that encompasses all the production that A.H. Heisey & Company produced. Any piece that the Museum does not own would be accepted. If you have a piece that you think the Museum does not own, call the Museum and we will check our database. If you have many pieces, send us a list and we will gladly let you know which pieces the Museum would like.

This is a compilation of donations that have been accessed into the Collection since last reported in September 2014.

A gift esteemed since Imperial Rome

DECEMBER in Rome when the gods held sway. It is the festival of Saturn, the time of gift-giving. A partizan youth seeks to speak his devotion with a gift of rarest... a beautifully wrought home, delicate in shape... with a heart and a message of love engraved on its tinted surface. A gift of glass, a triumph of the glassworker's art!

Across the sea and over mile-long mountain roads went the Ancient Romans in search of the wondrous secret of moulding glass. This secret Roman craftsmen carried to such heights that they were terrified by antiquity as the great masters of their art. They discovered many new forms and uses for glass.

Their surprising accomplishments were rewarded by a far-flung market of glassware. None equalled in a more collection of it. The banquet tables of the wealthy gleamed and sparkled with it. Imperial Rome thought of glass as worthy of the finest uses, as a gift of rare excellence.

This rich heritage is yours. In America today thousands turn to

HEISEY'S
GLASSWARE
for your Table

GLASS PERFECTED THROUGH THE SECRETS OF FOUR THOUSAND YEARS

glassware is the gift supreme... to them it whispers a message deep with affection.

And from the glowing furnaces at Newark there come exquisite creations that you can be proud to give... that you would rejoice to receive.

Delightful, in enchanting colors, is this glassware by Heisey. There are resplendent offerings in Moon Glass, the glorious green... in the elusive, rosy tints of Flamingo... as well as in the clear, brilliant crystal.

Goblets, glasses, plates, vases, compotes, bowls, candlesticks... complete table services... what an array of magic beauty there is in Heisey's Glassware for those who wish to choose gifts fittingly expressive of sentiment! They can be found at leading stores. By the symbol of quality you will know them.

A beautiful booklet in color, "Gifts of Glassware," is gladly sent on request. You will welcome it for so many new gift suggestions.

Heisey Collectors of Texas Study Club

Submitted by Mike Morgan

The July meeting of the Heisey Collectors of Texas was held at the home of Sharon and Mike Sweeney in Richardson, Texas. Fifteen members and one guest were present. Officers for the next year were elected as follows: Mike Morgan-President, Greg Freeman-Vice President, Tiffany Brandt-Treasurer, Mike Sweeney-Secretary.

The July meeting was our post Convention meeting dedicated to a discussion of the HCA Convention held in June. Eight members attended this year, Mike & Sharon Sweeney, Greg & Candy Freeman, Charlie Baird, George Ann Powell, Marj Stormer and Mary Armstrong. Everyone had a great time listening to the highlights of both the Convention and the road trip from Texas to Ohio. Some of the highlights of the onvention this year were the Louise Ream Library, Cream & Sugars display, Glass Show and Swap Meet. As always, the Museum looked great. Thanks to the Buckeye Club and the Dayton Club for their volunteer work at the Museum!

The club website now has links to a Facebook page and Instagram page thanks to the work of Tiffany Brandt.

Check us out at heiseycollectorsoftexas.org. The date for the 2016 Moore Dinner has been set for September 30th - October 1st. The location will be in Grapevine Texas. We are working on finalizing the host hotel and the venues for the Friday and Saturday dinner and meeting. Members are reminded that Greg & Candy Freeman will have a booth at the Grapevine Glass Show on August 22nd-23rd.

The business meeting was adjourned with refreshments served including homemade grape sherbet!

Great Plains Heisey Club News Article

Submitted by Kathy Files, Secretary

What do you get when you combine a large glass show and a study club meeting? Lots of fun and some new pieces of Heisey glass! The Great Plains Heisey Club met in Kansas City and coordinated our meeting with the National Depression Glass Convention and Show, where Jean Will was a dealer and Bucky Will displayed a beautiful table of Heisey Flamingo pieces with Empress etching.

President John Mock called our meeting to order at 1 pm on Saturday July 11. The minutes of our previous meeting were approved. Treasurer Tom Files gave the treasurer's report and informed our members that we donated $3,000 to HCA during the July Convention -- $1,500 to the operating fund and $1,500 to the endowment fund.

John Fields, the National Depression Glass Convention chairman, stopped by to welcome us to Kansas City and to thank us for our involvement with their event. Tom and Kathy Files set up the HCA information table with examples of Heisey glass along with brochures promoting our organization and encouraging membership. (It worked – we signed up 5 new HCA members). Our shining moment was when a man stopped by and told us he had toured most glass museums in the U.S. When asked which one was his favorite, he said Heisey's was the best. We're partial, but comments like that give us fuel to keep it at the top of the list.

Eric Tankesley-Clarke presented a seminar twice for attendees of the Convention. He used an extensive array of Heisey pieces to illustrate the historical timeline of Heisey's production years. Our club gave visible thanks to Eric, Jean, Bucky, and the Files'. Our 15 members that were present, provided a nice boost to their show sales.

We were proud of Glen Gall, who was the repeat winner of first prize for his table display at the June Convention. Four of our members created excellent display tables providing their interpretation of "Gifts of Heisey".

Our 50/50 auction and sale of Jean's jams and jellies helped replenish our treasury. Even though our meeting was a bit abbreviated, Show and Tell items were plentiful: Empress 14" platter with Sportsman etching, Victorian 3 part divided relish, Lodestar Star candle block/Dawn, #363 goblet 8 oz./Sahara, Empress cruet/Sahara with cutting, #1591 Elephant baby cup, #339 Continental table cream and sugar, Puritan ashtray with elaborate cutting, #6092 Cabochon sherbet with Sultana base, #5012 Urn cigarette holder with extensive cutting, to name most.

The refreshments for our meeting were provided by Bob and Bev Heise and Bucky Will. Thank you for the delicious bakery items and beverages. (Leftovers were a hit at Eric's first seminar).

The next meeting was set for September 26th in Omaha, NE at the home of Marcie and Eric Bergquist. More details to follow.

The meeting was adjourned so we could attend Eric's first seminar, that also doubled as our program. So much good information was presented – thank you, Eric, our club is always appreciative and proud of the Heisey knowledge you share.
